A New Blood-Food Called Ferrozone
Sure to Restore you Quickly.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozone.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago," says Mr.
Meehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that I finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Biliousness but has built up my strength to what it was before. I had the Grippe, I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vitality.

It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches, — guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozone—they all feel better; try it yourself—sold

WILL CABINET OR PREMIER BE DOMINANT?

London, Jan. 10.—The new cabinet of Premier Lloyd George was announced tonight. It presents few surprises.

The question the British newspapers are asking is whether Mr. Lloyd George will rule his cabinet, or whether his Conservative advisers will dominate him. The majority of the members of the cabinet in high places are Conservatives notably Andrew Bonar Law, Earl Curzon, Arthur J. Balfour and Viscount Milner. Only four years ago their party regarded Mr. Lloyd George as the Conservatives today regard the Bolshevik.

The premier is pledged by his campaigning speeches to a sweeping programme of liberal reforms, particularly the giving of land and houses to working men and discharged soldiers.
His principal advisers are regarded as representatives of the land owning interests, who, following tradition would place barriers in the way of such reforms.

The ministers without portfolio, Geo. Nicoll Barnes and Sir Eric Geddes have important duties for which there are no cabinet places.
Mr. Barnes will represent Labor at the Paris peace conference while Sir Eric has undertaken the management of demobilization.

One innovation is the selection for the first time of an Indian as a member of the government, Sir S. H. Sinha having the place of under secretary for India. Another is the appointment

INVENTION SAVED BRITISH WARSHIPS

London, Jan. 11.—Mines and mine fields were rendered obsolete by the developments of the "Paravane," the invention of Lieut. Burnlay and consistently urged upon the British Navy by Admiral Sir Hedworth Maux.

This instrument was officially adopted by the navy early in 1916, and was so successful that special factories were built for its construction.

It is now learned that the British Grand Fleet on several occasions pushed into the Bight of Heligoland, and if mines meant anything, it would have been a death trap for ships. German experts never solved the mystery.
From the time of its adoption to the close of the war only two warships were reported to have been sunk by mines.

REPLACING THE HORSE.

Mrs. Overwate had a deadly gleam in her eyes as she entered her butcher's and said in a withering voice:

Mr. Hafbone, how do you account for the fact that there was a piece of rubber tire in the sausage I bought here yesterday?"

"Ah, my dear mada," responded the butcher, rising to the occasion, "that just serves as an illustration of how the motorcar is replacing the horse everywhere nowadays."

EMPEROR FREDERICK HAD NO CONFIDENCE IN WILHELM

In a Letter to Bismarck He Deplored His Son's Habit of Making Snap Judgments, His Exaggeration and Conceit—Wanted His Education Improved and Recommended That He be Assigned to a Civilian Post.

Berlin, Dec. 25.—Less than two years before William II, the former German Emperor, came to the throne of Germany, his father Frederick considered it dangerous to allow him to have any hand in the foreign politics of fact, had an extremely low regard for his son's mental equipment and ability, and it is frankly set forth in a letter written to Bismarck, September 28, 1886, from Porofino, Italy, and which has just been made public.

William's principal defects at that time, as his father saw them, were "his habit of making snap judgments in a manner tending to exaggeration," lack of "actual learning" which was "still full of gaps," and "an inclination to conceit." Here is the text of his letter:
"My son, Prince Wilhelm, has without my previous knowledge expressed the wish to His Majesty (William I; Frederick then was still the crown prince) to become better acquainted with the operations of our ministries during the coming winter, and I learn that it is intended to employ him in the Foreign Office.

"Inasmuch as I have received no official communication to that effect, I am compelled to turn to you in confidence to learn what has really been decided on, and further to declare that despite the fact that I am in favor in principle of introducing my son into questions of the higher administration I am decidedly opposed to having him begin at the Foreign Office. For in view of the importance of the tasks to be entrusted to the prince, I consider it imperative that he shall first of all thoroughly learn the internal conditions of his own land and have the feeling that he understands them thoroughly before he, with his habit of making snap judgments tending to exaggeration, busies himself with politics.

"His actual learning is still full of gaps, and at the same time he lacks the proper foundation, and for this reason it is absolutely necessary that his education be improved and completed. If he could be assigned to the office of a civilian advisory official, and if he could later be connected with or even given a post in one of the administrative ministries, it would serve this purpose, but, in view of the immaturity as well of the inexperience of my eldest son, and also of his inclination to conceit, I am compelled to declare that it is absolutely dangerous to bring him into touch with questions of foreign policy at this time.

And while begging you to consider my communication as strictly confidential, I count on your support in this matter, which causes me grave anxiety."

ANECDOTE OF PRIVATE DANNY IN FRANCE

WITH PRIVATE DANNY m N
(Chicago News)

A little hole in the ground about six feet long and a foot and a half square isn't much to argue about but there are times when a fellow would give a house and lot and a Willie Ford thrown in for a dugout about that size and the funny thing is that all the time he is wishing for it there is nothing in the world that he would like so much as to be far away from there.

A lot of us fellows in old company H were talking over old times on the fighting lines just before we started on our march to occupy some of the Hun land across the Rhine.

When we were in our last big fight we got shelled pretty bad one morning so everybody got busy and dug a little hole just big enough to get below the surface of the ground and not have any part exposed. When a shell hits it explodes out all over the place and all you have to do is to be under the level of the ground and these pieces of steel shoot over you.

Well Sandy Splits and Fat Walters each had a hole but Fat being about the shape of a box car didn't have his quite big enough. Sandy's on the other hand, was big enough for Jess Willard if Jess ever happened to get near enough to the fighting to want one. So Fat suggested they trade holes and it being all O. K. to Sandy between shells they popped up and started to shift.

But just as they was both half way between their holes a shell come sailing along and hit Fat's old dugout square on the nose and blew it all over the lot. Well when these two birds had picked themselves up they both made a dive for the one remaining dugout which had belonged to Sandy. Fat got there first.

"Your hole is over there—we traded," Fat argued.

"You big piece of limberger if it hadn't been for me you'd been killed two minutes ago," Sandy come back at him. "Get out and dig your own hole, you lazy bum."

And with that Sandy just kind of touched him with his bayonet and the next second Fat was tearing up the ground like a dog after a mole.

The bachelors of Montreal are kicking hard against the tax of $10 recently imposed by the city fathers. They declare the tax to be unjust and unconstitutional and they propose to test the matter in the courts. The Bachelors' Defence Committee has been organized to deal with the matter. The opinion of our old friend Commodore Stewart of Chatham in regard to the constitutionality of this tax would no doubt be valuable.

Said Theodore Roosevelt: "The boy can best become a good man by being a good boy—not a goody-goody boy, but just a plain good boy. I do not mean that he must love only the negative virtues; I mean he must love the positive virtues also. Good in the largest sense should include whatever is fine, straightforward, clean, brave and manly."

When thieves fall out, honest men get their dues. It is to be hoped that this will prove true in the case of Le-nine and Trotsky, the Russian Bolshe-vist leaders.

BIG DRIVE BY SALVATION ARMY FOR A MILLION

Army Spent Two Million in War Activities but So Far Has Made No Appeal
for Help.

The Salvation Army is about to launch a campaign to raise one million dollars for war and demobiliza-tion purposes.

The Duke of Devonshire, Governor General of Canada; Sir Robert Borden, Sir William Hearst, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and many other prominent citizens, have endorsed the scheme, and strong committees have been organized for the purpose of boosting the objective.

The money-getting campaign will be from January 19 to 25.

The Salvation Army intends to use the money for three purposes:

1. To establish hostels for returned soldiers who are discharged and in need until they are absorbed into industrial life.

2. To provide emergency receiving and maternity homes for soldiers' wives, widows and dependent children in need.

3. To continue during demobiliza-tion in England and France the equipments and comforts already provided by the Salvation Army for the Canadian soldiers overseas.

The Canadian public is entitled to know what claim the Salvation Army has for monetary assistance.

In the first place, the Army has spent $2,000,000 in war activities.

Here is a summary of some of the operations of the Army directly connected with the war:

Forty rest rooms, equipped with papers, magazines, writing materials, etc., for the use of soldiers.

Forty-five motor ambulances in France, manned by Salvationists.

Ninety-six hotels for use of soldiers and sailors. These are located in France, England and Canada. The Army plans a wide extension of its string of hostels in Canada.

One hundred and ninety-seven huts at soldiers' camps. These are used for religious and social gatherings, and at these huts the fighting men are able to buy what extras they require in the nature of "eats" at the very lowest rates.

Seven hundred and sixty-one Salvation Army officers and members devoted their whole time to work at the front.

Twenty-one hundred war widows in the care of the Army, besides two hundred and ninety-eight war orphans.

One hundred thousand wounded soldiers taken from battlefields in Salvation Army ambulances.

These are but a few of the things that are seen and recorded. There are many other activities which count for the S. A., but which cannot be put down in printed form.

In getting the boys back to civil life the Salvation Army has much to do.
A vast amount of money will be required. One million dollars will not be too much.

ONE WAS ENOUGH.

A history examination in a public school yields this information: "Patrick Henry said, 'I rejoice that I have but one country to live for.'"

GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

BREAKS A BAD COLD IN A JIFFY! TRY IT

You can end gripe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.
It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, sore-ness and stiffness.
Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS GOOD INVESTMENT

Make Saving Easy and Pay the Investor Over 4½ per cent Interest, Compounded
Half-yearly.

The paying of $4 now for a War Savings Stamp and getting $5 for it from the government in January, 1924, is a method of investing that appeals quite strongly to the average person. Nor is this surprising, for the money thus invested yields a little over 4½ per cent., compounded half-yearly. With a War Savings Stamp goes a War Savings Certificate to which the stamps are attached.

Obviously this is an excellent return when the nature of the security is taken into account. There is nothing safer in the world than Canada, and these stamps are backed by all the resources of the Dominion.

A person does not need to have $4 in cash in order to take the first steps towards purchasing a War Savings Stamp. Thrift Stamps, which sell at 25 cents each, have been provided.
When 16 of these have been purchased they may be exchanged for a War Savings Stamp. With the first Thrift Stamp purchased goes a Thrift Card, to which the Stamps should be fixed as soon as received.

After the 16 Thrift Stamps have been exchanged for a War Savings Stamp, the person doing so should start in again to buy Thrift Stamps, and thus begin saving for the second War Savings Stamp.

MUCH WATER IN SUBWAY

New York, Jan. 12.—The Broadway subway of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was flooded today for a distance of a mile and a half, at some places to a depth of four feet, by the breaking of a water main.

VERY PUZZLING.

The old colored man walked into the bank and presented a check to be cashed. This being his first visit he, of course, went to the wrong window.
"Take it to the opposite window," said the clerk, and then went on with his work again.

After careful examination of the check the old man went off.

A few minutes later the clerk was confronted by the same old man with the same check.

"Look here," said the Negro, "you must fix me this bit paper. I been round to all windows and there ain't one marked 'Opposite.'"
