SEEMS EVERYONE IS ANXIOUS TO TRY IT

Recent discovery of ether compound that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

TWAIN'S STORY OF THE SPIDER AND ADVERTISER

(Buffalo News.)

"Once upon a time Mark Twain ran a newspaper down in Tennessee. One day he got a letter from one of his subscribers, a business man in the village. The letter said: 'I have just received my copy of this week's paper, and when I opened it a spider jumped out. Let me know, please, why there was a spider in your paper?'"

"The editor answered: 'The reason why that spider was in the paper was this: He was looking over the advertising columns to see which of the merchants in this town do not advertise and he was planning to give the other spiders their names so that he and they might go to the doors of their stores and spin their webs across them, thereby assuring themselves of places in which they, the spiders, could dwell forevermore in peace and tranquility.'"

Homer J. Buckley, advertising expert from Chicago and an authority on mail advertising told the foregoing story at a meeting of the Greater Buffalo Advertising club at the Lafayette hotel yesterday afternoon to illustrate the truth of the old, but ever new axiom: "It pays to advertise."

Mr. Buckley gave the business men present many suggestions which they could utilize to advantage in their businesses. He advised them to maintain follow-up systems with the view of ascertaining why certain customers had ceased to trade with them. He declared that a good rule for a business house in controversies over claims or adjustments is that—right or wrong—the customer is right. He said that all inquiries received in response to advertising should be replied to courteously and promptly and that if the letter writer had asked specific questions such questions should be answered in the first paragraph of the letter sent in reply. He cited a number of cases that had come to his attention and which illustrated the points he brought out.

THE LAND SETTLEMENT SCHEME FOR SOLDIERS

Provincial Governments Will be Asked to Co-operate With the Soldiers' Settlement Board—Soldiers Who Wish to Go on the Land Will be Given the Necessary Agricultural Training—Will be Guarded Against Fraud.

To many a weary war torn man Eldorado will open up with the presentation of the full details of Canada's new Land Settlement scheme, which has a wide application. British subjects and those of the Allied forces who desire to take up farming are provided for under the same heading as the Canadian born and provision is also made for grants of land, loans, and training for men without previous experience.

Where suitable Crown lands are held by the various provinces these Governments will be asked to co-operate with the soldier Settlement Board, also to assist in acquiring lands at present held uncultivated by private owners, and the soldier will be allowed to purchase all such land at cost price by a cash payment of one-tenth the amount and the balance in equal annual instalments, which may extend over a period of twenty years or longer.

As his farm progresses and new buildings or implements are required a further loan may be granted this soldier settler up to the amount of $1000.00.

Soldiers who have no previous experience of farming and are anxious to go on the land will be given the training necessary to qualify them for all the foregoing privileges. To many this will be the fulfillment of a dream of bygone years.

Equal provisions for assistance, advice and placement of returned soldiers on the land has been made in every province, under the Soldier Settlement Scheme, this has been arranged by means of special courses in agricultural schools and experimental farms and by the co-operation of many of Canada's best farmers in every district.

To guard the returned man against fraud or misrepresentation a staff of land appraisers work under supervisions of the Soldier Settlement Board in every district, who give their opinion as to the value and future of the land. Qualification Committees in each province will report to the Board upon the suitability of each applicant.

So far the sum of over one and a quarter million dollars has already been approved in loans to over one thousand returned soldiers, and since the completion of regulations in July last over eight hundred soldiers have made entries on Dominion Crown Lands under the Soldier Settlement Act.

For the benefit of any who may wish to advise returned men, or returned men themselves who wish to take up farming, the following addresses are given of provincial offices of the Soldier Settlement Board.

INTERNATIONAL REGULATION.

Paris, Feb. 10.—Two important features of the British and American labor programme were accepted today by the commission on International labor legislation and will form a part of the whole project of international regulation of labor which will be submitted to the full peace conference. These are the prohibition of child labor under sixteen years of age, and the uniformity of seamen's wages.

Had Hacking Cough Couldn't Sleep Nights

Hacking coughs are very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated and inflamed condition.

Don't neglect the hacking cough. You can get rid of it with a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the most prompt, pleasant and perfect cough remedy known.

Miss Catherine M. McLean, Craik, Sask., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I couldn't sleep at night. I didn't think I would get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The next day I sent for a bottle and I soon got relief and by the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone, and now I am able to do my work again. I don't think there is anything to equal it."

There are plenty of "pine" preparations on the market trying to live on the reputation of "Dr. Wood's." The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, price 25c. and 50c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

JERSEY COWS HOLD RECORD IN CANADA

Toronto, February, 5—"There is a larger percentage of Jerseys entered in the record of performance than in the case of any other breed. Two Jersey cows stand first and second in amount of butter fat produced over all Canadian breeds and all ages in the record of performance."

This proud boast was made here today by President D. C. Bull, at the annual meeting of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club here.

G. Baldwin, of Coaticook, Quebec, startled the Jersey men by stating that while he as a farmer could not, by reason of the action of the Canada Food Board, ship cream to the United States these American firms are allowed to buy cream on the Canadian side and take it across the border. The result is that he, as a Canadian farmer, is forced to sell his butter fat at the Canadian price of 57½ cents a pound, while the American firm can buy it at this price and then take it across the border where the price is 70 cents.

A petition to the Government, prepared by Mr. Baldwin, asked that farmers be allowed the same privilege of entry with cream to the United States market that is now allowed American dealers. The petition was signed by all present and endorsed by formal resolution.
