RENAISSANCE OF ART EXPECTED AFTER THE UPHEAVAL OF WAR

A Paris Critic Believes the Great Conflict Has Sobered, But Has Not Killed Genius—Life in the Trenches Has Infused New Inspiration and Geniuses of the War are Yet to be Discovered—War Episodes Must be Perpetuated.

New York, Feb. 19.—Although the war has dealt a severe blow to the careers of aspiring young artists of the Paris Latin Quarter, it is believed in French art circles that the years in the trenches have infused new inspiration and that the geniuses of the war are yet to be discovered.

Seymour de Ricci, Paris art critic and journalist, who is in this country with an educational mission sent by the French government, says he wonders that any art has survived through a period when so many other activities non-essential to war were stopped.

"You can't turn artists into sharpshooters, lorrymen, engineers and artillerymen and still expect them to paint," he said. "But the results of war's inspiration will soon appear. The loan and charity posters in France and the recruiting posters in England have been a stimulus to art. The most celebrated one is by Forain, depicting a soldier reading a letter. Lieut. Lieut. Jean Droit also painted the soldier with great accuracy and energy, and there are several splendid posters by Abel Faivre. Each unit has a regimental signboard and all vehicles have distinctive badges. These have called forth some of the finest stencilled human figures ever made, and are carefully preserved in the Paris war museum of the French government.

"The French war banknotes have proved the versatility of the artists. They are designed in many colors and are masterpieces of engraving. Camouflage too has enabled painters to participate in active warfare in a professional capacity. The

INJURED WHILE A PRISONER

A recent letter from Private Walter Burden to his mother Mrs. Weldon Burden stated that he had had a shoulder broken and also one wrist. It is believed that these injuries were received during his captivity in Germany and other countries. The latter states also that he had been compelled to work as a prisoner of war in Warsaw and various towns and cities in Turkey. He states his intention of returning to Belgium and France after recovering in England from his injuries. He was a member of the 12th Battalion and served in France with the 13th Battalion, Montreal Highlanders.

leading French portrait painter, Guirand de Scevola, was virtually head of a large and successful school of camouflage painters.

"The French artists see the need of perpetuating episodes of modern warfare. Francois Flemeng and the able illustrator, George Scott, have produced real works of art equal to the work of the English military artists, William Orpen and Muirhead Bone.

"The ideals of the present school of young French artists are simple. They have lost five years, and they want to get back to work with doubled energy. The war may have sobered their audacity, but let us hope it has not dried up the freshness of their inspiration."

Price of W-S.S. in February $4.01
in March $4.02

W-S.S. are sold wherever you see this sign.

Thrift Stamps are sold at above places, and by patriotic storekeepers.

What is $4.00 today? It is a question of purchasing power. What will $4.00 buy at present prices? Just over one third of a barrel of flour. Before the war flour was selling at $5.00 a barrel.

No one can say just how much more the purchasing power of the dollar will be in 1924, but you can see that the four dollars you put into War-Savings Stamps now, will grow, not only in number, but in value.

Your investment in War-Savings Stamps is like the snowball rolling down a slope. You give it a start and it grows by itself!

Your four dollars becomes five, and every dollar will be worth more.

Whether you buy one W-S.S. each day, or each week, or each month, or only two or three in a year, your money is growing, growing, GROWING all the time.

Those who cannot invest $4.00 at a time, can buy Thrift Stamps at 25 cents each. Sixteen of these on a Thrift Card will be accepted as $4.00 in exchange for a W-S.S.

INCORPORATION OF VILLAGE OF STANLEY URGED

(Continued from page three.) Board support the postmaster in his endeavor to procure post office boxes.

A committee was appointed to procure suitable letter heads for the Board.

A communication was received from R. Z. Walker, supt. of C. N. R., re earlier delivery of mails and loss of time by taking water on mail trips, in which he stated the matter would receive his consideration.

Delegates were appointed to meet with the Fredericton Board of Trade, as follows: J. G. Douglass, Joseph Thorburn and Stanley Douglass.

Railway Extension.

Mr. Loughlan presented the case of a petition re the extension of Y. and C. Railway to Napudogan. He said such has been circulated and largely signed, which was very gratifying to the residents of Stanley, as such an extension would be of great benefit to this section as well as the entire system of the C. N. R., shortening the route and opening an extensive hardwood region, and also dispensing with a number of serious grades on the McGivney Junction route.

The question of utilizing the best water privilege on the Nashwaak river for electric development was reported on by Mr. S. Douglass, who read a number of letters on the same.

Subject of Incorporation.

On motion it was resolved to investigate the possibility of incorporation of the village and gather all information possible on the same, to be placed before a public meeting of ratepayers at an early date.

A committee composed of Jas. G. Douglass, F. Brown, Rev. Mr. Robinson, Stanley Douglass and H. T. Douglass was appointed for this purpose, with power to add to its number.

The meeting was considered by all a great success, each member being willing to assist and co-operate in every way possible, realizing that whatever is for the best interests of the village as a whole should be the desire of each resident within it.
