ONTARIO LIBERAL LEADER REPLIES TO HON. MR. ROWELL

Mr. H. H. Dewart, K. C., the Principal Speaker at a Political Gathering at Walkerton—Declares That Mr. Rowell is a Newspaper-Made Politician—Says Ontario Does Not Enjoy Responsible Government at the Present Time.

Walkerton, Ont., July 16—The South Bruce Liberal convention at Formosa yesterday to place a candidate in the field for the coming provincial elections resulted in Frank Rennie, a retired farmer, residing in Walkerton, being chosen Liberal standardbearer in a big field of nominees. Mr. Rennie has had some municipal experience and is well acquainted throughout the riding. As the U. F. O. are putting a farmer candidate in the field and as the Conservatives will have a candidate there promises to be a warm three cornered contest.

Hartley Dewart, Liberal provincial leader was the principal speaker in an address occupying about one hour and a half Mr. Dewart said in part: "I notice that some helpful observations have been handed out to the press by Mr. Rowell, M. P., master of publicity, a publicity which he has sedulously used for the advancement of every device of the Unionist Government, that temporary expedient which now desires to make permanent, because upon its continuance, his own political life depends. He learned the value of publicity when he cultivated it as the chief force to aid his own personal advancement and ambition. For if no other public man in Canada who has achieved political eminence, can it so fully and truly be said, as of Mr. Rowell, that he is a newspaper made politician."

"More recently he has had the advantage of a portfolio as a member of the Government in which he created the bureau of public information and issued the official weekly record, which has disseminated much useful and valuable information, and, incidentally, at the public expense, sounded the praises of the Minister who had created it."

"Apparently he realizes that he cannot, in the coming provincial campaign reach the public ear through his personal governmental organ, so he has fallen back upon the newspaper press to add his unconscious tribute to my selection as leader of the party which he once led."

"It is the first public inkling of any degree of interest in the party of which he was done my loyally supported leader in Ontario."

Why Proudfoot Beaten.

"I always welcome criticism from a loyal friend or a fair opponent. Is Mr. Rowell entitled to be considered either one or the other by the Liberals of Ontario? I think not. In January, 1918, I was foolish enough to believe in and accept the assurance of Mr. Rowell's support of the provincial Liberal party which were brought to us. Mr. Proudfoot was chosen leader. We can now understand how he (perhaps unconsciously) played Mr. Rowell's game, which was to make the Liberal party in Ontario a pawn on the Unionist political chess board, by a foolish and, as I contend, unconstitutional agreement. The result of Mr. Proudfoot's own suggestion was that the Liberal party in the Ontario House was tied hand and foot."

"Despite Mr. Proudfoot's claim of implied authority to make this agreement, the fact remains that he did not consult a single member of the House. We were surprised and astonished. It is easy, in the light of subsequent events, to trace the fine Italian hand of Mr. Rowell, the president of the council. You all know the result that has followed. For the past year we have had responsible government in Ontario. Mr. Hearst has hung on without any mandate from the people. A small coterie of over-holding political tenants continues to rule the province from the Queen's Park. We are back to the old days of the executive council. Our great resources are not conserved. Patronage, favoritism and neglect of the public interests prevail but the splendid convention at Toronto has shown that we have preserved the saving remnant of democratic liberalism."

Rule or Ruin

"Why is there now the injection of the Unionist idea into our provincial affairs when the time for the activity and usefulness of such a Government here is past? The idea is absurd. I am afraid that with my friend Mr. Rowell it is a case of 'rule' or 'ruin'."

"Then he cannot control the party in the Legislature which he deserted he is joining hands with Premier Hearst to compass its defeat. Liberal and democratic principles have already suffered too much at Mr. Rowell's hands at Ottawa. The Liberals of Ontario will not allow division and strife at any man's dictation but will be supported by thousands of Conservatives at the polls, who desire to protest against the resign of the autocrat and who stand for the right of the people to govern."

"The suggestion of divisional and of an illiberal and intolerant attitude of the section of the party at the convention is unfair and untrue. There was no hostility to honest Liberal-Unionists in the convention, we worked in harmony. There was a protest against the forces that would stifle Liberalism. It was not the result of an illiberal and intolerant attitude toward Mr. Proudfoot that he was not chosen as leader, it was not because he was a Unionist, but there was an unmistakable declaration for more virility in the Liberal councils."

Denies Liquor Affiliation

"This Unionist cry will deceive no one, it is the old story of the shrine makers of Ephesus, and a repetition of the old cry, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians,' and for the same reason their craft is in danger. The policies of Liberalism have been formulated and supported by a reunited Liberal party. The Globe has demonstrated the true feeling of those who have, during the war period supported the Union Government. With renewed vigor and determination we will set ourselves to the great task of reconstruction and provincial development and the reestablishment of democratic and popular Government."

"I have never had, nor have I now, any understanding, expressed or implied, of any nature or kind, with any interest or individual in any way connected with the liquor traffic. I have no hampering ties or obligations to any co-operate or other interest that will prevent me from doing my full and plain duty in giving effect to the will of the people."

ENTERTAINMENT ON SATURDAY WAS VARIED

Ball Games and Horse Racing in Afternoon—Water Sports and Fireworks in the Evening.

The afternoon and evening sections of the Peace Day celebration proceeded according to program. After the Children's Procession baseball and matinee horse racing took the public attention at the trotting park. Early in the evening there were water sports in the river at the A. & B. Clubhouse. Fireworks and a band concert at Parliament Square concluded the day's entertainment.

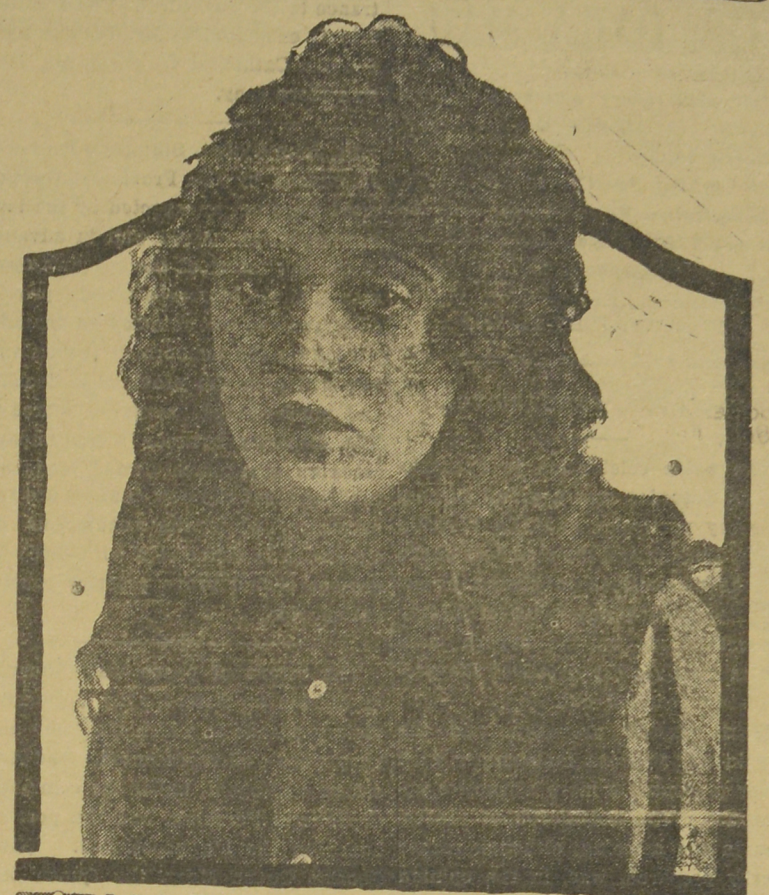

School Children's Parade

At 1:45 o'clock the school children assembled with flags at Parliament Square where a short address was delivered by Maj. (Rev.) E. B. Hooper. Major Hooper referred to the day as one of merriment peace and rejoicing. The children present he stated were too young to understand the full significance of war but they felt proud to have relatives, fathers or brothers in the great struggle. He stated that while watching the Grand Parade he had his sympathies aroused by the sight of the lads in khaki. At the close of his address the Lord's Prayer was repeated by all which was followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Fredericton Brass Band then led the procession of children up King street to Regent and out Regent street and up Queen Street to the Gaiety Theatre where they attended the picture show and were afterwards served with ice-cream by the St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

Baseball Games

The Beavers of St. John defeated the N. B. Military Hospital by a score of 6 to 1 in a loosely played nine-inning game. Both teams showed up well in the first few innings of play both in fielding and at the bat. In the first inning of play the Beavers performed a startling triple-play which brought forth applause. Bolster for the local team pitched a good heady game but received no support in the

Water Sports
At 7:15 the water sports took place under the management of J. Bacon Dickson. Included among the sports were diving, tilting, swimming races and canoe races. The majority of entries were made by young boys. The judges were W. S. Thomas, Temple Sutherland and Douglas McElveny.

The winners were: Diving for form, William Irvine; Diving and swimming for distance under water, Percy Lyons; Swimming race (100 to 150 yards), Stewart Cooper; Tilting contest, Lionel Hawkins and Frank Osborne; Canoe race (200 yards) R. Gibson and V. Fisher.

Fireworks and Band Concert
Following the water sports the fireworks were set off by the Fire Department to the great enjoyment of the numerous kiddies present. The fire-works made a brilliant display and were well applauded. The Brass Band played an excellent concert between events and a dance was held in the A. & B. Club House free to all who cared to dance. About ten o'clock the effigy of the Kaiser was burned on a float in the river and there was much rejoicing among the youngsters especially, who although, they could not see how the Kaiser had been brought there actually believed it was he in person that was burned.
