

Rev. Mr. Kuhring Preached To U.N.B. Graduating Class

World-wide Task Awaits Those Going Forth from Their Alma Mater—Reconstruction the Great Problem of the Day—Value of Higher Education Generally Recognized—Words of Advice to the Graduates.

A large congregation gathered at Christchurch Cathedral Sunday morning to hear the baccalaureate sermon of the University of New Brunswick preached by Rev. G. A. Kuhring rector of St. John's (Stone) Church, St. John. The members of the faculty, the student body and the class which will be graduated on Thursday next attended the service in academic costume and were seated in the centre of the cathedral.

The sermon of Rev. Mr. Kuhring was forceful and most appropriate to the occasion excellent advice being given those about to go out into the world from Alma Mater. The text and sermon were as follows:

"That I may apprehend that for which I am apprehended of God"—Phil. 3:12.

Since you honored me with the invitation to preach to you on this occasion I have been hoping that I may be enabled to say something which may be a real help to you through life.

It is always a solemn yet glad moment when young men and young women are about to step forward into a new and unknown experience of their life. One life only is ours, with its varied sections, not one of which may be repeated.

I am encouraged by two things; first the sympathy and prayers of the whole congregation are with you and wish you "God-speed"; and secondly He whose "Words are spirit and life," is with us, though unseen and can enable one to speak His message to strengthen and enlarge your life. We wish you "good luck in the Name of the Lord."

I would ask you to value very highly the privilege of a University Course and that carries with it a sense of indebtedness to your "Alma Mater."

Some few years ago there was current a belief that after all, the successful business men were "Self-made men," (men who had never entered a University or College). This was carefully investigated, with the result that it was found that ninety per cent of the men who stood at the head of the large, Financial, Political, Philanthropic, Economic, Industrial and Commercial institutions of the world were graduates of Universities and that the remaining few so felt their limitations that they made provision that their sons should not inherit their handicap.

At a gathering of young men in the City of Montreal some years ago, a General Manager of a leading bank said: "I would give $10,000 for an adequate knowledge of Mathematics required in my work."

Your University experience is a great asset, gift and endowment, and in the days to come, when you take your place as leaders of men and women, resist ingratitude, remember your Alma Mater, and the professors who inspired you and gave you to the full of their knowledge and experience.

Many new illustrious graduates of your university in past years have felt their responsibility to use their gifts and talents and have honored their Alma Mater.

The graduates of today (1919) face a harder task. In the past, certain applications of principles were accepted and men knew what to do and were respected if they kept the beaten track. Today this is changed. There is no beaten track. Paths must be planned and constructed. The principles remain the same, because God is truth and truth is of God; the applications of these principles change because of the human element.

The whole world nationally and individually is in a state of "flux"; ready to be poured into such moulds as we supply. Everywhere unrest, upheaval. Things are being shaken. This is what makes it more difficult; but it is a glorious opportunity to the man or woman of courage.

Things, conditions will soon harden again but meantime, to you is given the high honor of helping to mould and fashion the present world, that it may be a better place for generations yet unborn. For you there is the possibility of being numbered amongst those great hero pioneers who hewed out paths in the desolate and solitary places. Things are not what they were. The present conditions are best expressed in the words of Hebrews 12:27—"God, whose voice once shook the earth; now He hath promised saying, 'yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven; this signifies the removing of things that are shaken that these things which cannot be shaken may remain.'"

In the Great War through which we have passed, both the spiritual and physical realms have been shaken, that we may build anew. You are privileged to come upon the scene, to be entrusted with the reconstruction of the things that remain. All little selfish ideals have been shaken and only great visions and tasks remain. God calls you to come and help Him to reconstruct the world for man—a big thing.

Only a few years ago, if a man saw his duty to his Dominion he was reckoned a great patriot. Later, the standard of greatness became higher and demanded an interest and action as wide as Empire ere he could be counted a statesman. Today, if a man would really be great he must see a close brotherhood, in Church and State, of all those who are allied in the war of Righteousness against evil—Tomorrow (i. e. in your generation) he only will be great who goes further and extends his horizon to take in the whole human race and his heart must enlarge to live for the erring, stumbling nations and peoples and win them to righteousness.

The true man must be no mere "provincial" but a man of the "race" one whose political, economic and religious creed will be to serve the world, his is to be a world movement.

May I add that all this advance is but a preparation for man being used in the next life in movements wide as the universe—because in the image of God created He man and in Christ Jesus He has become partaker of the Divine Nature.

Then men who have died for us, over whose resting places there is written "They shall see His face", have set us a high standard—I should rather have said "they have drawn attention to the standard set by the Son of Man."

You are called to a world-wide task are you big enough to accept it even though it be the Cross?

The work for you too, is greater than past graduates have been called upon to do from another aspect, viz, lessened available numbers. What a price has been paid, and yet what glory has come to this University through the graduates and undergraduates who have laid down their all, counting not those lives dear unto themselves."

Some of you have come back to answer the "Roll-call" of graduates here today, others answer it above in the higher University of Eternity. "Not spilt like water on the ground, Not wrapped in dreamless sleep profound,

Not wandering in unknown despair, Beyond Thy voice, Thine arm, Thy care, Not left to lie like fallen tree: Not dead but living unto Thee."

They serve the King of whom John has written "And He had on His Vesture, and on His thigh, A Name written King of Kings and Lord of Lords, And the Armies in Heaven followed Him, upon white horses, clothed in fine linen white and clean."

The flower of our trained manhood has almost all been swept away and only a few are ready to replace them. The Call was never so clear and insistent, "Son, Daughter, go work, today in My Vineyard; to apprehend that for which you are apprehended of God."

In older days, he alone who entered the ministry of the Church was accounted as a Minister. Truly if God calls them and they refuse they cannot be used elsewhere.

God however required men and women to manifest Him in many ways and along diverse paths.

Is your training an Arts Course? The world needs men and women with pure minds to discern truth; to write clean, healthy books and articles in magazines; to enunciate principles; to set forth the beautiful and lovely; in prose and poetry or by speech to sway the multitudes; to instruct the young and inspire souls; to plead for justice and mercy—to reveal God.

What a field for Arts students!

Is it Forestry? To co-operate with God, to know with Him the mysteries of nature, to live at times in the stillness of the Forests and in its deep silence to hear God speak, "as a man speaketh face to face with his friend." Away from the rushing noisy life of the city, to help nature to obey those laws by which she shall multiply and increase; to so conserve her bounty that we today may have our great and varied wants supplied and generations yet unborn "rise up and call you blessed." This is your calling. Sometimes to return to the busy haunts of men (where we are so apt to forget God) and to bring to us the freshness of a Soul that has undistracted in the quiet solitude drunk in something of the awe, majesty and beneficence of God, while resting on mother earth and canopied by the stars of heaven.

Is your lot Engineering? To be faced again and again with seeming impossibilities, creating highways, making rough places smooth, crooked places straight, and in a matchless courage ever seeking greater tasks to be accomplished. Laying whole continents under obligation to you; uniting scattered provinces; making provision whereby the surplus of one part may be sent to relieve the lack of another; finding in nature the secrets which God, the Great Architect and Engineer of this terrestrial sphere, long ago had known and applied of forms and measurements and weights when He weighed the dust of the hills in a balance and has left us in a book for you its record—And as you behold in amazement His wisdom, Love and Power, finding in Him the One Leader worthy of full service and submission.

Whatever course you pursue let it be "that in Him you live and move and have your being."

We expect great things from you, whatever path be yours; We in this House of God today bid you God-Speed.

May the Vision never fade, may the Voice calling you to do and to dare never be disobeyed; and may strength be given you to go on to the end of life serving not self but God, thus making many rich and at last when you stand "face to face" with Him who is the Subject and Ideal of all the Arts

Backsliding is one thing that doesn't call for energy.

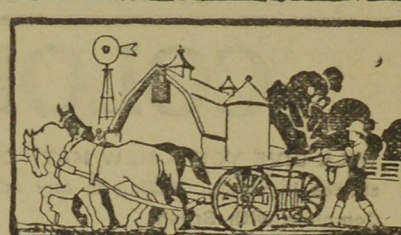

Heather conditions have been such that a watchful waiting policy has had to be adopted for little reconstruction gardens.

—with Him who planted and sustained the Forests, and with Him who weighs the hills as in a balance, may it be that each one shall hear for himself or herself the gracious welcome.

"Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

FARM LOANS for SOLDIERS

How Returned Men Can Become Farmers

EVERY returned man who wants to become a farmer and is qualified for that vocation can get real, practical help through the Soldier Settlement Board.

The Government's programme includes:—

- (1) The securing of land.
- (2) The loaning of capital needed to purchase equipment and live stock, and erect buildings.
- (3) Agricultural training and farm supervision.

The Loans Granted

Loans may be approved by the Loan Advisory Committee, according to the needs of the settler, on the following basis:—

- (1) Up to $4,500 on the purchase of land.
- (2) Up to $2,000 on the purchase of live stock, implements and other equipment.
- (3) Up to $1,000 on the erection of buildings and other permanent improvements.

The first and third are repayable in twenty-five equal annual instalments; the second in four equal annual instalments beginning the third year, no interest being charged for the first two years.

On all these loans the low interest rate of five per cent. will be charged. A cash payment of ten per cent. of the purchase price will be required on the land—but this may be waived by the Board in special cases.

Qualified settlers on Dominion lands may secure loans up to a maximum of $3,000 on a plan similar to the above for farm equipment, live stock, and erection of buildings, provided security offered justifies the loan.

To Whom Granted

To be entitled to these privileges a man must have served with an honourable record in the Canadian, Imperial, or British Colonial forces in an actual theatre of war or outside of the country in which he enlisted (service in U.S. or Bermuda not included). Others eligible are:

A British subject who lived in Canada before the War and who was on active service with the Allied Forces in an actual theatre of war.

A member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who served in Canada only, but is in receipt of a pension for disability occasioned by such service.

These benefits are also granted to widows of such men.

A Broad Policy

All soldiers whose best interests will be served by taking up farms will be assisted. Only suitable land will be approved. That is (a) land that is near to existing railways or organized communities; (b) land that will make money for the soldier; (c) land that will provide a first-class home.

In addition to these advantages the Board has planned a system of collective purchase, so that it can guarantee settlers the best value obtainable anywhere in live stock, implements, lumber, and other needs. It will also assist soldier settlers with advice and supervision, if necessary, in the management of their activities, so that the best results will be obtained.
