BANANAS AGAIN.

Useful Fruit from Which Many Summer Desserts Can be Made.

Bananas are as useful a fruit as man is blessed with. They are ever ripe and ever cheap. They vary little in flavor and texture, for they are always good. They can be prepared in rich and highly seasoned dishes that satisfy the appetite on a crisp day of winter, or they can be made into light and appetizing dishes that suit the taste of summer.

Banana blanc mange is a good summer day dessert that is easy to make. To prepare it, heat a quart of milk in a double boiler with a quarter of a cupful of sugar. Add four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch rubbed smooth in a little milk. Remove from the fire when it is thick and when it is partly cool add two sliced bananas and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Mold and chill and serve with cream or boiled custard.

Banana custard is made in this way: Beat three eggs with half a cupful of sugar and add two cups of milk, the grated rind of a lemon and enough banana pulp mashed to make a thin batter. Bake until it is set in a moderate oven, then cover with a meringue. Brown the meringue and cool the custard.

Banana ice cream is made in this way: Make a syrup by boiling three cupfuls of granulated sugar and two cups of wine or water for five minutes. Take from the fire and add the well beaten yolks of four eggs. Cool the mixture and then add the pulp of half a dozen ripe bananas, carefully mashed, and four cupfuls of cream. Then freeze.

Frozen bananas are made in this way: Peel a dozen bananas and press them through a wire strainer. Boil two cupfuls of water and a cupful of sugar for five minutes and when this syrup is cool, add the juice of two oranges and the banana pulp. Pack the mixture in a freezer and stir the dasher slowly until the mixture is frozen. Remove the dasher and add two cupfuls of cream beaten stiff.

SPORT FOOTWEAR.

Sport Footwear These Days is an Important Matter.

Sport shoes and sport boots for every sort of outdoor occupation are obtainable, and it is almost as fatal to make a mistake in sport footwear as it is to wear the wrong sort of boots on more formal occasions. Heelless shoes are not correct for a golf course yet heels must not on any account be worn on the tennis court, or on the deck of a yacht or motor cruiser.

There are white sport oxfords and white sport boots, and the oxfords are much more informal in suggestion than boots. Added to the list of sport footwear should be the new low-heeled pump of tan leather, which can be worn either with silk stockings or ribbed wool hose.

These pumps are for running about summer mornings. They look well with sport costumes and are most comfortable and convenient to wear. They are not correct for golf; rather heavy-soled calf boots or oxfords should be worn on the links, though in midsummer, when the turf is quite dry, white buckskin shoes and oxfords appear on the golf course with white costumes.

Buttoned shoes are coming back in fashion again, but they must not be worn with sport clothes any more than party slippers would be. The buttoned boot, especially when it has a high heel, represents the standard of correctness for formal and semi-formal wear, and it somehow does give a smart frock and hat that completeness of style no laced shoe ever seems able to effect, however smartly it is made.

DEATH OF A PHYSICIAN

(Ottawa Journal)

Dr. N. DesRosiers, prominent surgeon and druggist, of Rockland, who died today at his residence in Rockland, following an illness of six months, is the father of Mayor A. DesRosiers, M.D. of Eastview. Dr. DesRosiers had been practicing medicine for the past 44 years and was a graduate of Toronto University. For the past 17 years he had conducted a very large practise at Rockland and previous to that he had practised his profession at Clarence Creek, Ont. He was in his 69th year. He had also established the drug store in Rockland. He is survived by his son, Mayor DesRosiers, of Eastview, and three other sons, Ernest, of Sudbury; Donald of the Civil Service, and Raoul, who is studying medicine at Toronto University; also five daughters, Milhelmine, Elmina, Laonie, and Juliet, at home, and Mrs. Arthur James of Ottawa.

TRAVELLED 74
MILES AN HOUR

Trepassey Bay, Nfld., May 10.—The N C-1 first of the naval hydro-aeroplanes to leave Halifax on the way to the transatlantic flight-base here, alighted in the harbor this afternoon. A thirty mile northwest wind aided the N C-1 as she sped along to the end of her day's journey. She was escorted into Trepassey Bay by a naval scout plane from the Newfoundland base here. The N C-1's actual flying time was announced as six hours and fifty-four minutes, making her average speed over the 460 mile course approximately sixty-five nautical or 74 land miles an hour.

Seventy Miles Per Hour

Washington, May 10.—An official report to the navy department, late today from Trepassey Bay, Newfoundland, said the N C-1 arrived there at 2.41 p. m. (Washington time), having covered the distance of 460 miles from Halifax, in six hours and fifty-six minutes. The average speed of the plane was nearly seventy miles an hour.

Many a blunt man has a sharp wife.

It isn't the big vocabulary that makes the brilliant writing. It is the unexpected word in the right place.

They are "the good old days" because we lived through them. The little joys and the little sorrows, now sanctified by time, were mixed into affairs then, same as now.

Thought It Was a Boil
Doctor Said Abscess

Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscroft N.B., under date of February 9th, 1918 writes us as follows: "About five months ago, a lump came on my jaw-bone. I thought it was a boil, and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger. I went to a doctor and he said it was an abscess, and lanced it. He gave me a wash for it, so I went by his directions until it healed up, but it commenced coming again, and in about three weeks it broke itself. I thought it would get better, but it didn't. A neighbor advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I sent and got a bottle, and by the time it was all gone, the abscess had disappeared, and now it is all better."

Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers, and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have never applied it to a cut, wound, sore or ulcer, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses. It takes out itching stinging and burning, and promotes the growth of healthy flesh. So, too, when taken internally, by its power of eliminating all impurities from the blood and making that vital fluid rich, red and pure, it cuts off the origin and source of the foul matter that goes to make boils, pimples, sores, ulcers, abscesses and the like, and at the same time the purified and enriched blood creates healthy tissue where there was formerly, perhaps a sore full of pus.

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MAX HARDEN'S VIEWS ON THE PEACE TREATY

Berlin, May 10.—Maximilian Harden, editor of the Berlin Die Zukunft, writing on the peace treaty, says:

"The peace conditions are not harder than I expected. They were unpleasant to the greater part of the people, but could one really have expected them otherwise?"

"The Germans have not given very convincing mental guarantees during the six months since the revolution that they have changed their system. On the contrary, the present government and the press have used the same methods of incitement, the same tricks of bluff, as under the old rule of the petty nobility."

"The government proclamations and speeches are only bad copies of the Kaiser's time. The whole press re-echoed in protests and has started a campaign of incitement against the Allies, couched in violent language. It is agitating for refusal to sign the treaty, and to what use? All know that the Allies, by keeping up the blockade and occupying the coal districts can force Germany to sign whatever they want."

"The Allies have been threatened that Germany would join the Bolsheviks; but that would be suicidal. The only way to rescue the country is by openness and honesty. The revolution has been a great disappointment."

"Germany should have sent men who would have laid their cards on the table and got the Allies to understand that some of the conditions were unacceptable. If Germany showed its goodwill to do what is in its power to comply with the Allies' request, the Allies would see that conditions were changed in favor of Germany, because they know there must be a Germany and that it is impossible to destroy the German people."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Cupid has nothing to do with matrimonial advertisements. Love can't be purchased at a rummage sale.

German envoys reached Versailles with their Adam's apples as hard, inflexible and difficult to swallow as Ben Davies.

Speaking of fashions, do the ladies have to have their hobble skirts pressed to take out that bag at the knees?

Bad weather hasn't affected the morale of the little backyard radishes. Theirs not to reason why, but to do or die.

Flying circuses will never displace the old fashioned three ringed kind. It is impossible to collect an admission fee to flying circuses.

People always laugh at the fool things you try to do until they discover you are making money out of them.

Some of these days when we have forgotten all about these aviators who are going to fly across the Atlantic they will make a flying start.

Man alive, who has to scrape and scheme to make both ends meet, never has any time to entertain any lazy doubts as to the meaning of life.

Dr. Frank Crane says it takes no brains to laugh. But even the well-balanced doctor would doubtless concede that it takes brains to know when to laugh.

NOT A SECRET, EITHER.

A little boy asked: "Father, what does a man who is not married call himself?"

"A bachelor," my son," replied the father.

"And what does a man who is married call himself?"

"I wouldn't like to tell you, my son."
