TO KILL A MINISTER.

Newell Carroll Maynard, in "The Congregationalist," gives six ways of killing a minister. They are as follows:

1. Tell others that you don't like him, but never tell him why. If you told him why you don't like him; he might show you where you were mistaken; then you would need to apologize to him for talking behind his back.

2. Criticize his sermons. Say he's too old-fashioned in his theology, or he's too liberal; his sermons are too long; he is too closely confined to his notes; he's tiresome, stupid and monotonous. Never tell him his sermon helped you; that might make him puffed up.

3. Complain because he doesn't call as often as you think he ought to. Forget that he has several hundred other people to call upon, that he must prepare two sermons each week, must marry the living and bury the dead, and be all things to all men on all occasions that he may win some.

4. Criticize his family, especially his wife. Say, "She takes up too much of his time; she tries to run the church, she is not in sympathy with his work, she has too many hats, or dresses too well, or not well enough."

5. Go to some other church because you don't like your own minister, and because the other minister is more sensational, more dramatic, more educated, more orthodox, more heterodox, more social and more anything else that suits your fancy.

6. Always look for your minister's weakest points; never look for his strongest qualities. To look for his strongest qualities might mean to be convinced that with all his failings he has consecrated himself to the high calling of God for your salvation; that he has sacrificed a larger income for a living wage, and that he has cast in his life with the people of God, to the end that men may come to a saving knowledge of the truth.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

During his recent visit to Woodstock Hon. T. A. Crerar told of the method used in raising campaign funds in Assiniboia, when each of the delegates brought a contribution to the fund of a dollar for each elector. The net sum realized, he said, was more than sufficient for the needs of the campaign. Should the U. F. O. introduce this method in New Brunswick they will certainly deserve the thanks of all believers in political purity. They will also deserve and will no doubt receive the thanks of the various candidates. Under the present method the campaign managers meet a few days before polling and apportion the campaign fund (if they have one) to the various polls, urban and rural. A call is sent to the members of the "committee" who gather from far and near and get back home in time to get on the job on election day. Under the new system the various polls will be expected to finance themselves and the "committeemen" instead of journeying to the city in quest of the sinews of war, may be called upon to turn over a portion of the fund collected in their district to a central organization, plan work out in practice in the various constituencies of New Brunswick, the expense of running elections will

"ROSY-FIT"

If Bilious, get your Pep and Color back
with "Cascarets"

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin, and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels, which cause the stomach to become filled with undigested food which causes and ferments, forming acids, gases, and poisons. Cascarets tonight will give your bilious liver and constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and have you feeling clear, bright and as fit as a fiddle by morning. Cascarets never sicken or inconvenience you like nasty Calomel, Salts, Oil, or gripping Pills. They work while you sleep.

LET "DANDERINE"
SAVE YOUR HAIR

Get Rid of Every Bit of That
Ugly Dandruff and Stop Falling Hair.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After several applications all dandruff usually goes and hair stops falling out. Every hair in your head soon shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.

be greatly reduced; it will be easier to get suitable men to offer as candidates and the professional political henchman will find his occupation gone

The terrible storm predicted for this week, so far has not materialized, but an intense cold wave set in last night and will likely continue for several days. This cold wave struck the western provinces over a week ago and has been gradually working its way eastwards. The fellow who predicted the big storm made about as bad a guess as did the famous E. Stone Wiggins some years ago.

Although Canada has prohibition in eight of the nine provinces, the brewing industry continues to flourish. The directors of the National Breweries, Limited, at a meeting recently, were able to declare a dividend of ten per cent in place of the six per cent which has hitherto prevailed. It is said that the ten per cent, will represent only a small proportion of the actual earnings of the company.

Halifax Chronicle: The present Parliament may last another session, but it will only do so by reason of the fact that the parliamentary representatives of the old-line Grit and Tory parties will be loath to court personal defeat at the polls, and will postpone an appeal to the country in the hope that a "more convenient season" will arrive. What the immediate outcome will be is difficult to foretell.

The public schools of the city closed today for the Christmas vacation. The term has been a most successful one with no interruptions by illness as was the case last year, and good progress has been made. The school board and energetic staff of teachers, as well as the pupils, are to be congratulated on the results achieved.

Six more days to do your Christmas shopping.

In his address, Brother Mills referred to the early organization and growth of the C. O. F. He touched upon the work of Court 778 stating that twenty-two of its members had volunteered for service in the Great War and four of these had paid the supreme sacrifice. Twelve new members he stated were added to the Court this year and members who had not been in the Court for seven or eight years were present at the evening's entertainment.

H. T. Brewer referred to the splendid work done by the C. O. F. while its members were overseas giving illustrations to drive home that fact.

Twenty-six Below Zero.
The mercury took a tumble last night which sent it to the lowest point of the season. The meteorological observatory at the University of New Brunswick recorded a minimum of 26 degrees below the cipher. In lower parts of the city a temperature slightly lower was recorded. From rural districts temperature as low as 32 degrees below is reported.
