ANOTHER UNIONIST CAUCUS
TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Sir Robert Borden is Now on the Road to Recovery and Expects to be Able to Attend—Is Pledged to the Union Idea—Hon.

A. K. MacLean May Leave the Cabinet After the Present

Session of the House is Over.

Ottawa, Sept. 25—Sir Robert Borden is making good headway in recovering his health and it is expected that he will have recovered sufficiently from his rheumatic trouble to attend next Tuesday the caucus summoned specially to deal with the Unionist party and to determine the future attitude of ministerial supporters.

Unless his view has been recently reversed Sir Robert Borden stands for a continuance of the Union principle. The war conditions which brought about the fusion no longer apply, but advocates of the Union think it possible to evolve some policy and plan which will perpetuate the existence of the party in time of peace. The tariff they say, is the principal obstacle the eastern Conservative wing holding out strong for protection as evolved in the National policy, and the western Unionists while not extreme or radical, favoring at least a lowering of the tariff.

In the budget speech, Sir Thomas White forecast a committee to investigate the tariff and it was supposed to start operations this fall as a precedent to whatever changes in fiscal policy are regarded as necessary. Probably some announcement on this point will be made at the caucus.

The attitude of the majority of the Unionist members seems, unquestionably, to favor continuing the Union, as was indicated in an approving resolution at the end of last session. The element of uncertainty arises over the feeling in the country, on the point whether Unionism or a reversion to the old lines is the more favored. This will be a big factor in arriving at a conclusion. Influences are working both ways.

Should the caucus again approve the principle of Unionism the party will carry on. Even if their views prove greatly divided there is little prospect of an election for a year or two, though a decision to hold together only for this Parliament would not promote solidity, and might facilitate disintegration.

The situation arouses an acute interest, intensified by the fact that Sir Robert Borden has not been heard from on the subject this session, and that, consequently, there is some uncertainty as to what he will specifically propose or the broad lines of policy which he may suggest.

If the party is to continue as at present an organization will have to be built up and propaganda carried on.

Ontario Unionists, facing a provincial election on straight party lines would be better satisfied if the question of the Federal party were deferred until a later date, but with by-elections impending some declaration is necessary and some peace platform needs to be built for the Government candidates to secure a proper foothold.

The illness of the premier is very likely to cause him to go away for absolute rest and recuperation, and will probably delay the further process of Cabinet reconstruction.

It is believed that after the session the Hon. A. K. MacLean will leave the Cabinet. The Liberal-Unionists still remaining will be Hon. Mr. Bantyne, who is improving, and has no intention of resigning; Hon. Mr. Rowell, Hon. Mr. Calder, Hon. Mr. Sifton, Hon. Mr. Guthrie and General Mewburn.

A crowning curative triumph in medicine is now given to the world, and all who have been sufferers from stomach ailments, indigestion and headache can be cured by a purely vegetable remedy.

SOME THINGS
WE MUST LEARN

All the people on this continent need to go to school and learn how to eat. This is really more useful to the rank and file than ability to decipher the uniform inscriptions. It also seems as essential in the present fight against the high cost of living as was knowledge of how to handle the rifle and bayonet to the soldier a few months ago. For instance the national food bill amounts to $18,000,000,000 a year because the people do not understand the relative value of foods. Cereals, potatoes, sugar and fruits, for instance, which cost but one-third of the total, furnish nearly two-thirds of the food value of all that is consumed.

In other words, two-thirds of the bill is spent for one-third of what we actually get in food value. Obviously, if, instead of prosecuting the packers and dragging out of cold storage food laid up in time of plenty for use in a season of scarcity, we learned to market and eat according to the value of the food (measured by calories instead of dollars), we could reduce food costs one-third and rout the common enemy—high cost of living.

SHE withstood everything in the field and above all was, and still is, the last and only car to survive until the cessation of hostilities"—Extract from letter received by Ford Motor Company from a British Soldier, in Africa.

Over shell-torn roads, through water soaked fields, second only to the tanks in its power to climb debris and crater holes, the Ford car made a world famous record in the fighting area of the great war. In France - 700 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Italy - 850 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Egypt - 996 cars out of 1,000 were Fords
In Mesopotamia 999 cars out of 1,000 were Fords

The Ford power plant that established this world-wide record in every theatre of the war remains the same. It will be in the Ford you buy.
