MARSHAL FOCH GIVES OUT IMPORTANT INTERVIEW

Declares the River Rhine Must be the Barrier Between Germany and France—Allies Got All They Asked for from Germany Without Continuing the Fighting—Pays Well Deserved Tribute to the Gallant American Soldiers.

Treves, Wednesday, Jan. 15—It is the conviction of Marshal Foch that the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He expressed this clearly today, when he received American newspaper correspondents. The Marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice. Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome and said that peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany was now beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a comparatively short time was quite possible. It was now the duty of the Allies to prevent further aggressions.

The armistice was not concluded too soon, the Marshal said, and the Allies got all they asked for from Germany without continuing the fighting. The Allies were prepared for another offensive stroke which would have forced the Germans to give up. This was to have been made in Lorraine on November 14 by six American and twenty French divisions.

Tribute to Americans

"This is for me a happy opportunity Marshal Foch began, "to tell you all the good things I think of the American army and of the part it played on our side. Your soldiers were superb. They came to us young, enthusiastic and carried forward by a vigorous idealism, and they marched to battle with admirable gallantry.

The youth of the United States brought a renewal of the hope that hastened victory. Not only was this moral fact of the highest importance but you also brought enormous material aid, and the wealth which you placed at our disposal contributed to the final success. Nobody among us will ever forget what America did.

"And you know what happened on the field of battle since the month of July; first on the Marne, then in the region of Verdun. General Pershing wished as far as possible to have his army concentrated in an American sector. The Argonne and the heights of the Meuse were a sector hard to tackle. There were considerable obstacles.

"All right," I said to him, your men have the devil's own punch. They will get away with all that. Go to it."

"And finally everything went well, everything went so well that here we are on the Rhine."

Marshal Foch was asked by the correspondent: "But was not the armistice concluded too soon?"

"It was not possible to do otherwise answered the marshal, "because the Germans gave up everything that we asked for at once. They satisfied all our conditions. It was difficult to ask more.

Would Have Meant Lives

"Doubtless any general would have preferred to have continued the struggle and to have battle, when the battle which offered itself was so promising but a father of a family could not help but think of the blood that would be shed. A victory, however easy, costs the lives of men. We held victory in our grasp without further sacrifice.

"The German high command was not ignorant of the fact that it faced a colossal disaster. When it surrendered, everything was prepared for an offensive in which it would infallibly have succumbed. On the fourteenth we were to attack in Lorraine with twenty French divisions and six American divisions. This attack would have been supported by other movements in Flanders and in the centre.

"The Germans were lost. They capitulated. There is the whole story. "And now we must make a peace which will correspond with the magnitude of our victory. We must have a peace as absolute as was our success and will guard us against all future aggressions.

"France has a right to effective measures for protection after the formidable efforts she put forth to save civilization. The natural frontier which will protect civilization is the Rhine.

Let us Watch on the Rhine

"It is on the Rhine which we must hold the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for them to recommence the coup of 1911. The Rhine is the common barrier of all the Allies precisely of all those who united to save civilization. The Rhine is the guarantee of peace for all the nations who have shed their blood in the cause of liberty. Then let us watch on the Rhine.

"We have no idea of attacking Germany, or of recommencing the war. Democracies such as ours never attack. They ask but to live in peace and to grow in peace, but who can say that Germany—where democratic ideas are so recent and perhaps very superficial—will not recover quickly from its defeat.

"England has the channel to cross. American is far away. France must always be in a position to safeguard the general interests of mankind. Those interests are at stake on the Rhine. It is there that we must prepare to guard against the painful surprises of the future.

"The armistice is signed, but peace is not yet concluded. So long as the status of Europe has not been settled let us watch, let us watch together, so that we lose not the fruits of our common victory. Let us remain united as we were in battle."

Keep the Bowels Regular and You Won't be Sick.

If the bowels do not move regularly they will, sooner or later, become constipated, and constipation is productive of more ill-health than almost any other trouble.

The sole cause of constipation is an inactive liver, and unless the liver is kept active, you may be sure that headaches, piles, heartburn, biliousness, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, and many other troubles will follow the wrong action of this, one of the most important organs of the body.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the bowels so that you will have a free and easy motion every day, and one pill a night for thirty days will cure the worst cases of constipation.

They do this by acting directly on the liver and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood, thus causing many stomach and bowel troubles.

Mrs. Jos. Labrec, Louise Apts., Calgary, Alta., writes:—"I have been troubled with constipation for the last two years. I have tried numerous treatments, but have never been relieved by anything until I used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which are helping me wonderfully."

We do claim that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are a "cure-all," but we do claim that there is nothing better for a sluggish liver.

Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

F. W. Jenkins Named

St. John Globe: The latest development in the situation regarding the vacancy of chief of the police department is a report that Frederick W. Jenkins, clerk of the city public works department and former deputy chief during the tenure of office of W. W. Clark as chief, has been chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of David W. Simpson. Questioned about the report, Mr. Jenkins said that he had been asked by the Commissioner of Safety if he would be willing to accept appointment should he be decided on for the position, and that he had replied affirmatively. (Mr. Jenkins has many friends in this city. His brother Rev. J. H. Jenkins was pastor of the Gibson Baptist Church some years ago.)
