

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. A Revival of Plaids—Coat Dresses
With Hip Godets—Fitted Bodice and Bouffant Hip Line.

New York, Aug. 25.—A revival of plaids for dresses is said to be coming and indications of it are seen in plaid Angora trimmings on wool fabrics.

Coat dresses with hip godets are shown at the openings.

Among the numerous dresses shown at the openings are many of tricotine featuring trimmings of gold brocade on velour or velvet.

The fitted bodice and bouffant hip line are featured in some of the openings.

Some of the new dress models feature the low waist basque bodice that has been popularized in separate blouses.

The first cabled accounts of the Paris openings give prominence to novel trimmings, including ostrich interlaced with floss, leather bandings, cellose plane embroideries, similar to those used in millinery, dyed goatskin leather used to perforate patterns, toilecree, celluloid and odd fruits and flowers. These are all shown and seem to be leaders in some of the models.

Greater Width to Skirts.

Many of the newer dress models concede the greater width at the sides of the skirt, but apparently there is considerable reluctance to give up the loose, comfortable long lines of the chemise dress. This style seems to be repeated or retained in many of the new models.

A number of fashionable resorts report that black satin, meteor and knitted weaves continue to hold a leading place, though from fashion sources comes increasing talk of a vogue of brown for fall.

Leather collars were shown on some suits at an opening by Beers.

Many of the higher priced suits are featuring vests of fur, with mole the apparent favorite.

The Straight Line Coat.

Thepaletot or short straight line coat mentioned in cables describing the Bernard and Drecol openings are seen here in high class retail showings. They are made up for both women and misses.

Collars of the high Medici type are featured on three-quarter length tailor made suits shown at Docuillot's opening.

Banana and jade in combination with black for evening wraps are the shades introduced at recent Paris openings.

More green seems to be shown for suits here and more is spoken of in Paris than for a long time.

Brown is reported the season's leader for suits. Different shades are used but mostly dark ones are utilized.

Excepting in the severe tailor-made models, the Redingote suit is not seen very much.

Self-plaided velvets and rough tweed are exploited in the newer fall displays of skirts.

A BIG SACRIFICE.

"A man has to make many sacrifices for the sake of his children."
"So you've got to go to the Sunday School picnic, too, have you?"

HE WAS GOING TO.

The curly haired little sprite ran up to his father, who was in his study, and throwing his arms about his neck, he whispered confidentially in his ear, "Oh, papa, it's raining!"
"Papa" was much occupied and he replied rather sharply, "Well, let it rain."
"Yes, papa, I was going to," was the quick response.

GREAT EFFICIENCY.

Boggins was a great efficiency man in the office, but even more so at his home. Why every time his boy was naughty his father laid him on the floor and spread a rug over him so that the beating would kill two birds with one stone, as you might say.
