FRANCE'S GLORIOUS PART.

The people of old France are naturally proud of the glorious part which their great nation took in the great war, and well they should be. France bore the brunt of the great struggle; her territory was overrun by the German hosts; cities, towns and villages were razed and churches ruthlessly destroyed. The French army was in the fight at the start and it remained until the finish, and never once showed an inclination to waver. President Poincaré sized the situation up pretty well in a message to Premier Clemenceau on the day of the peace celebration. "The popular feeling," the President said, "has made no distinction; all the devoted co-operation grouped around the government of the Republic and the Allied governments, was needed to avert the most dreadful danger that ever menaced liberty. France may be forever proud of her part in this universal war. Her army from first to last took part in the operations on the extended and dangerous front; they had ever against them the most powerful and best organized armies; they accomplished prodigious deeds; they suffered the most terrible losses; they sacrificed to the future all they could give it of the present."

"By them France has deserved that her national day henceforth shall be a date of liberty for humanity. As I have in this divine moment the incomparable honor of representing the country, let me ask you to transmit on my behalf to the French armies the passionate expression of the public gratitude and admiration."

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

In his veto message to Congress on the subject of daylight saving, President Wilson said:

"The Act of March 19, 1918, to save daylight, resulted not only from a careful study of industrial conditions by competent men familiar with the business operations of the country, but also from observation of the happy and beneficial consequences of similar legislation in other countries where legislation of this character has been for some time in operation, and where it has resulted as the Act of March 19, 1918, has resulted in the United States, in substantial economies."

"That Act was intended to place the chief business activities of the country as nearly as might be within the limits of daylight throughout the year. It resulted in very great economies of fuel and a substantial economy of energy, because of the very different effects of work done in the daylight and work done by artificial light."

"It moreover served the daily convenience of the many communities of the country in a way which gave all but universal satisfaction, and the overwhelming testimony of its value, which has come to me convinces me that I should not be justified in acquiescing in its repeal."

Daylight saving in Canada was all right as a war measure, but it seems to be in bad odor especially throughout the rural districts, and it is scarcely likely to be adopted again.

Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, spoke in plain words to his Dewdney constituents at Mission, B. C., last night. A press despatch reports him as saying: "We had to

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA WAS GIVEN UP

DR. FOWLER'S
EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURED HER

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months as this is the time of year when the young ones are liable to all kinds of bowel complaints.

If your children have any looseness of the bowels do not experiment with new and untried remedies. Get one having stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 74 years. Don't accept a substitute and perhaps endanger your child's life. Mrs. Willis Coupland, Sunbridge, Ont., writes:—"About four years ago my little girl, then a baby two months old, took diarrhoea. I took her to the doctor but to no avail. After he had given her up, I read of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and immediately got a bottle. Within two days she was improving fast. I cannot ever praise it enough. I hope some poor sufferers will see this letter and lead them to a friend indeed."

raise your taxes and we are going to do it again. It may not make me popular to tell you this, but I do not very much care whether it does or not. If you don't like the government, or do not trust it, you can put another one in, and I would not mind being relieved of the burden. I can assure you that the pinch is coming, and it means sacrifice for all." The Premier went on to say that the Bolshevik element in B. C. had hoped to work up a revolution in Canada this summer, with the aid of the returned soldiers, but the latter refused to fall into the snare.

The new timber regulations published in the Royal Gazette this week provide for a substantial increase in the rate of stumpage. The rate on spruce has been increased from $2.50 per thousand to $3.50. It is still lower than the charge made by the New Brunswick Railway Company and by other private land owners. The lumber industry is in a fairly prosperous condition at the present time and there is no reason why the province should not derive a larger revenue from it.

The attack by the medical profession on the prohibitory law is about the best piece of camouflage that has been staged in this province for some years. If any class of people has reaped a benefit from prohibition, it certainly is the doctors. They are now in a position to coin money without even going outside of their offices.

Tomorrow promises to be a gala day in Fredericton. All classes of citizens will unite in a joyous celebration of the victorious conclusion of the most awful war in the history of the world. The people in the surrounding districts can well afford to take a day off for the purpose of joining in the celebration.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

It pays to advertise Peace!
Peace hath her victories, etc.

And let's not forget Clemenceau's advice—"keep your powder dry!"

College education will do immense things for a young man if he will let it.

Besides turning our swords into plowshares we can use our gas masks while peeling onions.

When people ask your advice, they merely want to find out if you have sense enough to endorse their own views.

Most things improve with age—even the fellow who knows it all has a lot to learn.

Funny, no one has yet offered a prize for anyone who can answer the question, What is a Bolshevik?

The most becoming bathing suit for a man after he is forty would be a large roomy blanket.

Experience is the acid test that enables us to distinguish between good advice and bad.

There is no perfume sold under the name of "musk," but it's there, just the same.

What has become of the old fashioned traveler who told you all about how you could live like a Prince in Munich, Rome or Paris for $5 a week?

A man whose boyhood was one of poverty and privation is never entirely free from astonishment if he always has a big roll of money after he is grown up.

When the sun is shining and the temperature neither too hot nor too cold, the weather bureau becomes one of the government's neglected institutions.

COMPULSORY WORK WILL BE INTRODUCED

Berlin, July 18.—Allied representatives have told the German delegation at Versailles, it is reported here in government circles, that Germany must be prepared to introduce measures for compulsory work is necessary.

This, it was said, was intended as a means of bringing about prompt execution of the reparation work in northern France, utilizing troops and a half million civilian laborers. Officials said the allied conferences on this subject were quite definite. Germany has a problem in her labor troubles.

LANDSLIDES IN ARGENTINE

Buenos Ayres, July 17.—Further snowfalls on both sides of the Andes mountains have resulted in further landslides of large proportions, adding to the difficulties of repairing communication over the mountain. The tunnel on the trans-Andine Railway has been destroyed in the latest landslides. The blizzard in the mountains is said to be continuing, forcing repair gangs to abandon their efforts.

No Man Could Get Life Insurance

RATED ON HIS OWN
STATE OF HEALTH OR

Sound insurance rates must be based on that man, plus other thousands; reduced to a general average.

So with fire rates. No one town can fix a safe rate. Its past record or special conditions are only individual. That would be an unsound basis. It would invalidate insurance in general, and so defeat itself.

This agency offers you protection based on a just rate, adjusted to perfect security.
