

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

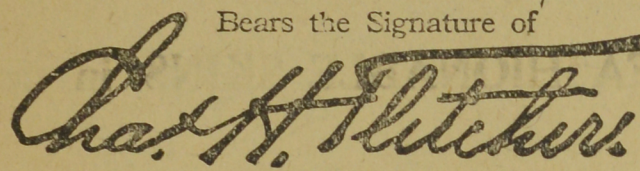

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. News and Incidents Concerning the Favorites of the Moving Picture Fans.

Ida May Heitman, a Los Angeles actress, is one of the incorporators of a $250,000 motion picture company for Reno, Nev.

Betty Blythe was trapped by a forest fire in the California mountains and barely escaped in an automobile through a roadway lined with flames.

Mary Pickford is superstitious. She lately refused to rehearse with an umbrella in her hands. "Bad Luck," said Mary. "Gimme a feather duster."

Burglars entered the home of Chas. Ray recently and departed with a lot of valuable jewelry and clothing owned by the star and his wife. The Rays have been living in their new home only a few months.

Eugene O'Brien, who has been ill at his home in New York for some weeks, has recovered and it is announced that he has started work on his third Selznick attraction, "The Broken Melody," by Ouida Bergere.

By the signing of a contract with A. J. Callaghan of Chicago recently the future status of Bessie Love as an independent star and co-producer was established. The Bessie Love Producing company is to be organized with Chicago capital behind it, and the star is to be featured. Miss Love was one of the discoveries of David W. Griffith.

Pauline Frederick and Will Rogers are going to stage a little scene of their own some day soon. It will be one with plenty of action too, for it is to be nothing else than a race. It all came about because on the selfsame day lately they purchased cars. Each had looked at the one the other purchased and so a rivalry as to their speed has sprung up which is to be settled in the only way such disputes can be settled—by a race. Miss Frederick is noted for her driving and of course there is nothing with legs or wheels with Will Rogers can't drive, so a thrilling time is expected by all.

Dorothy Dalton first came into real prominence as a screen actress in "The Flame of the Yukon." She was born in Chicago and early showed a strong inclination for a stage career. A graduate of a dramatic academy, she was given her first opportunity after a professional engagement with Virginia Harned during a season of stock at a leading theatre in the city of her nativity. Her home is in Hollywood and her recreations are riding, swimming, shooting. She plays the piano and sings and dances. In height she is five feet three inches and weighs 125 pounds. Her hair is dark brown and her eyes gray.

The importance attached to the naming of a photoplay is illustrated by the experience of J. Stuart Lackson, whose latest silver sheet production has just received its fourth title. However, we are assured that "The Moonshine Trail" is its forever and after title. First the picture was named "Moonshine," then it became "Moonshine and Shadow," then someone suggested that was too poetic, so it was called "My Boy" and then when Commodore Blackton affiliated his new company with Pathe as distributors, he decided that "The Moonshine Trail" beat all the other names. It was released early this fall.

GREAT CHANGE.

"Motoring has changed things." "You bet. Why my wife once had to have seven dresses to go to one hotel. Now she has one dress and we go to seven hotels."

EVERYTHING HIGH.

"I understand you contemplate a movement to increase the compensation of college professors." "That's correct. I don't see why there should not be some degree of co-ordination between high brows and high salaries."

TRUSTWORTHY.

It is a good thing to have a publication in the house that you can trust. You never have to think whether you can safely leave The Youth's Companion on the table. When you begin a Companion story you know you are not bound on a slumming expedition. You are being led up into the sunshine of the everlasting hills. The folks in The Companion stories are everyday folks. They are like your own townsmen, stumbling, falling, picking themselves up trying with some defeats and some difficulties to attain to their high ideals.

1920 will be a year of great stories for Youth's Companion readers. There are more than 250 of them in a year. One of the eight great serials will be Capt. Theodore G. Roberts' glorious story of Canadian patriotism and valor, Sons of Liberty. New subscribers for 1920 will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1920.
2. All remaining weekly 1919 issues.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1920.

All the above only $2.50 everywhere in Canada and the United States. The Youth's Companion, 887 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

EVIDENCE IN LONG TRIAL

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 25.—The handkerchief which was tied around Mrs. Broadwell's neck when she was found dead in a garden at Barre last May, was again the subject of testimony at the trial of George Long for murder.

said that he had loaned Mr. Long a handkerchief similar to the one found on the body, insisted under cross-examination today that Long had not returned it. Miss Rose Newhall accounted for Barron's whereabouts on the night of the murder by testifying that he was then employed by her uncle at Deerfield, Mass.

One character in magazine stories is dying—the fellow who betrayed his nervousness by suddenly snapping the stem of his wineglass.
