MOVEMENTS OF THE STARS.

Notes of Interest Concerning Favorites of the Screen.

Mary Miles Minter has purchased what is believed to be the most expensive wrap of the season. It is of ermine and is valued at $35,000. Mary has 42 trunks of new winter clothes.

Tsuru Aoki, wife of Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese screen star, is an expert cook. Her favorite salad is as follows: Cook figs until skins are tender. Drain and cool, after which chop very fine. Add an equal amount of ground nuts. Dress with whipped cream and serve on lettuce leaves.

Mabel Normand has been a prominent figure on the screen since the earliest days of moving pictures. She has taken nearly every risk imaginable in the making of films, and has run the gamut of characterization from scullery maid to society queen, yet for only the second time in her entire career has she been given a western story.

The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has leased the World Peerless Studio at Fort Lee for use until the Amsterdam opera house, now being remodelled as a studio, is ready. Dorothy Dalton and Irene Castle will be the first to work at the new studio, and John Barrymore will soon start work in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

George Loane Tucker is gaining a reputation as a developer of artistic talent. As a result of his "Miracle Man" and the success scored in it by Betty Compson, that actress is to be advanced in his current feature, and the same reward is to come to Beatrice Joy, who gets her big chance in that mysterious production the name of which is not even known.

When a person wishes to change his identity and lose himself from former acquaintances he invariably clings to the initials of his real name. This oddity comes into play in "The Winchester Woman," the latest picture featuring Alice Joyce. Miss Joyce plays the role of a woman who is compelled to change her name and seek new surroundings.

Jacques Jacard has completed the production of "Cassidy of the Air Lines," the big serial feature starring Lieutenant O. L. Locklear, the only aviator who changes from plane to plane in mid-air. Francelia Billington plays opposite the intrepid flyer in this six-reel thriller.

Dorothy Dalton is of splendid physique, beautiful and gifted by nature with those requisites to success which the lovers of screen art admire. She is one of the foremost delineators of strong, brave, resourceful women in the motion picture world today. Whether she portrays the role of an uncouth girl of the Canadian wilds, a dancer in a pitfall on the outposts of civilization, a factory girl, or a woman of fashion, her art vests each new characterization with reality.

PERFECTLY COMPETENT.
