Regina Leader: "The people of the West have every reason to organize to the limit and rise in their might in opposition to Robert Rogers. He has been the worst enemy of Canada, and more particularly of Western Canada, that ever secured a place of influence and power in the public life of this country. Looking over the years that he occupied a position in the government of Manitoba, the people of that province can today partly realize what his ascendancy there meant to them and how the whole political life of that Province was lowered to a plane which made Manitoba a by-word among the provinces. The people there, by painful experience of their own financial problems, know of the results of his reckless administration."

HIS LAST MESSAGE.

No public man who has passed away during the present century has had more tributes paid to him than has Col. Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President of the United States, who died at his home at Oyster Bay on Monday. Newspapers representing all shades of political opinion in the United States have published lengthy sketches of his career, and do not hesitate to say that he was the idol of the people of the great republic. The newspapers of Great Britain and other European countries have paid graceful tributes to his memory, while messages of condolence to the family have poured in from all parts of the civilized world.

Col. Roosevelt's last public message to the American people was read at the all-American benefit concert given by the American Defence Society in the New York Hippodrome on Sunday night. It rings true to the keynote of undiluted, unswerving Americanism which he preached constantly from a hundred platforms with all the energy and passion of his virile nature. That message, which the audience cheered after listening to it intently, was:

"I cannot be with you, and so all I can do is to wish you godspeed. There must be no sagging back in the fight for Americanism merely because the war is over. There are plenty of persons who have already made the assertion that they believe the American people have a short memory and that they intend to revive all the foreign associations which most directly interfere with the complete Americanization of our people. Our principle in this matter should be absolutely simple. In the first place, we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here does in good faith become an American and assimilates himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with every one else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed or birthplace or origin.

"But this is predicated upon the man's becoming in very fact an American and nothing but an American. If he tries to keep segregated with men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American. There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says he is an American but something else also, isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag, which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile.

"We have room for but one language here, and that is the English language, for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans, of American nationality, and not as dwellers in a polyglot boarding house, and we have room for but one soul loyalty and that is loyalty to the American people."

PUBLISHERS' PROBLEMS.

Discussing the demise of the Brantford Courier, the Brockville Recorder and Times has this to say among other er things, concerning the increasing difficulties of the publisher:

"The cable tolls and high cost of press despatches during the war have tested the financial strength of newspapers to a remarkable degree, and many have found themselves unable to stand the strain. The newsprint cost has well-nigh doubled, and at times it has been almost impossible to secure the publishers' raw material at any cost. In every department of newspaper work, grey matter, and heaps of it, are necessary if the people are to be served with reliable information of the world's happenings, and these brains must be adequately salaried. If the people could get a peep at the weekly cost sheets of a modern newspaper there would be widespread wonderment. A pair of boots that a few years ago cost $5 to $7, now cost from $10 to $15. A suit of clothes that could be purchased for $18, now costs $30, and the former $30 suit now costs $50. Every commodity of life has soared in price. Still the newspapers, with an increased cost of production greater than the majority of commodities, remains nearly at the old figure of cheaper days. The attempt to perform the impossible of making a living where, to put it mildly, there was no profit, has caused the downfall of many a newspaper."

The war developed four new and spectacular weapons of offence—the submarine, the airplane, the tank and deadly gas. It brought into view no new powerful weapon of defence. The only notable development in that field was the resuscitation, as it were, of the neglected trench. The new engines of offence would, if the struggle had lasted but a single year longer, have so completely transformed the art and strategy of war that textbooks of tactics would have seemed like a tabloid treatment of a distemper. And these new armaments would have so colossally multiplied the costs that it now seems quite possible that a future war would have been almost unthinkable.

It was announced at a meeting of the Rotary Club, at Halifax, on Tuesday, that Lieut. Colonel J. Layton Ralston, D.S.O., had been recommended for the Victoria Cross. Col. Ralston is a prominent lawyer of Halifax and for some years has represented his native county of Cumberland in the Nova Scotia Legislature.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Remember when we had to turn back the clocks to make it dark in the morning?

The average man's earning capacity is generally outstripped by his yearning capacity.

The reluctance to use fresh air as a preventive of influenza would suggest that a shortage existed.

With the new year comes the more or less sweetly solemn thought that taxes will have to be paid.

Except for the war and influenza, the year 1918 wasn't such a bad year after all. Most of us are rather glad we lived through it.

In two or three years, we are told, clothing will be cheaper. Cold comfort! In two or three years many of us will have to borrow barrels or take to the woods.

Russia has the Bolsheviks, but we have the flu. Of the two the Bolsheviks are more amusing and not much more destructive of human life. Not that we are trying to engineer a trade.

"Though this is a fast age," remarked the Man on the Car, "there has been no change during the last forty years in the time it takes two lovers to say good-bye."

A delegate to the national health convention in Chicago argued that the fashion of low-necked gowns forced the wearers to keep their necks clean. Let's abrogate the style of wearing the hair over the ears.

Any Woman's Struggle For Good Health Quickly Rewarded

A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT NOW ADVOCATED THAT GIVES FINE RESULTS

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong.

Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment.

At the close of every meal, with a sip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.

By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozone quickens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health.

Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Cattarhogue Co., Kingston, Ont.

RIOTOUS BEHAVIOUR OF SOLDIERS

Pedestrians in Queen Street Annoyed Last Night—No Police Interfered with the Soldiers.

A large number of returned soldiers gathered at the corner of Queen and Carleton Streets last evening and pelted pedestrians and horses with snowballs. About 200 soldiers in all were present in the mob. The city police and the military police made no attempts to quell the disturbance which continued until the soldiers dispersed of their own accord.

The crowd snowballed all who passed, reports including the Chief of Police and one police officer. They respected women who received no discomfort at their hands. Several officers talked to the returned men and some of the latter moved off.

The disturbance was due to the fact that many of the soldiers are waiting their discharges and want them to be rushed through. The soldiers are in the pink of condition and anxious to get back to the work they were at before enlistment. No amusement has been open for them here on account of the influenza ban and they naturally are tired of staying around and doing nothing.

Lieut. Col. W. J. Osborne officer commanding the District Depot spoke to the soldiers this morning offering a few suggestions as to their future conduct.
