MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

President Wilson Will Attend in the Capacity of Prime Minister of the State—Various Questions to be Dealt With by the Inter-Allied War Council—Some Important Questions Are to be Adjusted.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The Temps says it is able to state that President Wilson has informed Premier Clemenceau that he does not desire to be considered at the peace conference as the head of a state, but only as the prime minister of his state. The Temps says that the United States constitution makes the president not only the head of the state but the head of the government and that President Wilson will claim only the right to the prerogatives of the last named position at the peace conference.

The newspaper adds that when making known his desire to Premier Clemenceau he also informed the premier concerning the detailed work the various American delegates to the conference would have assigned to them.

Meeting May be Delayed
Premier Clemenceau according to the Temps intended to call a meeting of the interallied supreme war council tomorrow to submit to it various questions which will be treated later at the peace conference. It is not certain that this meeting will be held, however. The Italian premier, Vittorio Orlando and foreign minister Baron Sonnino are expected to reach Paris tomorrow morning, and a message from the British premier, David Lloyd George, is awaited. If he cannot reach Paris in time, the meeting of the council will be postponed until his arrival. Many important questions concerning the arrangement of the programme for the peace conference, which have been in process of solution, probably will soon be adjusted as a result of President Wilson's return to Paris. It is evident from the expressions of officials that the settlement of various matters will progress more rapidly from now on.

Ground Already cleared

It is possible that the first meetings between President Wilson and his aides and the entente premier may occur at the end of this week. These conferences will be informal and will carry forward, in a spirit of accommodation the discussions which have taken place during Mr. Wilson's absence between individuals of the various groups. The meetings are expected to develop great importance later but at present it may be said that results of value have been cleared for the beginning of the actual negotiations.

The impending informal meetings between the Entente premiers and President Wilson will deal with subjects of fundamental importance. It will be for these officials to arrange the programme which will govern the peace congress itself, subject to approval, when all the delegates formally gather.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE IN THE DALE INQUEST

to go to see his rotherber Perley Davidson in South Devon. Maye did not want him to go.

There was no conversation at the breakfast table but Maye seemed bright and in good spirits. Witness and Maye left the dining room together. She went toward her room. Witness went to his room and then went to Devon. Witness never had told Maye he would leave her. He returned to the Barker shortly after noon. The clerk told him that the "little one" of the girls had committed suicide. Witness knew that meant Maye. The clerk said they had given up their room. Witness went upstairs and found Lillian. He was told that Maye had committed suicide at the Grand Hotel.

To members of the jury witness said that he had no ring or license for a marriage. He went to his brothers because there was sickness there. He had no intention of fooling the girl but intended to marry her.

Frank Carter

Frank Carter, employed at G. Y. Dibble's drug store, said he opened the store at 8 a. m., January 3rd. He remembered a girl coming in wearing a brown suit and light fur. Witness sold her a sixdrachm bottle of carbolic acid, she asking for a small bottle of it. Witness had sold carbolic acid before. He never had been told not to sell carbolic acid, strychnine or arsenic. It was a daily occurrence to sell carbolic acid.

Coroner's Address

Coroner Mullin addressing the jury said that its duties were merely to find the cause of death. The young woman must have had some reason for committing the act but the evidence did not seem to lead up to the reason.

He wished to say one of two things with regard to the sale of carbolic acid and other substances. There was too indiscriminate sale of carbolic acid. Every country store sold it. Records were not kept and if there had been a record it would not have prevented the person from taking it in this case. He hoped there would be some recommendation from the jury on this matter.

days' work and twenty nights in helping the city and in homes.

One Nurse Injured

Miss Norwood, who while on professional work in Devon had one of her limbs shattered through an explosion, is improving and is able to move about with the aid of a crutch and cane.

Miss Nellie Stafford of Marysville has joined the student nurses staff on probation. In a few days Miss Kate Johnson of Pembroke, N. B., Miss Vera Rideout, of Houlton, Me., Miss Daisy Ritchie, of Woodstock, and Miss Estelle Montgomery, of St. John will enter upon their duties as probationers.

Annual Reports

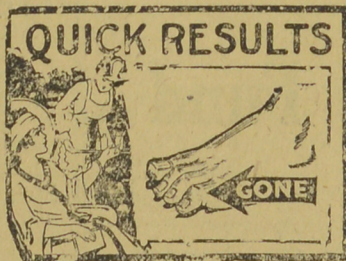

At this meeting the Secretary-Treasurer submitted the annual financial statement which was received by the Auditor. The business of the past year shows very much larger scope than formerly.

The Superintendent also presented her annual report for 1918, and this shows that 566 patients were treated during the year. Other valuable information contained in these reports will probably appear in an annual report this year.

East Enders Still Ahead

Last evening several exciting games were played at the Curling Rink. Two East End rinks won out keeping the lead for the East Enders. W. Limerick defeated A. S. McFarlane after a very exciting game in which the two rinks were tied four times. W. S. Thomas defeated H. B. Colwell by a score of 20 to 8. J. E. Page won from A. A. Shute by a score of 12 to 8.

Dangerous to Pedestrians

The snow which has accumulated on the roofs is causing much inconvenience to shop-keepers as well as to pedestrians. Several people have narrowly escaped serious accidents from the falling snow and ice off the roofs. One man was knocked down on Regent Street by a snowslide but suffered no injury than what the fall produced.
