PROHIBITION IN THE U. S. SOON TO BECOME LAW

The Measure Aims at Sahara Like Dryness Under Very Severe Penalties—Will be Put Into Force Next Week—No Kick Left in the Beer—One-Half of One Per Cent is the Limit—The Manufacture Will Soon be Stopped.

Washington, Oct. 20—The prohibition law deemed one of the most sweeping acts ever passed by Congress was expected to be sent to the White House today by Attorney General Palmer who has been investigating its constitutionality.

The plan, it was learned, is to have the bill remain at the White House until Oct. 28, when it becomes effective even without President Wilson's signature. From responsible quarters there has been no hint of a veto.

Under this law, on Oct. 28, at the latest, it would become illegal to manufacture or sell liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol or any patent medicines or other compounds fit for beverage purposes containing more than that amount of alcohol.

Violations are to be investigated by commissioners of internal revenue. Commissioners are authorized to swear out warrants giving them a right to search for liquor and arrest the offenders.

The alcoholic liquids not deemed illegal are denatured alcohol; medicinal preparations if unfit for beverage purposes, which must have the quantity of alcohol contained printed on each package; flavoring extracts unfit for beverage use, vinegar and preserved sweet cider.

Liquor manufactured before the bill goes into effect may remain in the United States bonded warehouses and the alcohol content reduced to bring it within the law, or withdrawn to be denatured.

Beer Without a Kick

Beer containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol may be sold but not under the name of beer, ale or porter.

Places where intoxicating drinks are sold are to be declared common nuisances and the fines imposed shall rest as liens against the property if the owner had guilty knowledge of what was going on in his building. When such a place is discovered the law provides that an injunction may be issued to stop the illicit sale and prevent removal of liquor.

Liquor which is seized may be destroyed or delivered to any governmental agency for medicinal, mechanical or scientific uses, or sold to persons having permits to purchase it for such purposes.

Distilleries and bonded warehouses may, under the law upon the filing of a bond and the obtaining of a permit, be used as industrial alcohol plants. The commissioner of internal revenue is authorized to issue regulations governing industrial alcohol plants, to prevent illegal use of alcohol and develop the non-beverage alcohol industry.

Penalties under the dry law are varied, ranging from prison sentences to fines, according to what section of the law is violated.

When the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution goes into effect next January many more provisions of the law become operative. These include the regulation of physicians, who cannot prescribe liquor unless they are in active practice and licensed, and the physician must believe it will afford relief to the patient. Not more than one pint may be prescribed within ten days. Prescriptions must be made out on a form supplied by the internal revenue commissioner, with stubs, like a checkbook—the book to be turned in after all blanks are used, for the official records. No prescription may be filled more than once, and druggists must keep a record, similar to a poison record, of each sale, time place, etc.

Advertising, manufacture and sale of tablets or formulas for making liquor at home is prohibited. Advertising of liquor in any way is made illegal.

Can't Tip Off a Friend

Even the giving of information as to where it may be obtained is law breaking. Vehicles used for transporting it shall be seized.

With regard to possession of alcoholic drinks the Act says possession after February 1, 1920, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to violate, except liquor in private homes, legitimately purchased before the law went into effect. This liquor may be used only for his personal consumption of the owner, his family and guests. Private dwellings cannot be searched unless it is suspected the beverage is being sold in them, or part of the house is used for business purposes. Hotels and lodging house rooms which are transiently used may be searched. Those permanently occupied by the same persons are regarded as private dwellings.

Buildings used for selling liquor may be closed for a year at the option of the court.

If anyone is injured by a drunken person, the one who sold the liquor may be sued, or the one who told the drinker where to get it may be sued.

There are many other sections regulating the business of analyzing suspected drinks, etc., and settling up the legal machinery to enforce the law.

against their opponents' nine (two tries and a penalty goal). The absence of Lee Fluck in the half-line, although made up for in part by the presence of the two Haslam brothers, and the loss of four scrimmage men, made ineligible for the intercollegiate games by the rule preventing graduates from playing, apparently militated against the Tigers. The Wanderers were weakened in their half-line by the temporary loss of their kicking back, "Doc" Campbell, who sustained injuries in Monday's game. The game was faster in some respects than Monday's contest, although scrimmages in which the Wanderers generally got the ball, were very numerous. The kicking of Freddie Palmer for the Wanderers and "Mont" Haslam for Dalhousie were features. The junior game was won by Dalhousie by the score of 3 to 0, the single try being made by MacDonald, who fell on the ball for the touch when Edwards dropped it almost on his own line.
