GIRL WILL ATTEMPT TO FLY ACROSS THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

Ruth Law Will Use a Land Type of Plane Capable of Carrying a Thirty Hours' Supply of Fuel—Is Confident That She Can Make the Trip from Newfoundland in Nineteen Hours—Will Prepare for Emergencies.

New York, June 9.—Ruth Law, who made a flight from Chicago to New York a few years ago, is in New York city to arrange for a transatlantic flight, which it was announced a few days ago she would attempt to make. She will be ready to start the trip, she said yesterday, just as soon as a big multi-plane of the land machine type, capable of carrying a thirty hours' supply of fuel, can be built.

"The flight can be made from St. Johns in less than 19 hours for the distance of 1,920 miles to Ireland," she said. "But I want to be prepared for emergencies. The land machine is the only machine to be considered for the flight, although the flying boat would be safer if forced to come down. It is impossible, however, to rise from the ocean if at all rough. I am looking now for a competent observer and navigator in one and the same person, to have weight and space."

THE DIRIGIBLE C. 5 WOULD HAVE BEEN A STRONG COMPETITOR FOR THE HONORS WON BY N. C. 4

Washington, June 9.—Official confirmation that the Navy Department contemplated a transatlantic flight by the C. 5 dirigible without a stop from St. Johns, Nfld., to the Irish coast is contained in the report of Commander E. W. Coil of the C. 5's voyage from Montauk Point, L. I., to St. Johns, Nfld.

The report, made public for the first time today, shows that the C 5 made a remarkable flight lasting twenty-five hours and 50 minutes, during which the airship covered more than 1,022 sea miles without difficulty, although adverse weather conditions were encountered practically throughout.

The report indicates that the C. 5 should have been a serious contender for the honors captured by the N. C. 4 later, had she not been torn from her moorings at St. John and blown out to sea.

LONDON PRESS COMMENT ON THE RESOLUTION OF THE U. S. SENATE

London, June 9.—"We do not mind it, for it is purely domestic politics," says the Sunday Express in commenting on the resolution passed by the United States Senate asking the American peace delegates in Paris to secure a hearing for Ireland's delegates before the Peace Conference. "It affects Anglo-Saxon relations," continues the newspaper, "no more than if the House of Lords were to recommend that the Conference receive a delegation from the Philippines to hear the reasons why their aspirations for freedom from American control should not be read, or for a delegation from Porto Rico with a similar mission. But, as Kipling says, that is another story, and the House of Lords does not depend for its existence on votes, and there is no organized propaganda in this country to free the western islanders who are doing as well under the Americans as the Irish are under the British."

GUERRILLA WARFARE SAID TO BE GOING ON

Paris, June 9.—Guerrilla warfare of a character which usually precedes a major conflict is now going on in Ireland, it is declared by Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne in a supplementary report which they have forwarded to President Wilson regarding conditions in Ireland.

Messrs. Walsh and Dunne, delegates of Irish socialists in the United States, affirm in this addition to their report, submitted to President Wilson last week, that clashes between Irish volunteers and the army forces in Ireland in which men on both sides are killed, are of daily occurrence.

Later the tendency became rather acutely downward, Atlantic Gulf and Studebaker each losing four points, and general motors three.

Allied Reply to German Counter Proposals Will be Handed Over on Friday of This Week—The Council of Four Met This Morning and Considered Various Reports—League of Nations Covenant to be Modified.

Paris, June 9.—It has been decided by Allied and associated governments that the reply to the German counter proposals will not be delivered before Friday, June 13. The reply will give the Germans a period of five days in which to accept or reject the treaty. The Council of Four spent this morning considering the various reports submitted by the commissions which had been dealing with features of the answer to the German proposals.

Premier Clemenceau, Lord Robert Cecil and Colonel E. M. House have re-examined the terms under which nations other than the founder members may be admitted to the League of Nations. Their report, which modifies somewhat the covenant so as to render the admission of Germany easier, will be submitted to the Council of four today.

THE TERMS UNDER WHICH GERMANY MAY BE ADMITTED TO THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

It is understood that the conditions recommended for Germany's admission to the League of Nations are:

- First—The establishment of a stable government.
 - Second—The signing of the treaty of peace.
 - Third—The loyal execution of the peace treaty.
- A proposed fourth condition, relative to Germany's abolishing compulsory military service, was omitted on Premier Clemenceau's suggestion. It was considered that the treaty sufficiently provided for Germany's disarmament.

The two men had been out for a drive through the morning with three young ladies. After having returned to the town the men left the three ladies at their home which is not more than a few hundred yards away from where the accident happened.

The two men proceeded along in the car and were just crossing when the Limited appeared in sight, and before the brakes were applied the train crashed into the automobile completely demolishing it and throwing the two occupants out. Martin's injuries were of such a serious nature that he died in the hospital about two hours later. His companion, LaViolet while quite seriously injured is likely to recover.

The crossing where the fatality occurred is considered a dangerous one and it has long been felt by the people of the vicinity that greater precautions should be taken when trains are passing. The Limited had just
