THE NEW WORLD.

A recent message from Mr. Lloyd George, issued in a paper called The Future and distributed free by the million all over Britain, has aroused intense interest, especially on account of its remarkable contrast between what he calls the "old world" and the "new world."

He describes the former as "A world where toil for myriads of honest workers, men and women, purchased nothing better than squalor, penury, wretchedness; a world scarred by slums, disgraced by sweating, where unemployment, through the vicissitudes of industry, brought despair to multitudes of humble homes; a world where, side by side with want there was waste of the inexhaustible riches of the earth, partly through ignorance and want of forethought, and partly through entrenched selfishness."

Then he boldly declares his conviction that "The old world must and will come to an end. No effort can shore it up much longer. If there be any who feel inclined to maintain it, let them beware lest it fall upon them and overwhelm them and their households in ruin. It should be the sublime duty of all, without thought of partisanship, to help in the building up of the new world, where labor shall have its just reward and indolence alone shall suffer want."

These are admirable and inspiring utterances, and express the convictions of all who desire to see and are determined to help forward a proper social order. And yet it is necessary to go farther and deeper, because the "new world" depends upon something far other than environment or improved conditions. This idea of the adequacy of circumstances was probably one of the root-principles which have led to so much disappointment during recent years. The provision of favorable conditions and the value of training and culture were among the most potent convictions of the half century before the war, but while these can do very much for the progress of mankind, they are absolutely inadequate to meet the deepest needs of the race.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Polling in the Ontario provincial elections is taking place today. There are some 280 candidates in the field, including Conservatives, Liberals, U. F. O., Labor and Socialist. With the opposition so badly split up, the government is pretty certain to be sustained, but its majority will not be as large as in the last House. A referendum on prohibition is also taking place in Ontario today. Since the last election the franchise has been extended to women.

Thrift Magazine: The secret has leaked out that the real reason why farmers were opposed to the daylight saving plan was that they were not able to persuade the roosters to adopt it. The he-chickens insisted on going to work on the old schedule. In open defiance of Congress, they refused to knock off the extra hour from their morning beauty sleep. So, under the new plan, instead of the roosters waking up for the farmers, it became necessary for the farmers to wake up the roosters. This, quite naturally, aroused feelings of mutual antagonism. No farmer relishes the task of going out each morning while the moon is still riding in the heavens, and cuffing a barnyard full of roosters off the perch. So there was nothing to do but repeal the law.

The Royal Bank of Canada will this year celebrate its golden jubilee, having been founded at Halifax in 1869. It started out with a capital of $200,000, which has since increased to sixteen millions, and it has over 600 branches. As the Montreal Star says: "The Royal Bank of Canada is already one of the world's great banks, and the indications are that within a few years it will hold even a more prominent position among the great financial institutions than it does today." The general manager of this great financial institution is Mr. Charles E. Neill.

Fredericton man and son of Mr. James S. Neill.

Journal of Commerce: When Rev. William Ivens is allowed to speak he gets an audience of a couple of hundred or so and a score of lines in the papers. When somebody undertakes to stop him from speaking he gets a gathering of several thousand and columns in the papers. It is not hard to see which method results in less harm.

Mr. Hartley H. Dewart, K. C., the Ontario Liberal leader, who is accused by the government press of being friendly to the liquor traffic, has as his opponent in Southwest Toronto Mr. G. H. Gooderham, a member of a family long identified with the whiskey business.

Kansas City Star: Boston served baked beans to King Albert. A king's dish. But we read that they were served in a golden pot, which is a humiliation to all who know that beans are not beans unless baked and served in an earthenware pot with codfish balls on the side.

Recent cable despatches indicate that the fall of Bolshevism in Russia is due very soon. It may be delayed for several weeks, but it seems to be inevitable. The sooner it comes, the better for the world.

Long term Victory Bonds are undoubtedly a gilt-edged investment. Those who purchased them in 1917 for 97½ can now, if they wish, dispose of them for 104½, and they are certain to go higher.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

All is fair in love—except brunettes.

A man may found a creed almost by accident, but not a business.

A classic is frequently something you bully your children into reading because your father bullied you into reading it.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to read poetry to his girl or his wife? Probably now reading her the stock quotations.

According to a worthy fashion writer "black and white checks make a smart lining for a cape." These, however, are not the kind that father writes.

As much as a man admires the trait of resignation, he doesn't like the thought of it in connection with his widow.

A romance is usually a mutual misapprehension on the part of a man and a woman which may be cleared up by marriage.

We have rebuilt automobiles, rebuilt typewriters and even rebuilt men that are almost as good as new, but it's a long, long job to rebuild a bank account that has been shot to pieces.

If women were to have their way always in this world, the first thing they would do would be to see to it that every man got home in time for supper.

OCTOGENARIAN HONORED AT TAYMOUTH

Taymouth, Oct. 18—On Oct. 17th a pleasant gathering was held at the home of Squire John McBean the occasion being Mrs. McBean's 81st birthday. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. McBean as the invitations were issued and all preparations made by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herbert McBean.

Fifteen guests were present: Mrs. John A. Young, Mrs. Angus Urquhart, Mrs. Wesley Fraser, Mrs. Wm. McBean, Mrs. Geo. Bell, Mrs. John B. Young, Mrs. Fred McBean, Mrs. Ernest McBean, Mrs. Jas. S. Young, Mrs. Jas. Bell, Mrs. Wm. S. Young, Mrs. Jas. McBean, Mrs. Munroe, Miss Baxter.

Music was furnished by Mrs. John A. Young and Mrs. Jas. McBean. The tea table was very prettily decorated the birthday cake being especially admired. Pink roses presented by Mrs. John B. Young also graced the table. Each guest presented Mrs. McBean with a little personal gift as a token of respect and esteem. At the close of supper a few words from Mr. McBean testified to his pleasure at seeing so many old friends around his table.

All voted the afternoon one of the most delightful of the season.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT SPRINGHILL

Amherst, Oct. 19—Theodore McKay returned soldier dead; Frederick Brine police officer seriously injured, and Roy Rushton, returned soldier, held under arrest is the summary of a fight and shooting fracas in Springhill on Saturday night. An inquest was held late tonight before Dr. S. Wardrope and Crown Prosecutor James A. Hanway attended from Amherst. The verdict had not been rendered at the time of writing.

The fight started when Roy Rushton, had been ordered to move along home by Policeman Brine. Instead of doing so, it is alleged he grappled with the officer who told him he was then under arrest. Rushton continued the resistance. Seeing McKay's approach and knowing that he could do nothing against the two men Brine drew a gun and then fired a shot into the ground. It is alleged that the bullet inflicted a slight wound in McKay's leg. The shot failed to deter either McKay or Rushton and they got Brine down and commenced to punish and kick him. Brine again fired and the second shot hit McKay in the breast, causing death.

Brine was then in a serious condition and was removed to the hospital and was in too precarious a state to give evidence before the coroner. His injuries are very serious and it is thought possible that he will not recover.

Rushton was placed under arrest Sunday afternoon.

The three men were all overseas in the great war.

James Tom, the Chinaman who was wounded by his cousin, George Tom some months ago, was found guilty of shooting with intent to kill, by the jury in the present session of the Supreme court at Amherst. He, with King, will be sentenced at the conclusion of the sitting.
