CHURCH UNITY.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Chatham World, quotes the following passage from Bishop Richardson's charge to the Anglican Synod:

The great religious bodies were not separated by reason of a few disputed ceremonies and the like, but by primary and fundamental differences of human thought and the book of common prayer insists on the subordination of unity to truth. He also gave warning that they would not serve the cause of unity by contravening or disregarding the rules of their own church, and he referred to the rule that the ministry of the word and sacraments should be restricted to those who have received ordination. It followed, then, that any free interchange of pulpits could be carried on only at the cost of disloyalty to established law.

Commenting on the above, the World has this to say:

"His Lordship's idea appears to be that Christian unity is to be attained only by getting all Christians to join the Church of England. The idea is not new. A serious attempt was made some centuries ago to secure such unity by persuading or forcing all Christians to become members of one church, and it failed. If Christian unity must wait for Church unity it will never come. The good Bishop stands upon the law—the law of his church—a law that was enacted even before the Westminster Confession of Faith endowed church elders with the keys of heaven and hell and closed the golden gates of the Celestial City to all except those who are fore-ordained to enter therein. Many moss-grown dogmas still included in ministerial professions of faith, have been east into the scrapheap and ignored, even though they are still in the text of the creed."

While the worthy Commodore Stewart often gets in wrong when discussing political questions, his views on theological subjects are usually sound. In this particular case most people will agree that he has hit the nail squarely on the head.

THE MERCHANT MARINE.

On Saturday, July 19, London is to have an opportunity of paying tribute to the British mercantile marine for its magnificent services during the war. Under the auspices of a committee headed by Mr. C. I. Rougemont, chairman of Lloyd's, every shipowner in the country is to be invited to take part, and for the first time adequate use of the Thames Embankment is contemplated. The idea is that from Blackfriars to Chelsea there shall be a procession of ship's lifeboats, decorated with the colors of the various lines, and manned by men who again and again risked their lives in following their calling. The newly formed League of Arts for National and Civic Ceremony, 58 Berner street, London, W. I., will undertake the decoration of the Thames Embankment, the pageantry and the music, on the lines suitable to this tribute of the capital of the Empire.

For obvious reasons the deeds of the mercantile marine were not known to the vast majority of people during the war, but under the supervision of Sir Norman Hill a record is being prepared. This publication will help the public to realize the debt we owe to the seamen who fearlessly carried on with no defence against the enemy save a lifeboat.

There is no instance of men refusing to put to sea, though many had been shipwrecked by torpedo, mine or gunfire. The fighting services have their due meed of recognition, and it is peculiarly suitable that the efforts of the non-combatant seamen should be acknowledged from the banks of the historic Thames, which provide accommodation for thousands of spectators.

At a recent meeting of the shareholders of Lever Bros., the great British soap makers, the chairman described a new method of paying wages, which they were planning to adopt. Each employee would be required to have a private bank account, either in the firm's bank or in any other; the weekly or monthly payroll would be sent to the firm's bank, and the sum each man is entitled to would be placed to his credit. Then he could draw whatever he needed for household or other expenses and leave the rest to his credit, where it would draw interest. The firm would supplement all balances with additions. This would do away with pay envelopes and standing in line, and would encourage saving.

Will some newspaper correspondent please page Sir Robert Borden and find out if he is still at the peace conference, and if not, if he is all right, and send a little news of all he is doing? asks the Quebec Telegraph. Since the item has been published Mr. Borden has been discovered. He has been accorded the great privilege of reading the revised nine points which the Labor Commission wished embodied in the peace treaty after George Nicoll Barney, British delegate, had explained them.

It almost makes us gasp to read about the building boom which is going on in the City of Moncton. The Transcript says that new buildings of the estimated value of nearly a million dollars are to be erected during the coming season. Evidently the transfer to Toronto of leading officials of the C. N. R. has not dampened the spirits of the enterprising people of the railway centre. They have an abiding faith in the future of their city and are determined to make it the chief burg of the Maritime Provinces.

The Bishop of Birmingham said at a Los Angeles luncheon: "Churchgoing is becoming rarer and rarer among the people as the years pass. In Birmingham one Sunday morning a clubman, seated at a club window, looked up from his Sunday paper and said: 'By George, there's Thompson and his wife on the way to church! I wonder what's up?' 'It's either,' said a second clubman, 'that Thompson has had another attack of heart trouble, or else Mrs. Thompson has a new dress.'"

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Really, spring seems to be waiting for someone to give it a lift.

Eve probably invented the phrase, "All men are alike."

Bolshevism is a hollow mockery that goes from the head to the stomach—and vice versa.

When the carrot-headed girl's dad strikes it rich, her tresses become golden.

Precedents are sometimes the accumulated wisdom of ages; and more often the accumulated stupidity.

Neighbors of the back lot gardener are warned that if their chickens get in his patch the intruders are due for one of those rapid non-stop flights back home.

Nobody remembers the shortcomings of his ancestors, if he ever heard of them. Time will make a pillar of society out of a horse-thief.

Along comes an able editor with the remark that "the law of supply and demand does not always make good." He's more than half right. Demand is always there with the punch.

"Adam's first need was for speech, and so God made Eve," said Prof. J. N. Gaylord of the Minnesota normal college, addressing the Chicago Woman's club. Since which, we'll respectfully submit, Adam hasn't had a chance to say what his second need was.

Sending Men West.
 Mr. A. E. Ashford, who is in charge of the Dominion Provincial Employment offices in this city, announced today that a large number of men would be sent west by that department about the middle of May as assistants to the Western farmers, who have complained of the scarcity of labor.

Will Appoint Representative.
 Rev. J. S. Sutherland met with the ladies' societies of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church yesterday and they agreed to appoint a representative on the general committee arranging for the coming of the Maritime Presbyterian Synod. Owing to the meeting at the Opera House this evening on behalf of the Red Triangle Campaign, the regular prayer meeting at St. Paul's Church has been cancelled.

VETERAN TELLS OF A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Before He Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Postmaster of Hereford Points the Way to Health to Other Sufferers from Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hereford, Que., May, 5th—(Special)—Mr. A. Peabody the veteran postmaster here, is one of the many old people who claim to have received a new lease of life through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Peabody is in his 84th year, but wonderfully strong and active for one of his age. But he was not always thus. "For six years," he says, in telling his story, "I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble. I had those sharp, lightning pains through my muscles, even to my finger tips."

"In March, 1917, I was taken with a shaking chill and deathly pains through my abdomen, groins, and the small of my back. I was confined to my bed for three weeks, during which time I often had to get up as often as twenty or thirty times a day."

"I tried many remedies, but got little benefit till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. In three days I got relief, and three boxes cleared all the pains out of my system. I also rest much better at nights."

"I am always glad to tell other sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me."

Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CITY ENGINEER McDOWELL

Before City Council—Made Acquaintance of Members—Immediate Work Outlined in Brief.

City Engineer McDowell was before the City Council in committee last night for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the members of the council and getting an idea of the methods of business. Mayor Hanson introduced him saying briefly that the new official would find that he would be given a free hand to a great extent but that results were expected. His Worship quoted from the bylaws relative to the duties of the City Engineer. Under his direction are the departments of Street Lighting, Wharves, Public Works, Roads and Streets and Water and Sewerage. The mayor also stated that repairs to the permanent pavement probably would be the first matter attended to by the City Engineer to be followed by attention to surface drainage and water and sewerage preparatory to permanent paving on a large scale.

In reply the City Engineer expressed his appreciation of the kind reception given him by the members of the council and citizens in general. He would not be in a position to advise or make a statement until he had consulted with the heads of departments and the committees and obtained more local knowledge. He believed that principal matters would be repair work and preparation for permanent pavement. He hoped the expectation of the members of the City Council would be met.

G. W. V. A. MEETING

Present Quarters Not Large Enough—Secretary A. E. Ashford Resigns—Calgary Resolution Endorsed.

The G. W. V. A. held a special meeting last evening at the G. W. V. A. rooms Queen Street. Forty-seven new members were added to the strength of the Association and it was decided that the club rooms were becoming too small for the large number of members and that it would be advisable to look around for roomier quarters. Secretary A. E. Ashford resigned his position because of other duties and Charles Dougherty was appointed to fill the office of Secretary. Treasurer Committees were organized to carry out preparations for the festival, tag day and dance to be held on May 24th by the Veterans. It was also decided to form a Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. A resolution of the Calgary branch which has been handed to all Provincial branches was received and heartily endorsed. The resolution deals with the proposed bonus to soldiers, $1000 for having served in Canada, $1500 for service in England and $2000 for service in any actual theatre of war.

Drive Out Saturday.

The water in the St. John river has risen steadily and is now about fifteen feet above summer level and is rising still. The E. Burt Lumber Co. successfully completed a drive on the Keswick Saturday, bringing out about five million feet of timber. The logs will be sawed at Burt's Corner. The Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Co. drive on the Nashwaak is expected out today.
