OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE "BEST DRESS."

In Our Younger Days We Had Our "Best Clothes" and Our "Every-Day Things."

When we were youngsters our mothers paid more as a matter of course for what we termed our "best dresses" and other "best" things than for what we called our "every-day things."

Our stout, heavy leather school shoes, for instance, cost considerably less than the thin patent leather shoes we had for best, and all-wool stockings were something that every one could have, while silk stockings were quite a luxury.

Needless to say, silk dresses were more expensive than woollen dresses. We paid little, then, for durability and plain lasting quality in clothes, but quite a lot for the ornate and less substantial.

Today mothers find that their children's every-day clothes actually cost more than their best clothes. Stout shoes that withstand the weather are real luxuries—the daintier sort are really less expensive. The result is, of course, that well dressed children are more or less kept in plain, substantial clothes, for it always happens that what costs more becomes that which we admire.

A Fashion That is Passing.

The whole notion of having Sunday clothes or special best clothes is one that is fast passing away, especially among city women. The woman of moderate means usually has a well made street suit every year that she wears with frequently renewed accessories for all street occasions, for shopping and informal calling, for business expeditions and for church.

The old idea was to have for church wear and for special occasions a special suit that hung in the closet for about six days out of the seven. And that suit usually hung on for several seasons. The woman with moderate income could not afford to have it do otherwise and the woman with a thrifty turn could not endure to discard it when it was only slightly worn, no matter how far out of style it had become.

WASHING ENAMEL.

All dirty marks on white enamel should be rubbed with a piece of flannel moistened with methylated spirits. Then wash the enamel with warm soapy water, dry and rub with a flannel sprinkled with whiting. Polishing with a dry duster completes the process. White enamel furniture treated in this way from time to time retains its brightness for a long period.

UMBRELLA COVERS.

Leather umbrella sheaths are the latest umbrella novelty. They are, of course, far more durable than the usual slip cover of silk, and they are smart looking to boot. For they are made to conform closely to the shape of the umbrella, so that there is no unusual bulkiness. Some of them are in pigskin in the natural color and some in leather that has been dyed.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

The new tunic skirt has the tunic coming only to the knee. Gray and black form the smartest combination of the moment. A good deal of Chinese fillet is used on flesh crepe blouses. The suit coat has made excellent use of the deep shawl collar. Copper, tete de negre and black are the favorite colors for veils. The afternoon frocks have belts made of material rather than of ribbon.

THE FENCING CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, April 26—W. H. Russell, Boston Athletic Association won the National Dueling Swords Championship here last night, winning three straight bouts in the final. Sherman Hall Athletic Club, took the foil title with three victories and finished second in the Sabres contest, which was won by Arthur Lyon, of the Fencers Club New York. Lyon was second in the foil event and J. G. Schaeffer, New York Athletic Club, second in the Duelling swords contest.

BRIEF BUT USEFUL RECIPES.

Restore Gilt Frames.—Rub with a sponge moistened with turpentine.

Drive Away Ants.—A little quicklime placed in the infested places.

Kill Insect Life.—Burn sulphur in a tightly closed room. It will kill almost all insect life and their eggs and larvae.

Make Leather Waterproof.—Saturate it with castor oil; to stop shoes squeaking, drive a peg into the middle of the sole.

Clean the Hair.—Wash well with a mixture of soft water, 1 pint; sal soda 1 ounce; cream tartar ¼ ounce.

Remove Tar from Cloth.—Rub it well with turpentine till every trace is removed.

Egg Stains on Spoons.—Rub with common salt.

Fruit Stains on Hands.—Wash the hands in clear water, dry slightly and while still moist strike a sulphur match and hold your hands around the flame.

Clean Gloves.—Pour a little benzine into a basin and wash the gloves in it, rubbing and squeezing them until clean. If much soiled, they must be washed again through clean benzine and rinsed in a fresh supply. Hang in the air to dry.

Clean Hair Brushes.—Dissolve a little soda in warm water and pour in a small amount of ammonia. Hold the brushes with the bristles downward and avoid wetting the back as far as possible; shake until the grease is removed; then rinse in cold water and put in the air to dry.

Remove Stains from Linen.—Wet the part stained and lay on it some salt of wormwood; then rub without diluting it with more water.

How to Remove a Rusty Screw.—Apply a red hot iron to the head for a short time, the screw-driver being applied immediately while the screw is hot.

Remove Mildew from Cloth.—Put a teaspoonful of chloride of lime into a quart of water, strain it twice, then dip the mildewed places in this weak solution and lay in the sun. If not effective the first time repeat.

Cure Mosquito Bites.—Put ten drops of refined carbolic acid into an ounce of rose water; shake well and apply. (If you hold your breath while a mosquito has its bill in you it cannot withdraw it until you breathe again).

Hope springs eternal until the returns are all in.

The Oxford shoe topped by a ribbed stocking has no rival for street wear.

The pretty look at the hips once known as the extension skirt, is still seen.

Colored wooden beads take the place of buttons on fine vests of organdie.

Necklaces ending at the knees with jeweled pendants are fashionable.

Train effects are used in evening gowns, but the real trains have not yet arrived.

SANITATION ON THE FARM.

A wag who recently discussed present day attention to sanitation evidently believes that we may go to extremes even in the prosecution of a good thing. He waxes rhymingly thus:

We've bathed bossie's tootsies, we have cleaned the rooster's ears,

We've trimmed the turkey's wattles with antiseptic shears.

With talcum all the guinea-hens are beautiful and bright,

And Dobbin's wreath of gleaming teeth we've burnished snowy white.

With pungent sachet powder we've glorified the dog,

And when we have the leisure, we'll manure the hog.

We've done all in our power to have a barn de luxe;

We've soused the sheep in kresco dip; we've sterilized the ducks.

The little chicks are daily fed on sanitized worms,

The calves and colts are always boiled to keep them free from germs.

And thoroughly to carry out our prophylactic plan,

Next week with germicidal soap we'll wash the hired man.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL MOMENT.

The man who choice of language commands

May talk on all subjects at will;

But his wisdom excels if he understands

Just when and where to keep still.

The condition of Mr. Alexander Gibson of Marysville who has been seriously ill with pneumonia is much improved today.

Miss Maime Gibson and Miss Geraldine Reid are leaving Monday on a visit to Boston.

Drunkness is now punishable by death in Budapest. That's where "never again" comes true.
