THE WOMAN'S FRANCHISE
BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE

tion following dissolution, and to the possibility of a plebiscite on the question of Provincial Prohibition. As far as any assurance from himself concerning either matter was concerned, he could state that such was impossible. The dissolution of the House was a prerogative of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor. The matter of a prohibition plebiscite rested largely with the people of the province. If there was a well-defined popular demand that a plebiscite be held, it must be met. As far as he was concerned he must say that the matter rested there.

MR. MURRAY (Kings) said the stand taken by his hon. friend from St.
John County (Baxter) was a reasonable one. If there was a possibility or probability of either a general election or a prohibition plebiscite occurring in the present year, it would be well to go ahead with the preparation of the Female Voters' Lists. If there was a possibility or probability of these matters being postponed until after January 1st, the matter would be different. The House having expressed its willingness to extend the franchise to women, the latter should be given an opportunity of expressing their opinion. With that in view he believed that lists should be prepared at the earliest possible time. Otherwise he would avoid expense to province and municipalities by postponing the preparation until autumn when the ordinary voters' lists would be prepared. He realized that it could not be expected of the government to make an announcement on either of these matters.

HON. MR. ROBINSON said it must be understood by hon. members of the House that the Premier could give no assurance with regard to a general election or a plebiscite. Hon. members opposite must decide whether or not they were willing to take the chance.
Although he had no authority to make a statement, he could state that he believed that the women would get every chance to vote.

MR. TILLEY said the government must take the responsibility of cutting women out of the vote. If the period for the preparation of the female voters list were extended the responsibility rested on the government. If the government should be returned to power and the women not allowed to vote, they would never get back a second time.

MR. BURCHILL pointed out that May 9th was not far away. In towns and cities meetings of revisors could easily be held, but in the parishes the great majority of revisors were farmers, and at that time they would be very busy.

MR. BAXTER pointed out that qualifications of voters merely dated from May 9th. It was not necessary for the revisors to take very much time.

MR. BURCHILL said that that might be right, but the duties of revisors must be performed during a very busy season. His idea was to let the preparation of the lists go until the regular time. If that were done the government of course would be afraid to call on a general election, and would fall into the snare pointed out by the hon. member for St. John County.

MR. BAXTER said the government must be responsible. It was utterly impossible for hon. members on the other side to expect the opposition to consent to postponement not knowing what would take place.

HON. MR. FOSTER said that his position prevented him from making any announcement concerning an election, but as far as a prohibition plebiscite was concerned it was absolutely impossible for him to say when it would be held. His hon. friends opposite were as well qualified as the members of the government and their supporters, to gauge public opinion and state whether it would demand a vote on prohibition by autumn or after January next.

MR. BAXTER stated that the matter of a plebiscite was much more easily controllable than a decision concerning a general election. He could see that circumstances might arise which might compel a general election although such might not be contemplated at the present time. Something entirely unforeseen might arise. But the act under which prohibition was brought into effect stated plainly that a vote would not take place until twelve months after the end of the war. By that time it was expected that troops overseas would be returned. A majority of the returned soldiers were alleged to be out of sympathy with the Act enforced in the province, but it also could be stated that that opinion was challenged. It was expected that all troops would be returned by August next and it would be reasonable to suppose that the soldiers would be given a chance to settle down and form an opinion of the workings of the act. He could state that on the whole the government had allowed the act to be well enforced. Of course there were some unfortunate instances. Liquor certainly was being sold, but it could not be expected that a prohibitory act within a short time of going into effect would entirely stamp out the sale of liquor. The State of Maine furnished an instance, a prohibitory act enforced there being violated, although on the Statute Book for several generations, it would be easy enough for the government to decide when that vote would be taken.

MR. MCGRATH said there was no necessity of being in a hurry to force the franchise on women. He was not sure that they wanted it. In fact he believed there were districts in which 75 per cent of the women did not want to vote. He could see no need for haste or of putting the country in a panic and upsetting the revision of voters' lists to give the women the vote. Women had been without it for centuries and women of the preceding generation had not asked for it, yet no great calamity had occurred. He could not see why the expense of special female voters' lists should be incurred and the revisors taken from the plow to run around the country and put the names of all women on the lists. Prohibition was a different matter. Women probably were more anxious to vote on that than on matters of general politics. Then it must be remembered in connection with the prohibition plebiscite that the poor man is waiting for a chance to express his opinion and again put before him his glass of beer. Some of this suffering should be alleviated.

MR. SMITH (Carleton)—Then you are not in favor of having women vote on prohibition?

MR. MCGRATH—I am. You do not understand my position. I am considering the question pro and con. There is the question of which is the better, to alleviate the desire to restore the glass of beer or to meet the desire of women to use the ballot. Prohibition is a matter of intense interest to the majority of women.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS,
FEVERISH AND SICK

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can't cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

are in favor of the lists being prepared?

MR. MCGRATH—If a plebiscite is to be held.

MR. YOUNG expressed the opinion that the sections should stand as originally presented. He disagreed with the hon. member for Northumberland (Burchill) in regard to May 9 being an unsuitable date. He believed there would be plenty of time for the preparation of the lists. Whether there would be a plebiscite or not, the lists should be prepared.

HON. MR. BYRNE said there had been considerable expression of opinion on the part of hon. members of the House. In order to cut the discussion short he would move to strike out the sections relating to the preparations of lists.

MR. BAXTER asked that Form B. be dealt with.

HON. MR. BYRNE said it was practically provided for now.

MR. LEBLANC pointed out that the section relating to married women who were registered on the voters' lists in their maiden names, should be retained.

MR. SWEENEY said that with the franchise extended to women an effort should be made to have elections take place in fine weather.

MR. CAMPBELL said he wished to repeat what he had said previously that the preparation of special female voters' lists would entail useless expenditure. The government could take the risk of any election taking place before the ordinary list would be prepared in the autumn. He would vote as he had said.

MR. SMITH (Carleton) said that the motion meant the annihilation of the chance for women to vote until after the new year. Such action was absolutely wrong. If the House was going to tamper with the question in this manner, it might as well cut it out entirely. Women were keenly interested and a great injustice would be done them. The government had taken great credit for bringing down a bill extending the franchise, but this motion would practically withdraw the privilege.

The motion to amend the bill was carried.

No Humbug!
Lift Off Corns

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift a corn or callus off with fingers

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly, yes immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it out, root and all with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle.
It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle of your dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.
