THE DANCE TREATY.

Next to the peace treaty we have watched no negotiations with more interest than those for a modus vivendi between the dancing masters and the Methodist Church, says the Philadelphia Record. There are hopeful signs of a treaty of peace to result from mutual concessions, and the Record observes with pleasure the disposition on both side to reach an agreement.

The Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, like many others, but perhaps more sternly than some others, has maintained in its regulations severe condemnation of worldly amusements. Its authorities admit that many of these are not intrinsically harmful, but insist that their tendency is evil. "Tendency" is a very long arm. Amusements that have never been abused are not very amusing. If abuse of an amusement or a habit, an article of food or drink, for example, justifies its prohibition, it is a pretty drab life that humanity is reduced to. When the "new singing" was introduced into a Congregational church in Hartford, one of the deacons protested, not because the "new singing" was inherently ungodly, but because of its tendency. "If we sing by note," he said, "we shall soon pray by rote, and then comes Popery."

But the long arm has lost very much of its power. The lambs of the flock will frisk to music in spite of the shepherds, and the older members of the flock are decreasingly impressed with the argument from "tendency;" they are more and more disposed to judge things on their merits. A good many young Methodists dance, and a good many older ones do not object. Mahomet is less and less disposed to go to the mountain, and there it a growing feeling that the Mountain has got to go to Mahomet, or meet him half way, or there will be a permanent separation of Mahomet and the Mountain. Confident predictions are made that the Methodist rule against amusements will be repealed, or replaced by some sufficiently indefinite admonition to seemly behavior.

On the other side there is a commendable desire of the National Association of Dancing Masters to make concessions that would invite concessions from the churches. The shimie and several other varieties of dance are proscribed. There is to be no "tight holding." There must be at least two inches between them," announces a Baltimore dancing master. "We might tolerate one inch, but not a fraction closer." The dancing masters have made large concessions to the Methodist Episcopal Church and the next move, from the other side, is awaited with interest.

Moncton Transcript: Commodore Stewart, of the Chatham World, finds fault with the St. John newspapers, because of alleged defects in their reports of the recent Tory convention. The Commodore says it would have been better to have allowed the reporters to have remained, than for the convention to be subject to the proceedings being mangled from hearsay gossip. The Transcript is thoroughly in accord with the Commodore's criticism, but it wonders why the Commodore, who was present, does not himself give an accurate report of that which was said and done, instead of finding fault with those who did the best they could.

St. John Times: The automobile is a great convenience, but Hon. Mr. Veniot points out that it wears the surface of the roads and the wooden flooring of bridges as they never were worn in the old days of horse-drawn vehicles. The road department must reckon with this excessive wear, which adds to the cost of maintenance. The roads of the province have been greatly improved in the last two years, and this progressive policy will be continued. The people appreciate what has been done and what is planned for the future by Hon. Mr. Veniot's department.

Subscriptions for the Victory Loan are still rolling in and it will be several days yet before complete returns are available. It is believed that New Brunswick's total will pass the fifteen million dollar mark.

The New Brunswick Senators who voted for the six months' hoist on the Grand Trunk bill were Hon. Messrs. Thompson, King, Fowler, McSweeney and Domville. Hon. Messrs. Thorne, Daniel, Poirier and Todd voted for the bill.

RAILWAY PIONEER IN WEST DIES

the steel. He came into Alberta in 1886 and was the first engineer here, and was probably the best known man on the system. He drove a number of the famous trains but his special run was Calgary and Medicine Hat, and on this section he established a record for speed; a train known as the Great Waterways Special was made up and carrying bonds which had to reach the Old Country at a certain time, and it was necessary to catch the boat at New York. Mr. Bailey made his section of the trip in record time, and thus enabled the connection to be made.

Was at Gleichen for Time

His headquarters in the early days were at Gleichen, which was then railway headquarters and later at Medicine Hat, he then came to Calgary and resided here for 25 years. He received his pension in 1915 but nevertheless led an active life ever since.

Worked for Soldiers

Since his retirement his great hobby was for knitting socks for the soldiers. He had a knitting machine, and his ever industrious fingers turned out over 300 pairs of socks, all of which were sent overseas to our fighting boys in France.

So passes one of the historical figures, of the fast diminishing band of men that helped to open up the Canadian West, making it possible for thousands to make their home here.

Some Big Ones

Mr. John Inch of Tripp Settlement had some splendid chickens in the market this morning which tipped the scales at from ten to fourteen pounds a pair. They are some of the Barred Plymouth Rock Provincial government stock and the good condition they were in brought many comments from market-goers. They sold at 40 cents a pound.

Partnership Dissolved

A. D. Farrah, R. M. Faudel and Rosalie Farrah, members of the firm of R. M. Faudel & Co. carrying on a business of general merchants at New castle dissolved partnership by mutual consent on November 14th. All debts or liabilities of the partnership will be paid to R. M. Faudel who will carry on the business under the name of R. M. Faudel and Sons.

Held Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Fredericton Labor Council was held last evening at their rooms on Regent Street to consider the cooperative store suggestion. Nothing definite was reached and it was stated to the press this morning that nothing would be given out for publication.

DALHOUSIE OUTCLASSED ACADIA, 12-0

ONE GOAL, A FIELD GOAL AND A TRY TO NOTHING

3,000 People Saw the Game at Truro — Acadia Never Dangerous—Big Student Contingents.

Truro, Nov. 18.—Dalhousie defeated Acadia at football on the Athletic Grounds here this afternoon by a score of twelve to nothing, one goal, one field goal and one try to nil. The game was to have been for the intercollegiate championship of the Maritime Provinces, but recent moves on the part of the University of New Brunswick have placed matters in such shape that it is hard to say what today's game settled. U. N. B. having protested the game with Acadia and the protest having been allowed, another game between the Wolfville and Fredericton colleges must be played and in case U. N. B. wins, she will have an opportunity to play Dalhousie for the championship. If Acadia wins from U. N. B. no further games will be necessary and Dalhousie will have the championship.

Big Crowd

Today's game was witnessed by more than 3,000 people. The Dalhousie players and their friends came from Halifax at noon on a special train and the Acadia contingent occupied five passenger coaches, on the regular express over the Midland railway.

From the start the game was keenly contested and there were many tense moments, but it was soon apparent that Dalhousie had the superior team, the ball being kept in Acadia's territory almost throughout the game.

First Half

Acadia won the kick-off in the first half. A high wind was blowing from the south, giving considerable advantage to Dalhousie. Lilly, Dalhousie's fullback, dropped a goal from the field and H. Haslam brother of the Dalhousie captain scored on a pass, Baxendale to Fluck to Haslam, Fluck converted the try. The first half ended nine to nothing.

Second Half

When the second half began, the wind had died down considerably, but there were enough to be of substantial value to Acadia. The ball however was kept almost continually in Wolfville territory. Eight minutes before the game ended, a number of scrims began within six feet of Acadia line and both teams fought very hard. Just before the game ended, Fluck scored a try for Dalhousie, but failed to convert it, the ball falling short because of the wind.

After the game a friendly match was played between the second team of Dalhousie and the second team of Acadia, the latter winning by a score of three to nothing.

The line-up for the first game was: Dalhousie—Forwards, Marsters, MacKenzie, Campbell, Ernst, Moore, Hattie, McQuarrie; quarters, Baxendale, Ross, Jones; halves, Brent, Haslam (Capt), Fluck, H. Haslam, Holmes; fullback, Lilley. Acadia—Forwards, Bill, McLeod, Simms, Dobson, Atkinson, Wetmore, Steeves, quarters, Fraser, Ayle, Rogers; halves, Rogers (Capt), Tingley, Johnson, Beardsley; fullback, Parker.
