REAL COOPERATION.

A London cable says that real co-operations among American service organizations is an accomplished fact, and cites a concrete case to back up its statement. The London manager of the American Express Company recently called up the manager of the Y. M. C. A. Palace Hotel for officers and requested accommodation for a party of Knights of Columbus officers. The cable gives the following report of the interesting conversation which took place:

"I have a peculiar request to make of you," he said, "and I would not think of making it if there were any other recourse. You see, thirty-one Knights of Columbus men, on their way to France, landed in Liverpool this morning and wired me to find accommodations for them here for several days while they go through the necessary passport formalities. I have phoned virtually every hotel in London and every one is crowded. Of course, I know that the K. of C. men are your rivals, but I thought under the circumstances the Y. M. C. A. might be hospitable until they can get accommodations elsewhere."

"My dear sir," answered the Y. M. C. A. man, "you are totally wrong about any rivalry between us. We work in the most hearty co-operation and good fellowship. Send them up here and I will gladly take care of them for their entire stay in London, for I am sure that they would do the same for any party of 'Y' secretaries if the conditions were reversed."

THE TIN HELMET.

An American soldier recently wrote home in praise of his tin hat as the most useful and convenient part of his whole equipment. It was his best friend in the field and he was determined to bring it home with him for use and ornament at his happy fire-side. And now it appears that the public estimate of the helmet is as high as the doughboy's; and the government of France has just announced that each soldier is to keep his helmet as a permanent souvenir of the part he played so well during the war. The families of those brave men who did not come back from the field are each to receive a helmet, its visor engraved with the man's name and grade and this inscription:

"Soldier of the Great War 1914-1918."

Thus the modern steel helmet, devised to meet the savagery of German attack, has come into its high recognition. It has been derided as a "tin hat," it has been the butt of much small wit of the non-combatant, but we have never heard a soldier speak of it save in terms of warmest affection. To be sure, it is usually called a "tin hat" by the doughboy, but there is no scorn in the words. He values it at its true worth, and its only drawback seems to be that he cannot pin his insignia upon it.

There's no question at all, says an American exchange, that, other things being equal, cows give more milk, hens lay more eggs, meat animals are cheaper to raise in a mild winter than in a severe one. Because of a lesser demand for coal cars, food transportation is facilitated. In the Middle and Northern States there is, of course, no grazing of cattle in any winter that amounts to anything. But in Texas and Oklahoma, in Louisiana and the other Gulf States, there may be grazing the year around, and with feed at from $60 to $70 a ton it makes a vast difference whether there is grazing or not. There was little anywhere last winter. Then the supply of fish foods is plentiful and reliable when the winter is not too cold, for blustery weather hampers deep sea fishermen and a severe winter will freeze many lakes and rivers that provide many fish in the milder winters.

Concerning the sudden death of Lieut. G. R. McCord, D. S. O., the Sackville Tribune says: "In the tragic death of George Rankine McCord, Sackville has lost a loyal and honored citizen; the legal profession a brilliant representative; the Maritime Provinces a worthy man well qualified for big tasks. He had few equals in eastern Canada as a scholar, a student, a speaker, a lawyer, a writer. A fearless and faithful friend, George McCord was a type of man who was worthy of admiration and praise. He was not perfect—no man is—but those who knew him best respected him most highly and recognized in him qualities that go to make a true and steadfast friend."

St. John Times: Hon. E. A. Smith appears to have been successful in his effort to get the Federal authorities to take such action as will make easier the task of forest protection from fire along government railway lines. This province now has one of the best forest protection laws in force anywhere on the continent. The Foster government has made good in this as in all other respects.

Montreal Gazette: "Reductions in food prices on the market are being reflected in the retail stores of the city, the cuts being quite substantial in some instances. This is a tendency which may be expected to continue. The average consumer is getting relief at last."

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Daylight saving is getting more notice than daylight saving.

No one has so far suggested daylight saving stamps.

It's great to have a mayor not too proud to fight a red herring.

In this world of strife a man must be either an anvil or a hammer.

When it comes to a matter of something for dinner, even the goldfish is a poor fish.

A girl's dearest girl friend is apt to be the one she has known less than two weeks.

A man gets lots of things he doesn't want in this world, and a woman wants a lot of things she doesn't get.

No matter how positive a woman may be of anything, she is seldom willing to bet money on it.

The girl who ran away and was married because she was spanked by her parents may or may not come back home, voluntarily and ask for another spanking.

So far as we are able to discover, the bourgeoisie are afraid of everything but soap. Still, that is something, it distinguishes them from the proletariat, which is afraid only of soap, and the capitalists, who are afraid only of the proletariat.

PLANS FOR MEM. HOSPITAL

submitted his report upon the hospital accounts for the year 1918, and he found everything correct and satisfactory.

A letter was read from Mr. Frank T. Brown setting forth the need for a change in the acetylene plant at the hospital. He claims the plant is not powerful enough for the work required of it. This matter has been in the hands of a committee for some time and a regeneration will, no doubt be shortly effected.

Board of Health Complaint

A communication was read from the Secretary of the local Board of Health finding much fault with the hospital for sending in a bill for use of the ambulance and services of the nurses. In reply the Secretary-Treasurer was directed to inform the Secretary of the Board of Health that the hospital will accept as payment in full, the amount charged and collected from patients who were brought to the emergency hospital. Victoria Public Hospital acting upon the advice of the medical staff, cannot admit the patients to the hospital, neither can the institution afford to pay for the use of the ambulance for persons who are able and do pay.

New Trustees

As a result of the report of a committee through the president, the Board proceeded to appoint a Trustee to succeed the Hon. Mr. Justice Crockett, whose term of office as Trustee and also as president expired with the year. In arranging for a successor the Board unanimously appointed Lt. Col. T. G. Loggie to the vacancy. The selection will no doubt be well received. The Colonel and Mrs. Loggie have long been warm friends of the institution.

It has been decided to issue very soon the annual report of the hospital for the information of a generous public. In the preparation of the report Dr. Keirstead has kindly consented to supply copy for an important portion of the publication.

Held Monthly Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Graham L. O. L. was held last evening and the routine business was carried out. One of the members was advanced to a higher degree.

Fourteen Discharges Given.

About fourteen men were discharged from further military service at the District Depot this morning, and are leaving this afternoon and evening for their homes in various parts of the province.

ANNUAL REPORT CHIEF OF POLICE

files afflicted by the prevalence of influenza in our City and Town of Devon the school attendance has been very small during the past four months, which is responsible for the increased number of children on our streets, with the result that we have had several cases of petty larceny committed chiefly by boys living in the Town of Devon.

I am pleased to report that our City has been practically free from serious crime during the past year, and I trust that at the close of the year 1919 we will be able to look back at even a better record for the year that we are now entering.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of your Commission for the advice, and assistance given to me during the year. I wish also to thank the Mayor, and Aldermen of the Common Council, as well as the City Treasurer, and Citizens in general, for the many courtesies extended to me, and the individual members of the Force, and I trust that these pleasant relations may continue between the police, and our citizens during the years to come, so that their best interests may be served.

Thanking you again, Gentlemen, I beg to remain,

Yours respectfully,

W. H. FINLEY,

Chief of Police for the City of Fredericton.

Meeting of Publicity Committee

A meeting of the Publicity Committee of the Fredericton Board of Trade is called for Thursday evening for organization purposes. The chairman and officers of the committee will be elected.

Steadily Improving

Mr. H. M. McMonagle who was lately removed from the emergency hospital to his home at Forest Hill is now steadily improving in health. He seemed to be greatly cheered by the news that his birds had carried off many prizes at the recent poultry show.

The One-eyed Doe

A doe having lost the sight of one eye always kept near the water's edge with her good eye towards the land in order to watch out for hunters. But some men in a boat slipped up on her blind side and killed her.

There is a lesson in this for the property owner. Misfortune generally strikes from an unexpected source. Unless you are fully protected your property isn't safe. The old Hartford offers complete protection of the safest kind. Let us explain some of the kind of protection you need.
