

WHEN WILL HUNS CEASE TO BE HUNS?

(From the Brooklyn Eagle)

A British weekly has created a mild sensation by calling attention to the fact that since Germany is now nominally a friendly nation it is about time for the British press to stop calling Germans Huns and Boches. Sooner or later, when the Senate decides upon action on the Peace Treaty, we will be faced by a similar situation and it will be necessary to decide when to drop these appellations in speaking of the erstwhile enemy.

The editor who raised this question in England made it clear that he was not actuated by sympathy for the Germans, but insisted that politeness would demand the substituting of milder words than Boche and Hun. We can allow no one to exceed us in politeness, so we may be expected gradually to modify our designations. The really important thing for the Huns and for the rest of the world is for the time to arrive when civilization will cease to think of the Germans as Huns. That depends upon the Germans themselves and they have no greater task than that of rehabilitating their name. Unless a beginning is soon made this will take longer than the paying of indemnities or the restoration of their industries.

DEFEAT OF THE TURKS A TRIUMPH FOR DEMOCRACY

Jerusalem and Damascus Now in the Hands of Christian Nations—Constantinople No Longer the Capital of a Filthy Mahommedanism—Santa Sophia will be Restored—Dardanelles to Become a Highway of Commerce.

Among the happy rejoicings of these victory days we are inexpressibly glad that the war did not end until the unspeakable Turk was well started down the toboggan of defeat toward the bottomless pit, writes Dr. Charles Edward Locke. It is a mighty triumph for democracy. With Jerusalem and Damascus in the hands of the Christians, and with Constantinople no longer desecrated as the capital of a filthy Mohammedanism, the foul Turk is now getting his long-delayed deserts. Constantinople was named for a zealous Christian prince. It was made the imposing headquarters of the Greek church, and a beautiful temple was built in the year 537 by Justinian which is so stately and gorgeous that this proud builder on the dedication day exclaimed: "O Solomon, I have surpassed thee!"

But in 1455 the city was captured by the sacrilegious and infidel Saracens, and for 435 years it has been the center of Moslem worship and propaganda. It is beautifully situated on the western slopes of the Bosphorus and looks out upon the picturesque Marmora. Justinian's minister grand was transformed into a Moslem mosque. All the altars and crosses and frescoes and insignia of Christianity were ruthlessly removed and for nearly five centuries, instead of the worship of the most high God resounding beneath a wonderful dome which Michael Angelo said was like a part of the heavens brought down to earth, it has been the scene of Mohammedan mummeries and semi-pagan idolatry.

With the victories of this war, no doubt magnificent Santa Sophia will be restored and once again the praises of Christ will resound through sanctuary and cloister; and the marvelous fresco of Jesus and his disciples in the high dome, which for centuries has been concealed behind the incrustations of a detestable Moslemism, will once again utter its inspiring and artistic messages to reverent Christian worshippers. The overthrow of the Turk is not only a triumph of democracy but it is likewise a mighty victory for the truth and justice which are interpreted to the world by the gospel of the Son of God and the Son of Man, Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

Until the savage Prussian Hun appeared the Turk had conferred upon him the ignominy of being the most brutal degenerate of all human history. A religion of lust, re-enforced by the bloody scimitar, the Turk cut his way through human bodies to an ignoble place of power in Europe and Asia and his murderous hate venting itself on the defenceless Christians.

RELICS AND THE UNFIXED PRICE

(New York World)

A Vermont parson has just paid in Boston $57.50 for a bed in which in 1860 there slept the visiting Prince of Wales, who long afterward became Edward VII. Perhaps the reverend purchaser will find a sermon in his bargain. It is of record that a John Wesley bedstead of oak brought $700 in an auction-room not so many years ago.

In Paris, too, at auction in 1907, there was knocked down for $200 the very carriage in which had been driven to the Elysee, to the Opera and to the Theatre Francaise not only the Czar of All the Russias but the sovereigns of Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Norway. And, moreover, the Shah.

Collectors and the vanity of vanities. There went once $7,500 for a chair in which Washington and Jackson had sat; $4,500 for a letter from Mary, Queen of Scots; $600 for the bath in which Marat died. Ret the manuscript of the report to the Congress on the treason of Benedict Arnold brought on sale but $2250.

MARYSVILLE NINE BEAT OLD TIMERS

Game Was Loosely Played—The Score 8 to 1—Williams Given Poor Support.

The Marysville nine won easily from the Old Timers last evening in a four inning baseball game at the Trotting Park by a score of eight to one. In the first inning of play the Marysville team assumed the lead by putting around three runs with two out. In their turn at bat the Old Timers could not find the ball at all and were retired in one-two-three order. In the second and third innings of play the Marysville team was held down by good fielding though several good hits were made. Wheeler for the Old Timers got around the bases in the last of the second inning for the only run scored by his team. In the last of the fourth the Old Timers remained with only one run to their credit, being cut out of a probable third run by a snappy double play. In the first of the fourth inning Marysville found no difficulty in hitting Williams and ran in five runs making the score eight to one.

Williams pitched a good game but received poor support while McPherson for Marysville was in excellent shape and was given good support. Eleven hits were made off Williams and three off McPherson, Wheeler getting two of his team's three hits. The line-up was as follows:

Marysville	Old Timers	McDonald	3rd Base	Paynter
McLean	Catcher	McDonald	Collett	Short Stop	Wheeler
E. McPherson	Pitcher	Williams	Walker	Right Field	Kitchen
Cain	1st Base	Scott	Boyce	Centre Field	Kenney
