Regina Leader: "The people of the West have every reason to organize 'to the limit and rise in their might' in opposition to Robert Rogers. He 'has been the worst enemy of Canada' and more particularly of Western 'Canada, that ever secured a place of 'influence and power in the public life 'of this country. Looking over the 'years that he occupied a position in 'the government of Manitoba, the people of that province can today partly 'realize what his ascendancy there 'meant to them and how the whole 'political life of that Province was 'lowered to a plane which made Manitoba a by-word among the provinces. 'The people there, by painful experience of their own financial problems, know of the results of his reckless administration."

COLLEGE TRAINING.

For many a youth with the ambition for a college education, but without the power to attain to it, that achievement has seemed the greatest thing under heaven to be desired. Many a man, having passed school age, has made the resolve that, if he accomplished no other great end in life than to send his children to college, that much at least he would do.

One may go now to almost any small college or great university in the country and find students who have come to college as the great adventure of life. For this end they have labored hard and denied themselves pained pleasures. In these colleges are farm boys who, because they could not be spared to attend preparatory school, carried books with them about the field, committing to memory dates, declensions and conjugations as they followed plow or harrow. To students like this, college days are days of tremendous uplift, days that bring new thrills every morning, thrills that remain as a permanent inspiration ever after.

The Minneapolis Tribune points out that Henry Adams, son of Ambassador Charles Francis Adams, grandson of President John Quincy Adams, and great-grandson of President John Adams, born under the shadow of Harvard College, always expected as a lad to attend that school, and did attend it for four years. Fifty years after graduation he deliberately wrote regarding his experiences there: "The entire work of the four years could have been easily put into the work of any four months of after life." Of his own work as a teacher at Harvard in after years he said he spent his time "teaching young men things they did not care to learn nor need to know." Harvard gave him no thrill. To him it was commonplace; the college, he said, had little to give him but social standing, and that he already had because of his birth. He had thrown away three and a half years of the best part of his life in the then greatest college in America.

Now, Henry Adams undoubtedly became a better scholar and public speaker than the average college boy, or the average boy who learned his Latin between the plow handles and who passed through college as through an enchanted palace. But Adams got no thrills and judging by the tone of his autobiography, he never in his long life gave anybody else any thrills worth mentioning. Henry Adamses are a substantial element in the human economy, but they are not the men who shock mortals out of their poor estate and lift them to higher things. It is the man with a thrill who does that.

Henry Adams was born on a pedestal, says the Tribune, and a pedestal is a poor place for a baby; nor is it any better for a boy or college student. Other things being equal, the nearer to the common soil babe and boy and youth can vegetate, the greater will be his chance when a man of seeing visions and leading others to see them. Noble birth must be taken nobly, or it greatly dulls the joy of living and the power of giving joy to others.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works, will visit Ottawa this week to confer with Mr. W. A. Campbell, Dominion Good Roads Commissioner, in regard to road improvement. A Federal grant for roads is to be made to the several provinces and Hon. Mr. Veniot will make recommendations to the commissioner in regard to the expenditure of New Brunswick's share.

Hon. T. W. Gregory, Attorney General of the United States for six years, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson and it has been accepted. "Pecuniary responsibilities of a substantial nature" are given as a reason for his action. Secretary McAdoo resigned from the cabinet for a similar reason.

Paderewski, the famous musician and Polish leader, was shot and slightly wounded by a Bolshevik assassin a few days ago. Those implicated in the plot to kill him have been arrested. Paderewski is recognized as the greatest living pianist and is foremost Polish patriot.

The London Daily Express has analyzed the list of Victoria Cross winners and finds that Canada has sixty-two, of whom slightly over a half are not natives of the Dominion. Canada claims twenty-eight as natives, United Kingdom twenty-seven, England having twelve, Scotland ten, and Ireland the rest. Eight of the English batch were born in or near London.

Boston Transcript:—"The five socialists found guilty at Chicago of violating the espionage law are named Berger, Germer, Kreuz, Engdahl and Tucker. It sounds as if the first four, in speaking with the last of the quintet might be put to the trouble of translating their thoughts into English."

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., the well known publicist, in commenting on the British election, says that it left a headache and that the victors are no happier than the vanquished over the result.

Do you remember those quaint old-fashioned days when recipes used to read "fry in butter."

A young rooster always makes a better sound when frying than when trying to crow.

Up to the time the Kaiser got busy Moses was the only man in history who broke all the Ten Commandments at once.

Now that Christmas is over there is nothing much to worry about but how to make your salary cover the cost of living.

During courtship a man tells her he can't live without her, but after marriage he often discovers that he can't live with her.

The biographer of a successful man begins, "When a boy he worked on his uncle's farm." No affidavit is needed with that statement. If he was on his uncle's farm he worked all right.

There ought to be a department in the casualty lists showing the names of the noble heroes who are about to bring French wives home to a critical array of female relatives.

Dorothy Dix says a woman must keep up with her husband. But she needn't sit up for him; that causes her to lose sleep and him to lose his temper.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR FREIGHT

Montreal, Jan. 15—If the Maritime Provinces want to get in any supplies from the more westerly parts of Canada now is their opportunity" according to the Canadian Railway War Board "Great Britain having embargoed roughly eighty per cent of her usual imports from Canada, there is now very little export traffic moving to St. John and Halifax. Ordinarily it is so heavy as to make domestic traffic hard to handle. The domestic traffic should be pressed through now while there is plenty of room for it."

DECADENT DEADBEATS.

It's in the blood. Some families are born deadbeats. A newspaper man knows this perhaps better than anybody. Parents, daughters, sons, uncles and aunts, wherever located, deadbeat the newspaper as long as they can and then repudiate the debt or alter their address. Other families are honest to a cent. No matter where located the check or post-office order comes right along for subscription to their paper, year after year. The families who sponge their papers cheat their grocer, owe their shoemaker, don't pay for the meat they eat, and steal their fuel. Poor neighbors and hum citizens—anyway you take them.

STOMACH SO BAD THOUGHT HE WOULD DIE CAN EAT ANYTHING NOW

But for indigestion and dyspepsia, many a life might be a pleasant one. The misery which stomach troubles cause the sufferer knows only too well and any one who has suffered knows what joy it would give to be able to eat three good meals a day and not be punished for it after.

Nearly everything that enters a weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.

Before you can eat heartily, and not pick and choose your food, you must put your stomach right so that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For forty years now Burdock Blood Bitters has been making weak stomachs strong, and permanently curing severe cases of indigestion and dyspepsia that other remedies were powerless to reach.

Mr. H. L. Fairweather, Cumberland Bay, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with my stomach for two years and sometimes was so bad I thought I would die. I tried everything I ever heard tell of, and had medicine from three doctors, but continued to grow worse. One day I read of some wonderful cures made with Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles, I could eat any kind of food without any bad effects, and by the time I had taken four I was in perfect health."

CLERGYMEN WON FAVOR IN THE WAR

London Jan. 14—The war has taught lesson to the clergyman as well as to the layman.

Those priests and parsons who donned khaki and went "over there" to tend their flock have learned how best to influence the men; one padre, for instance, found it was no use exhorting them to "come and pray," so instead he stuck a notice outside his door saying, "Come in and risk meeting the padre," and they came.

Padres frequently were seen wandering round the camps with a Bible in one hand and a box of cigarettes in the other, for they learned that Tommy, in his extremity, asked not for prayers, but for a smoke and companionship. Armed with the necessary "smoke" it became easy to give Tommy the right kind of companionship.

Hundreds of men who, before the war, had no good word to speak for clergyman, are now enthusiastic in their praise of the padres, whom they realize to be men like themselves—men with a sense of humor, of patriotism and of courage.

When they all get back home the bond between clergyman and laymen will be strengthened by the memory of the "padre" who so often succeeded in getting his men on to the right track.

TO PROSECUTE SOME Y. M. C. A. DEFAULTERS

Paris, Jan. 14—It became known today that three Young Men's Christian Association workers are under arrest in Paris, charged with defalcation of funds of the association. The men are George Schoeffel, former secretary of the chamber of commerce of Rochester (N. Y.); the Rev. D. Atkins, of Eagle Pass, Texas, and—Mansfield, said to have been a former secretary of the Sailor's Union of New York city.

The total amount alleged to have been misappropriated approximates $38,940, most of which has been recovered.

The Y. M. C. A. has asked the army to prosecute these cases to the limit, and to impose the full penalty. The military court-martial will begin during the present week.
