LINCOLN'S FAMOUS GETTYSBURG
SPEECH APPLICABLE TO FLANDERS

On November 19, 1863, a part of the battlefield of Gettysburg was set aside as a cemetery, where monuments to the soldiers who fell there might be set up. Abraham Lincoln dedicated the field in the following eloquent utterances:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

HERE AND THERE IN OLD NEW YORK

(New York Sun)

Some of the collectors in the various drives that have swept New York might well have benefited by a study of the psychology of approach. Perhaps the best asset along this line is an assurance of success, with its various applications.

Yesterday the Woman met a man friend near Madison Square and discerned on him a guilty expression. "Do I look like an easy mark?" he asked in reply to her probing. "Over on Fourth Avenue, a while ago, a little girl ran up to me gave me a casual once over and said confidently: 'Your a good sport aren't you?' 'What do you want?' I asked. 'Mister, could you give me some pennies—we're going to have a party for the babies on Third Avenue and we want to buy them some milk. Well I produced sufficient for a gill or two and went on. Now I'm wondering whether she was not just providing herself with the wherewithal to purchase admission to a 'movie'!" Probably said the Woman. They walked on together, when suddenly they heard: "Oh Mister!" and their glance fell upon a little girl approaching them. But the appraising look in her eye changed to one of recognition, and she exclaimed: "Here's my good old sport again!" turned and fled. "Well, if it is ice cream cones," murmured the man, "she ought to have a big tummy ache just about now. 'How much did you give her?' demanded the Woman. "Quarter." "The Lord loveth an easy mark," quoth she.

"A Sower Went Forth to Sow"

He is a clergyman in the suburbs, and at Sunday dinner, a fellow guest with the Woman of one of his parishioners he discussed his trials as an amateur gardener. His spinach had mildewed and various remedies were proposed and discussed. Of course the weather was blamed from every angle as fervently as an antagonist of the Administration blames the President for every mistake made by the United States during the war and since.

And then came his saddest hard luck story, the failure of his potato crop. Not one succulent tuber had raised its head in the air, though planted long enough to have provided hundreds of potato bugs with nourishment. "Where did you get your potatoes?" queried the Senior Warden of his spiritual adviser. "At the market," came the reply; "and I bought the very newest they had!"

Strictly Neutral

The seamstress had come to repair the ravages of the Woman's wardrobe. War economy and patriotic giving had made her dispense with Charlotte's services for a long time, and she had not seen that invaluable person since

SKIN TIGHTS
ARE BARRED

(Boston Globe)

One-piece bathing suits are henceforth barred at South Boston beaches and woe will wait upon the male or female who appears after today in the "skin-tights," so called along the Peninsular water front.

Park-recreation department officials made the above ruling to police officials of South Boston who called yesterday to inquire regarding department regulations along these lines.

Even municipal lifeguards will be forced to make a change or to yield their jobs if they abridge the rules, Sec. D. J. Byrne of the Park-Recreation Commission said. At L. st., where men and women bathers are segregated the new ruling will not apply of course. Men bathers at L. st. are permitted to wear trunks only.

Sec. Byrne said that outside those Lst. beaches, it will not be insisted that women shall wear stockings.

SATISFYING
A JUDGMENT

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—On the application of Sister Mary Basil, of Kingston, an order has been made by Mr. Justice Sutherland attaching shares in the Capital Trust Company, standing in the name of Archbishop Michael Joseph Spratt, against whom the Sister had a judgment for heavy damages. By the attachment order the company is restrained from dealing with the shares until further steps have been taken to satisfy the judgment.

MISSED HER TRAIN

Alton, Ill., Aug. 1.—A woman waited at the union station here yesterday two hours for the Big Four flyer. Then she inquired and learned she had missed it. The flyer made its last trip two years ago.

GUILTY OF ASSASSINATION

A man, razor in hand, was caught by his wife assassinating not an enemy but a corn—what he needed was Putnam's Corn Extractor; it's safe, painless and sure. Try "Putnam's"—cures so fast, 25c. at all dealers.

New Canadian Pacific Director

Captain the Hon. W. J. Shaughnessy
(On left) taking the bad air from his dug-out with a captured machine made for the purpose.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway held on June 16th, Captain the Hon. William J. Shaughnessy was elected a director of the company to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of the Hon. James Dunsmuir, of Victoria, B.C.

Captain Shaughnessy is the son of the Right Hon. Lord Shaughnessy, who was for nineteen years the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is now the Chairman of the Board. Educated at Laval University, Montreal, and Cambridge, England, Capt. Shaughnessy is a prominent Montreal lawyer. During the war he saw three years' service overseas, leaving Canada as Captain and Adjutant of the 199th Irish Rangers, recruited in Montreal, and was in charge of the arrangements for the battalion's notable tour of Ireland.

On the breaking up of the Irish Rangers, he was sent to France as aide-de-camp to Brigadier-General Simms, the Canadian representative at British General Headquarters. After serving with considerable distinction in this capacity for some time, Captain Shaughnessy was transferred to the headquarters of the Canadian Corps, acting as aide-de-camp to Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Currie, the corps commander.
