FRUIT GROWING INDUSTRY.

In a vigorous plea for the development of the fruit growing industry in Canada, Mr. G. W. Echlin, writing in the Farmer's Magazine, declares that with the development of the canning industry fruit growers have suddenly become aware that what was once a hobby is now a great national asset of untold commercial value. He contends that probably no other agricultural pursuit is destined to reach such a dignified and important level as that of fruit growing. "It is a certainty," he says, "that the farmers of Ontario are not awake to one of the golden opportunities of the age when they neglect to plant new orchards each year or care for those they already have. Little more than one-third of the fruit canned in the Dominion is home-grown. About forty thousand bushels of pears alone will be imported into Canada from as far west as the state of Washington this year, so that the orders of the canneries can be filled. It would appear that there is nothing short of a criminal short-sightedness on the part of farmers to allow such a state of affairs to exist long.

"Nine times out of ten, when one opens a can of strawberry jam or preserves from the Canadian factory, the fruit has come from Maryland, or some of the other southern states. Thousands of tons of strawberries are yearly imported into Canada for canning purposes, buyers starting early for the scene of the southern crops so as to be on the ground when the fruit is at its best. Every time the customer purchases a can of this fruit he pays for these expensive trips of the canner buyers, as well as the duty on the goods and the excess price which such foreign berries naturally bring. As high as $10 per crate was paid this year for strawberries imported."

A further incentive to fruit growing is provided in the energetic campaign now being conducted for public support of the home market. The Canadian Trade Commission recently made a particular appeal to the women of Canada to support home industries. In doing so it submitted a partial list of commodities imported into Canada from the United States, including the following:

Green apples.....	$1,580,000
Berries.....	685,000
Cherries.....	107,000
Plums and prunes.....	1,227,000
Cranberries.....	102,000
Grapes.....	441,000
Peaches.....	496,000
Quinces, apricots, pears, etc.	691,000
Total.....	$5,177,000

TORY PAPER'S DEMISE.

The Toronto Saturday Night publishes the following obituary on the Toronto Times, a blatant Tory paper which recently suspended publication: "That newspaper waif, the Toronto Times, formerly the News, is dead. It died on the doorstep, so to speak. The poor orphan took a sudden chill, due to lack of financial sustenance, and the end came quickly. Having no friends, there were no mourners, save the staff, the members of which are now busily engaged in obtaining other jobs. The moral pointed by the collapse of the Times is not far to seek. As a political organ it was discredited and distrusted. It apparently had no owners and no policy save to truckle in season and out to the so-called Conservative party. Its orders came from somewhere, but from whom and in whose special interest no one seemed to know. So far as the reading public is concerned, the Times was looked upon with distrust. Under nameless leadership the Times, and for a long period the News before it, specialized in party politics. The whole publication being of an anonymous character—with no father, mother or even a grand aunt to do it reverence—there was clearly no reason for being anything but slavishly subservient to the moods and whims of its unidentified owners. Whoever they were, they paid the piper and called the tune.

"I am writing you to tell you that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. This medicine relieved me when I had given up hope of ever being well. I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good. I read about 'Fruit-a-tives'; and tried them. After taking a few boxes, I am now entirely well. You have my permission to publish this letter, as I hope it will persuade other sufferers from Dyspepsia to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and get well."

MADAME ROSINA FOISIZ:

Fredericton poultrymen exhibited at the exhibitions this month at Woodstock, Chatham and Fredericton, and had no difficulty in capturing the big end of the prize list at all three shows. As a poultry raising centre this city now leads all New Brunswick.

The fact that the C. P. R. authorities value seventeen miles of road from Westfield to St. John at $3,000,000, would seem to indicate that the Dominion government will have a task of some magnitude on its hands if it ever undertakes to acquire the system.

Those who paid a visit to all four exhibitions held in New Brunswick this fall do not hesitate to declare that the Fredericton show was by long odds the best of all.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Facts is facts.
Laughter is a habit.
My home is my club.
Anything dear "is cheap."
Hotels are full of rumors.
It is personality that counts.
Lizards' livers are out of season.
Fire plugs are not made to chew.
Never park your car in the attic.
An Adam's apple is not good to eat.
Every dentist has got a pull with some one.
A marriage license only applies to human beings.
Carrying an overcoat in summer is equal to taking gasoline to a fire.
It is almost time for the frost to get on the pumpkin.
There were a lot of profiteers in evidence during exhibition week and they were not big fellows either.
The alleged discovery of a coal mine in New Maryland has not this far affected the price of fuel.

The best way to get an enhanced opinion of Fredericton is to visit some other provincial towns.

Buckwheat is a bumper crop this year but whew, it costs more than flour.

Perhaps it will be just as well if the Prince of Wales does not see some of the pictures of him which have been going the rounds of the newspapers.

UNVEILING OF TABLET

of Responsible Government and Free Institutions. They meant very little to us then but as we grew older we observed as well as you how gloriously Canadians rose to defend those principles. No one among all of those who fought for them showed more courage than some of these Fredericton High School students who have given their lives at an early age that these principles of Free Institutions and Responsible Government might live. I can state and give examples to prove this fact as I served on the exemption tribunal and had several instances of the brave spirits of the High School boys rise before me. One of these appeared and stated that he had enlisted but his parents were trying to pull him out and he asked that I use my authority to keep him in the army. How more can the spirit of the High School boy be shown than by this one example of his wish to fight for the principles of justice and right. May this tablet be a constant reminder of the fact that you High School students are a very important part of the community and that we who have gone before you ask you to keep up those principles which these brave students have died for."

Following Judge Limerick's address a very excellent solo was rendered by Miss Edna Baird.

Other Addresses

Mr. H. H. Hagerman and Judge William Wilson were both called upon to give short addresses. They referred to the good reputation that the school had obtained and wished the present students to put their efforts where they were most needed and always keep before them the self-sacrifices of those who had given their lives in order that institutions such as the Fredericton High School might live. Mr. Hagerman as a teacher of the class of '99 referred to the class as an excellent one and said that only such a class could have borne such an idea as making the presentation.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.
