THE ONTARIO ROUT.

The Ontario government, the only Tory provincial administration in Canada, was let down with a terrible thud by the electors of that province yesterday. It was one of the greatest political overturns in the history of the Dominion, and comes as a big surprise to the people of the country. At dissolution the Hearst government had 77 supporters in a House of 111 members. Yesterday it succeeded in electing 24 members, which with four returned by acclamation, gives a total of 28. The Liberals had 30 members in the House when it dissolved, and yesterday they came back with 29 and one independent. Tory Toronto triumphantly elected the Liberal leader, Mr. H. H. Dewar, K. C., along with four supporters, thus furnishing one of the big surprises of the campaign.

The United Farmers' organization, which has been active in Ontario for three years, carried off the honors in yesterday's voting. They had 64 candidates in the field and elected 41 of them, with several constituencies still in doubt. As the U. F. O. are strongly against the government, it is not unlikely that they will join hands with Mr. Dewar in forming a new administration.

The labor interests took an active part in yesterday's contest and were successful quite beyond anticipations. They had twenty candidates in the field in cities and industrial centres, and succeeded in electing eleven of them. A labor man had the distinction of administering a smashing personal defeat to Premier Hearst in the Soo, while another took the political scalp of Sir Adam Beck, of Hydro-Electric fame, in London city.

Four members of the Hearst cabinet, known as "The Seven Sleepers of Queens Park," were overwhelmingly defeated, the list comprising Sir Wm. Hearst, Prime Minister; Hon. Mr. Lucas, Attorney General; Hon. W. D. Macpherson, Provincial Secretary, and Hon. T. W. McGarry, Provincial Treasurer. It will not be an easy matter for these men to secure seats in the new House and their early retirement from public life may be expected.

While the returns from the referendum are still incomplete, it is certain that the Prohibitory Act was sustained by an overwhelming majority. Most of the large cities gave majorities against prohibition, but rural constituencies in almost every instance gave it a strong support.

The Tory administration routed at the polls yesterday, had held office for fifteen years. The last election was in June, 1914, when the government then led by the late Sir James Whitney, a strong and capable man, was sustained by a majority of over fifty. Sir James retired soon afterwards and Hon. Frank Cochrane, the Tory boss of the province, installed Sir William Hearst in his place. The Hearst government lost a number of by-elections including a Toronto constituency which in 1916 returned Mr. Dewar to the Legislature. Mr. Dewar fought the government tooth and nail, and in 1917 was one of a few members to vote against the motion to extend the life of the Legislature until the close

RHEUMATISM FOR OVER 16 YEARS

No Return Of The Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

103 CHURCH ST., MONTREAL.
"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good. Then I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives', and in 15 days the pain was easier and the Rheumatism much better. Gradually, 'Fruit-a-tives' overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this fruit medicine to all sufferers."

of the war.

The Liberal leader made a gallant fight against tremendous odds. It will be recalled that it was he who accompanied Sir Wilfrid Laurier on his tour of the West during the Federal Campaign of 1917. For this he was roundly abused by the Tory flag-flappers and ultra-loyalists of Ontario and elsewhere. He was roundly denounced as a traitor to the Empire, and returned soldiers were called upon to vote against him, but his triumphant return in a populous Toronto constituency, where the khaki vote numbered thousands, shows that little heed was paid to the canvasses used against him. Mr. Dewar comes back stronger than before, and will undoubtedly be called upon to form and lead a new administration.

The result of yesterday's election indicates quite clearly that the Tory party in Ontario has about reached the end of its tether. For years it held office by working the loyalty cry, and playing on the passions and prejudices of the people. With the active support of the whiskey barons, a powerful organization was built up which controlled many votes in the large cities, while the farmers were kept in line by seductive promises. At last the eyes of the people have been opened and Toryism and organized hypocrisy have got in full measure, rounded up, what has long been coming to them.

Fire prevention, says the Boston Herald, is a good municipal program; it is even better as a policy of individual householders, shop foremen and store managers. If we are to get through the coming winter months without severe loss from four or five alarm fires and even from the greater fires that have gale and snowdrift and frozen hydrants as their accomplices, we must make fire prevention a personal principle, not only in the cellars and attics of our homes, but in every corner of our workshops and warehouses, pier and freight sheds.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the new leader of the Liberal party, was yesterday returned by acclamation in Prince, P. E. I. In thus honoring the Hon. Mr. King, the people of Prince County have honored themselves. Unless the politicians at Ottawa get a move on and prorogue the House this week, the new Liberal leader will be able to take his seat this session.

Mr. Armand Lavergne, one of the Nationalist leaders, who had announced his candidature in Quebec East, failed to come to the scratch yesterday. It is quite evident that he contracted cold feet when he became aware that Mr. Ernest Lapointe, M. P., was to be his opponent. Neither Conservatives nor Liberals should lose much sleep over Mr. Lavergne's failure to get back into politics.

Hon. Bob Rogers used to say that ninety per cent. of the Canadians who went overseas belonged to the Tory party. If that is so a lot of them must have changed their politics while serving in the trenches. Within the last three months returned soldiers have helped to put out Tory governments in Prince Edward Island and Ontario.

Mrs. Minnie Bell Adney, who made a lot of noise as a lady candidate in Carleton-Victoria, failed to get her nomination papers filed in time yesterday. It seems to be a difficult thing for a woman to get anywhere on time.

Marriage is the point at which you cease elevating a man's soul and begin cleaning his safety razor.

SPORTSMEN HAD A RUN OF HARD LUCK

The old adage that misfortunes never come singly was well exemplified in the case of two Fredericton sportsmen who went out last week on a moose hunt and pitched their tent near a meadow frequented by big game animals. They lighted a small fire and went to sleep. Along about midnight the tent caught fire and they scrambled out just in time to save their lives and the blankets which covered them. The tent was destroyed and after clearing away the debris they laid down to await the coming of daylight. Being tired, they overslept themselves and were awakened by the sound of a rifle shot. They made a hasty investigation and discovered that a moose had approached their camp and had been bagged by two other early bird hunters who had arrived upon the scene at daylight.

Moose Got Oway.

Bemoaning their hard luck, our heroes devoured a hasty breakfast and started off to look for other worlds to conquer. They had not gone far when they came on a bull moose, a cow and calf, browsing behind a hillock. The bull was only twenty feet away and a well directed shot hit him fairly between the eyes and he went down at once and disappeared behind a hillock. The sportsmen hastened to the scene, prepared to skin and dress their quarry, but were astonished to find that he had been only stunned and had jumped up and made off. A fresh blood trail was left behind, and they followed it for three miles, but failed to find the moose.

They concluded that the bullet had glanced from his ivory-like skull, making only a scalp wound. In disgust they abandoned the chase and, returning to their auto, set out for home.

The Worst Yet.

Naturally they concluded that they could hardly run across any further bad luck that day, but in this they were mistaken. Coming to a narrow piece of road, they came suddenly upon a skunk looking exceedingly fit and evidently well charged. They tried to give the animal the right of way, but it was no go. One of the wheels of the auto caught it amidships and the result was disastrous. The hunters escaped the shower, but the car did not, and the odor of gasoline was completely eclipsed by the more powerful odor emitted by the quadruped.

The skunk was killed, but before passing in its checks it looked in wonderment at the car, evidently concluding that it belonged to another and more powerful branch of the family. The sportsmen returned home without further mishap and were mighty glad to get home.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Old Man Ontario has spoken.

Minnie Bell Adney failed to ring the bell.

What's in a name? Tory Toronto has elected a bunch of Grits.

The trouble with scandal is that so many people are eager to believe it.

When doing Christmas shopping early buy sugar for the cranberry sauce.

Returned soldiers in Ontario are evidently "agin' the government."

The millennium surely must be near—Tory Toronto has elected four Liberals.

Mrs. Adney will now be able to appreciate the parable of the wise and foolish virgins.

Many a girl thinks a man "simply wonderful" until she discovers that he thinks so too.

During the war and since Canada has discovered some good substitutes for Tory governments.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to see the sea serpent every year?

This is the time of year when a summer girl begins wondering if any of the men to whom she became engaged in July are sufficiently "worth while" to invite to her January teas.

Alas! Besides having no friends in public, poor old John Barleycorn has evidently lost the favor of those who used to vote for him in the sacred secrecy of the polling booth.

Old Al Cohol masqueraded too long under the guise of John Barleycorn. In his true character as "Jakey" he is getting what he deserves.
