OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

IF WE WEAR WHITE.

Every Woman Can Wear White, But to be Sure it is More Becoming to Some Than Others.

But there is something about the immaculately white frock, the white suit or the white coat or hat that is so wondrously attractive that the white get-up is a joy even when worn by the woman who might possibly appear more robust or more youthful or more distinguished or more smething else in some other color scheme. Every woman ought to wear white some time just for the joyous effect it has on those with whom she comes in contact.

But now white has suddenly become amazingly fashionable.

It was not one of those fashions that was predicted very generally, but suddenly at the spring resorts where women of wealth usually contrive to set the fashions that the rest of the world shall follow during later warm months, these women began wearing white and then more white. Not only white hats and frocks were ordered from milliners and dressmakers, but there were hurry orders for white coats and wraps, white woollen suits and white everything else.

Now wearing white is not easy, especially for the woman who dresses on a moderate allowance. But there is this much about it, even the woman who is free to send her white things to the cleaners after every wearing and who has ten frocks to the average woman's one, and who has a maid whose only duty is to aid her in matters of dress—even this woman does not always wear white as it should be worn and there are other women not so blessed by fate who wear white irreproachably. It is all a matter of daintiness, is it not? You know the woman who can go through the entire day in the city in a white suit and look as fresh at the end of the day as at the outset; and then there are other women who seem doomed to be besmirched by soft coal or wagon every time they attempt to wear a white suit.

IDEAL ATTAINED.

"Were any of your boyish ambitions ever realized?" asked the sentimentalist.

"Yes," said the practical person. "When my mother used to cut my hair I often wished I might be bald-headed."

Birthday Anniversary

Mr. John T. Tennant quietly observed his 87th birthday yesterday at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Tennant, George Street. During the day many friends called to tender congratulations and he received telegrams from his sons located in Amherst and Winnipeg. Mr. Tennant had a sick spell lately for the first time in his long life, but his friends will be glad to learn that he is now steadily improving.
