UNIONISTS FROM THE WEST WILL BOLT ON BUDGET

A Caucus Held at Ottawa on Monday Night—May Present a Sub-Amendment to the Amendment of Mr. McMaster—A Sharp Division Over the Fiscal Policy of the Government—At Least Twenty Members Are Expected to Bolt.

Ottawa, June 12.—The corridors of Parliament, which are teeming with rumors and speculation over the budget and the political situation arising out of it, are a bit surcharged because of the fact that the western Liberal Unionists had a meeting unto themselves on Monday night and again yesterday afternoon.

In the discussion of the incident considerable feeling was manifest last night, but the explanation given puts a less serious aspect on the situation. It is said that Monday's informal meeting was of those opposed to Sir Thos. White's budget, to appoint a delegation to interview the speaker and ascertain if it were not possible to present a sub-amendment to that of A. R. McMaster, reflecting more particularly the view of the west on the fiscal question. The delegation went, but got no encouragement as "Bourinot" and the rule of of custom and procedure debar a sub-amendment on a motion to go into supply or committee of ways and means.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting was to receive the report of this committee. All the Western Unionists against the budget were called on informally to attend and such as happened to be around and hold such views did so. They are said to have numbered sixteen made up of fourteen Liberal Unionists, one Conservative Unionist and one of the nondescript class.

Limits of the Bolters.

It will not be surprising if in the final division this number, augmented by a couple of Eastern Liberal Unionists, make up the total of the bolters from the ministerial side. While there has been always a perfect union between the two wings of Unionism, a sharp division on the fiscal policy is now evident and it is the Liberal Unionists who are not only the leaders, but the followers.

Though their position is a bit embarrassing by reason of strong prevalence of low tariff sentiment in the west, the Conservative Unionists are strongly inclined to stick, and if it came to a vote likely to oust the ministry, a development that is not at all probable, many if not all the western Liberals would line up with the government.

The western men opposed to the budget, nine-tenths of them of the Liberal stripe, disclaim any intention of desiring to injure the government or to make its position precarious; but they find the measure of tariff changes unsatisfactory and propose to give voice to their feelings.

The situation is much discussed in political circles and the fact that the prospective bolters are nearly all Liberals causes a considerable measure of resentment among both wings of the Unionist following in the east.

The prospective stand, it is contended, is not warranted by those who in the period of stress have the best interests of the country at heart, nor deserved by the government's eastern supporters who throughout have stood for reasonable concession to the west.

The prevalence of this view may be a strong factor in reducing the number of votes adverse to the budget.

There is no question of the budget passing or of the government being imperilled, but a possibly injurious influence is seen in the apparent tendency of western Liberals to break away from union and without aligning themselves directly with the opposition, forming an independent wing.

Some think that out of the situation an election may possibly develop, but the hint of one might be sufficient, to cause a solidification of elements that seem somewhat disposed to get apart on the budget. No Liberal, whether

LABOR OUTLOOK IN MONTREAL IS NOT BRIGHT

Montreal, June 12.—"The local labor outlook generally is none too good at the present time," said J. T. Foster, President of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, this morning. "I might as well be frank about it and while I do not like to be pessimistic there is no good of being optimistic in the face of such conditions. There is nothing that I see that is being done that will avoid a further continuation of this unrest. While reports coming in from the west would lead you to believe that matters are being settled out there, I am of the opinion that it is far from being settled yet."

"It is a very unsatisfactory state of affairs and this will continue to ferment and probably break out again if settled. It all points to a general strike here in Montreal, I must frankly confess. The complexion of the affairs as it appears to the average worker is that there is a combination on the part of some people to drive organized labor out of existence and to take advantage of the worker when he is disorganized."

"I have mixed among them and talked with them and I tell you frankly that is the general feeling among the average workingmen in the city that I have come in contact with."

Against Big Union.

A definite stand in the fight of labor organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor against the one big union movement has been taken by the Federated Council of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steam-in the opposition or union, at all relishes that prospect at this juncture.

HEART PALPITATED COULD COUNT EVERY BEAT.

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, over your whole system, accompanied by a feeling of uneasiness. When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties. Then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

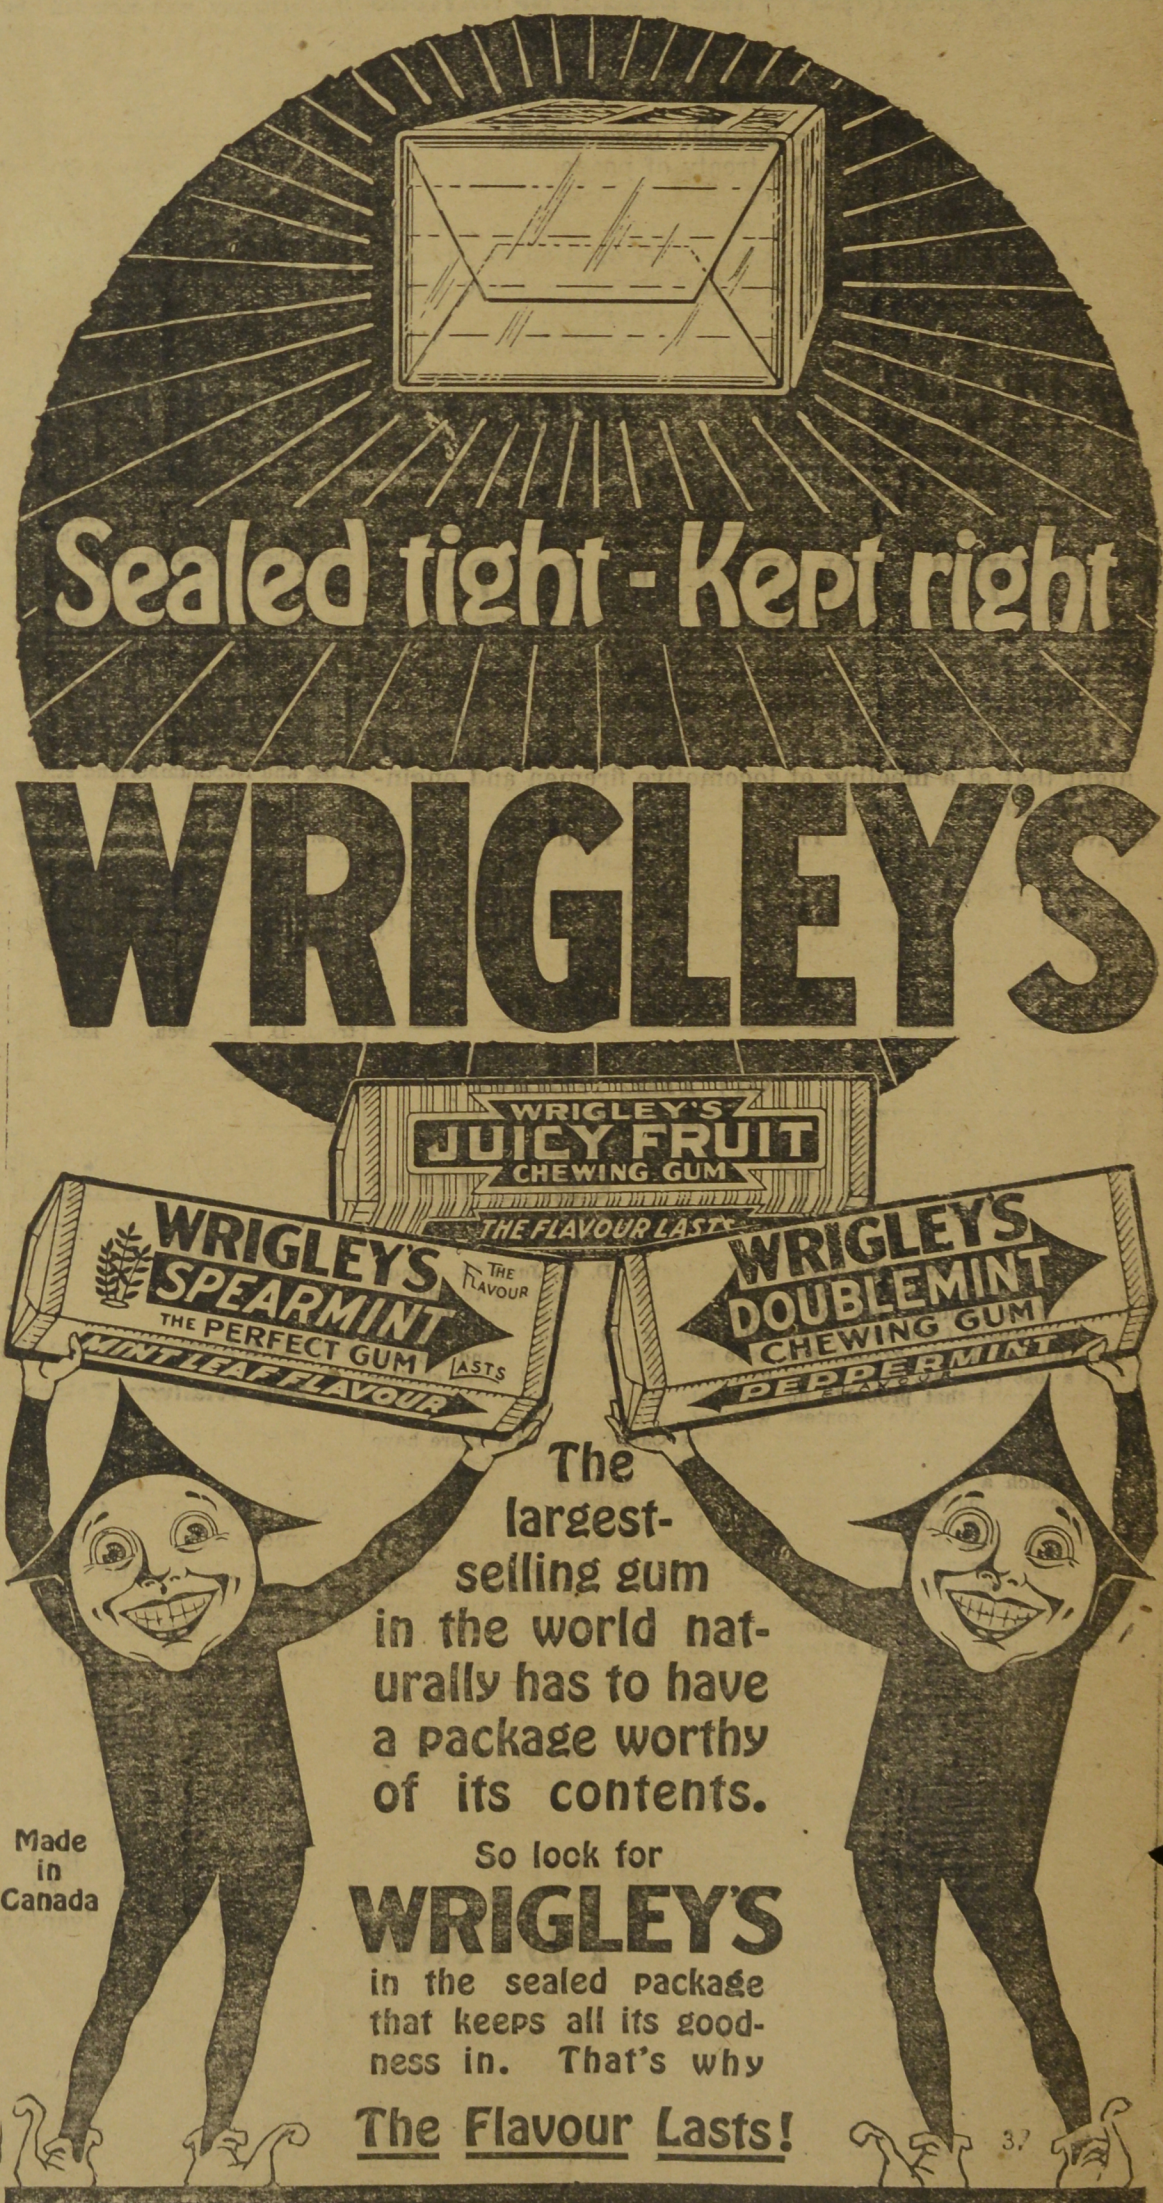

Mrs. Walter Grieves, Apsley, Ont., writes:—"I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anaemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

ship Clerks, freight handlers and express and station employees.

The organization participated in a strike at the time of the carters strike a couple of months ago, and their troubles were amicably settled by the Canadian Railway Board of Adjustment. The leaders of this organization declare that they are directly opposed to the general sympathetic strike and the one big union, as proposed by western officials, and they could be counted upon not to enter into any general strike of railway employees which might be called.
