WEDDING AS SEEN BY CIRCUS PUCILITY MAN

(Cartoons Magazine)

Last night at the glittering and gorgeous home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Hicks, 999 Ninth Place Miss Mary Gladys Hicks and Mr. Adelbert Smithers, were united in the sensational, awe-inspiring bonds of matrimony. The wedding service was pronounced in a peerless and peppy manner by the Spiritually Rich and Right Reverend Doctor Morton S. Duds, rector of the exceptionally expensive and exceedingly exclusive Saint Croesus-in-the-Fields.

The bride entered upon the massive, muscular and marvelously moulded arm of her father, passing through an avenue of the largest, longest and lattitudest tropic palms in captivity, while the air about was heavy with the shimmering, seething scent of precious and overpowering petals of spring, ranged in racy and rollicking array about the handsome and harmonious Hicks home. An orchestra of four—count them!—clever, comic and delightfully daring musicians supplied the mushy and melodious music to which the bridal party modestly and morally marched. The grand, gigantic and brobdignagian groom, accompanied by his bald, brave and best man, Mr. W. Percy Smithers, awaited them at the improvised, but otherwise faultless altar.

See the solemnly spectacular meeting of the Bride and Groom. See the merry and meritorious Maid of Honor!
See the four—count them!—beautiful beaming and brilliant Bridesmaids? See the innocent, infantile, infinitesimal Flower Girl, Miss Tee-le Hicks, in her fearless, fascinating but foolish act of scattering fair, freak is hand fragrant flowers in the path of her sister, the Bride! See them ALL!
They are ALL INCLUDED, all under one roof! One invitation, remember, admits to them all, including the concert after the wedding.

The Bride was attired in a silvery and silken something of extreme simplicity, surmounted by a vaporous veil fastened to her polished and perfumed hair with the bursting, emblazoning blossoms of the orange. Elsewhere upon her person but in no sense ponderous person was a slick, showy and scintillating diamond and bedazzling sunburst, the graceful gift of the generous and godlike groom. And remember—EVERYTHING AB-SO-LUTELY NEW

After the affecting and effective ceremony a real, roaring reception was held, fun furiously fast taking the place of rigid and rigorous restraint, in the precious and palatial Hicks parlor.
See the sinuous smiles tripping through the torrents of tears Witness the cute, cunning and comedy kisses! Hear the conglomerate and contradictory congratulations! Hear the silly and simian sippers! See the flippant and frumpish friends of the family! Listen to the glorious gurgles of the able and absolutely alcoholic punch! And REMEM-BER—ONE INVITATION ADMITS
TO ALL!

The bride was the radiant, enraptured recipient of a superbly great and indescribably glorious, glittering and gorgeous galaxy of gifts, the presents being under the shrewd, sharp and singularly all-seeing eye of a pompous and private detective. A supper, the most stupendous, sensational and su-perlatively complete ever served in any land, was spread in the draped and dainty dining room by a cool, keen and calculating caterer.

THE GRAND EXIT! At eleven o'clock, amid scenes of astounding and unparalleled impertinence, and a hellish inhuman hail of ancient and antiquated shoes, mixed and mingled with ri-bald rice, the young couple left on a desperately dangerous and delightfully demonstrative bridal tour. They will be gone three—count them!—weeks.

SELLING THE OLD CAR WITH WIFE'S HELP

(Chicago News.)

"I heard you are having a hard time trying to get rid of your second-hand car," said the druggist as Whiffle entered in quest of a 5-cent cigar.

"A terrible time," replied Whiffle despondently. "If I don't unload this week I'm going to run the thing down to the river bank some dark night and let it roll down into the water. The cat that comes back has nothing on the old bus one can't get rid of."

"Now, if I were involved alone in getting the machine out of the garage and on to the shoulders of another the thing would have been done long ago; but my wife takes a hand in the sale and just when the would-be purchaser is ready to turn over a check for the full amount she steps in and spoils the sale."

"The world has long known that one cannot sell a horse if one tells the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth—about the horse. A second-hand auto has the horse beat a thousand ways."

"I had a man in the garage one day who fell in love with my machine. He liked the color of it and was desirous of buying it on that account alone. I was ready to hold out my itching palm for his money when my wife spoke up."

"Henry," she said, "did you tell Mr.
Wifkins that the carburetor needs a new valve?"

"I had not mentioned the carburetor valve to Mr. Wifkins. If I mentioned that valve there was no reason why I should not mention forty-five other ones that were in a very bad way."

Wifkins finally said he would have the carburetor fixed, and then my wife said: "Tell him about the missing fan-belt, Henry."

"You can imagine my chagrin. It was the second time she crabbed the sale. But even at that the worst was yet to come. As Wifkins again decided to make the purchase of that old carryall my wife piped up with:

"Henry, I think Mr. Wifkins, on account of his wife and children, should know that the generator is beyond repair."

"By this time Wifkins was beginning to think the machine was slightly out of order, if not worse, so I said right out: "Wifkins, I'm going to make a confession. This outfit is totally defunct, and you'd never get past the corner with it. If I sold you the wreck my conscience would torment me the rest of my life. If it didn't it should."

Good day, sir."

"And can you believe it, when he had gone the wife turned to me and said: "Well, why on earth did you up and tell him the car was no good—he might have taken it. You're no salesman!"

"So you still have the old coffee mill, eh?" laughed the druggist.

"Yes," replied Whiffle, "but there's another gink coming to see it tomorrow—while my wife is down town shopping. I'll swing the deal this time, sure."

HAD WEAK AND FAINTING SPELLS

Those feelings of faintness, those weak, "all gone," sinking sensations, which come over some people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system.

When the system is in this condition there is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes deep rooted and perhaps hopeless.

They will act directly on the disordered heart and weakened nervous system and restore them to full strength and vigor.

Miss Mary McCoy, Algoma Mills, Ont., writes:—"I was awfully troubled with fainting and weak spells, and I could never get any doctors' medicines to help me. One day a friend of mine was at the house when I took one of those spells, and she got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. That was six years ago, and from that day to this I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your pills for any money, and can highly recommend them to any one."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T.
Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OPERATORS RESUME WORK

Lintin, Ind., April 30—Striking telephone operators resumed work here this afternoon under temporary agreement with officials of the telephone Company. Martial law has been declared at and, state troops have been withdrawn and tonight the city was quite.

A VIOLENT EARTHQUAKE

San Salvador, April 30—The earthquake which occurred here at dawn on Monday was the most violent ever registered in this country. Several tremors of less violence have been felt since. Many people are stopping in the parks and plazas, blue electric light and water service has been restored.

BRIEF BUT USEFUL RECIPES.

Restore Gilt Frames.—Rub with a sponge moistened with turpentine.

Drive Away Ants.—A little quicklime placed in the infested places.

Kill Insect Life.—Burn sulphur in a tightly closed room. It will kill almost all insect life and their eggs and larvae.

Make Leather Waterproof.—Saturate it with castor oil; to stop shoes squaking, drive a peg into the middle of the sole.

Clean the Hair.—Wash well with a mixture of soft water, 1 pint; sal soda 1 ounce; cream tartar ¼ ounce.

Remove Tar from Cloth.—Rub it well with turpentine till every trace is removed.

Egg Stains on Spoons.—Rub with common salt.

Fruit Stains on Hands.—Wash the hands in clear water, dry slightly and while still moist strike a sulphur match and hold your hands around the flame.

Clean Gloves.—Pour a little benzine into a basin and wash the gloves in it, rubbing and squeezing them until clean. If much soiled, they must be washed again through clean benzine and rinsed in a fresh supply.
Hang in the air to dry.

Clean Hair Brushes.—Dissolve a little soda in warm water and pour in a small amount of ammonia. Hold the brushes with the bristles downward and avoid wetting the back as far as possible; shake until the grease is removed; then rinse in cold water and put in the air to dry.

Remove Stains from Linen.—Wet the part stained and lay on it some salt of wormwood; then rub without diluting it with more water.

How to Remove a Rusty Screw.— Apply a red hot iron to the head for a short time, the screw-driver being applied immediately while the screw is hot.

Remove Mildew from Cloth.—Put a teaspoonful of chloride of lime into a quart of water, strain it twice, then dip the mildewed places in this weak solution and lay in the sun. If not effective the first time repeat.

Cure Mosquito Bites.—Put ten drops of refined carbolic acid into an ounce of rose water; shake well and apply.
(If you hold your breath while a mosquito has its bill in you it cannot withdraw it until you breathe again).

Daylight saving is popular with the majority in the afternoon.
