POLICE COURT FEES.

court litigants in the large cities of papers in America. the country from grasping lawyers. Here is the way it puts the case:

should be adopted in every large city tax rate, because it is lower today of Canada. In his long experience than was the case two years ago. Colonel Dennison has enountered a ignorant culprit has been mulcted for all that he and his family could raise * + THROUGH OUR SIEVE * by pettifoggers nominally esgaged in + + his defence. The distressing part of the situation for Col. Dennison asd every magistrate of human instincts is that they have no power to stop this form of robbery, which has been iscreasing ever since the foreign population of our cities began to assume large dimensions. If the magistrate acquits the accused, it gives the lawver al the greater warrant for retaining all the money that has been raised for defesce. If he is convicted, his for defesce. If he is convicted, his ignorant relatives are further impoverished by devising all sorts of approach to the beautiful devotes. peals, for which the lawyer charges fancy price fixed at his own sweet will. In the higher courts of Canada there are official taxing officers who to some extent protect litigants from extortion in the matter of legal costs. But in the police courts, where oppor tunities for knavery are greatly increased owing to the ignorance and fear that prevails among the class of people who come into the lawyers' hands, there is no protection. The accused himself and his relatives yield up every available resource, with fatalistic acceptance of misfortune as part of their lot in life.
