REFORESTATION

President George W. Sisson Jr. in an address delivered before the members of the American Pulp and Paper Association at Chicago last week predicted that in fifty years from now there would be no news papers and no magazines and that communication would be by word of mouth by town crier and by telephone. The only alternative to this forecast he said, was such a program of reforestation as will provide future generations with paper material. He declared it was not a question today of lower prices in the paper industry but a question of supply and prices for the next generation.

In his speech before the association Frank L. Moore, chairman of the committee on Forest conservation, outlined national and State forest policies, as approved by his committee and by Col. W. B. Greeley, head of the United States Forest Service. The recommendations which will go before President-elect Harding and his Cabinet were drawn after conference with the National Lumber Manufacturers, the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers, the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the American Association of Wood Using Industries and all other organizations of the country dealing in paper and wood pulp.

The recommendations are eight in number, briefly, they are as follows:

1. Authorizing the secretary of Agriculture to approve an adequate policy for each State, covering the essentials of fire protection on timbered and re-stocking lands, reforestation of denuded lands, the cutting and removing of timber crops so as to promote continuous production of timber on lands chiefly suitable therefor and authorizing his cooperation in the work required, provided there is also satisfactory local compliance in State legislation or administrative practice. Chief, although not entire, emphasis for the time being is placed on fire prevention.
2. A survey to obtain necessary information as to forest resources forest production and forest equipments of the nation.
3. Provision for studies and experiments in forest reproduction methods wood utilization timber tests, wood preservation, development of by-products and other steps to bring about the most effective use of the nation's forest resources.
4. Provisions for a study of forest taxation to assist States in devising tax laws which will encourage the conservation and the growing of timber.
5. Provision for more rapid replanting of the vast areas of denuded lands within the national forests.
6. Appropriation of $10,000,000 a year for five years for the purchase of lands which should be added to the national forest system, whether or not on the headwaters of navigable streams, as such purchases are now limited.
7. Authorizing acquisition of similar lands by exchange of land or timber when clearly in the public interest.
8. Authorizing the addition to national forests of lands now in other forms of government ownership, but found chiefly suitable for permanent forest production.

Hon. J. A. Calder in a recent speech declared that immigration to Canada this year would reach about 200,000, as compared with the peak of 50,000 in one pre-war year. The new settlers were better satisfied than ever before. He was inclined to think that there was going to be a break industrially in Great Britain and the United States within the next year or two, and if this occurred he believed the subsequent unemployment would cause a very large emigration. To handle the proportion of this emigration which Canada was sure to receive his department had been re-organized and it was ready for whatever number might come.

Encouraging reports of American coal production continue to be received. Soft coal production for the week of October 30th was 12,338,000 tons, a new maximum for the year, the United States Geological Survey shows. For four consecutive weeks the daily output has averaged better than 2,000,000 tons. Anthracite production during the same week was 1,696,000 tons, a decrease of 219,000 tons, due to observance of Mitchell Day, October 29th.

Bermuda Colonist. When the Tally-Ho and Phaeton, consigned to Captain Charlton Leighton and which arrived Monday by the "Fort Victoria," take the road, a paralysis of business and traffic will, doubtless, ensue, whilst every one watches them pass. They are two of the smartest equipages ever seen in Bermuda and the Tally-Ho, which, it is rumored, will make periodical trips to various points of interest, should prove a great attraction to visitors.

A New York Herald correspondent describing the operations of rum-runners on the Canadian border near Detroit says: "For until the Province of Ontario goes dry and becomes dry and until Uncle Sam finds it expedient to guard the Detroit and St. Clair river shores with bodies of men numerous enough to admit of their being placed about ten feet apart, there will be no real prohibition in Detroit."

Premier Tachereau recently announced that the Quebec Government would donate the sum of one million dollars to the funds of McGill University. Only a short time ago the government of Quebec gave one million dollars to the University of Montreal, so it evidently believes in assisting education to the fullest extent of its means.

Bill Sharen a Fredericton brewhorse and the greatest trotting stallion ever produced in Canada has been sold to American parties for $25,000, which is the equivalent of $28,000 in Canadian money. This is undoubtedly the best price ever paid for a trotting horse in the Dominion. The people of Fredericton have every reason to be proud of Bill Sharen.

New York Herald: These nine-year-old chess marvels are all very well, but the average American family prefers a lad who will move a lawn mower with speed and precision.

There are backless gowns and skirtless gowns. Next there will be gownless gowns.

We are going to lose Bill Sharen but we still have The Exposer, the fastest trotting stallion in all Canada.

It isn't the price of the cloth for his wife's dress that breaks up a husband it's the cost of the trimmings.

"If everybody thought alike," remarked the Man on the Car, "no matter what they thought, there would be no darn fools."

Sometimes, after a man has made a pile of money in his home town and becomes a leading citizen he goes away from the dear old place to spend it.

Before a man is married it is his own inalienable right to determine the proper time to don his heavy underwear. After he acquires a wife she assumes dictatorship on this question.

Horse Fell This Morning

A horse driven by William McLennan of the Municipal Home fell in front of the Normal School this morning and attracted the attention of a large number of people. Finally it was raised to its feet and immediately taken to a blacksmith's shop. During the excitement a lady criticized City Marshal Hughes for his effort to "help the animal to its feet" evidently not being aware of the identity of the official.

Impressive Sermons

Large congregations at the Fredericton Methodist Church Sunday heard impressive sermons preached by Rev. H. B. Clarke of St. John. The preacher, who was in the ranks during the Great War in the ranks being given a commission while on the military cross and was wounded so seriously that he was transferred to the Chaplain's Service. With that he performed such service that he was promoted to the rank of major.

NEW BUGLAR ALARM HAS BEEN INFENTED

(Staff Correspondent C. A. N. S.)
 Copenhagen, Nov. 1.—By Mail.—A new burglar-trapping apparatus has been invented by a Danish chief of police, and a company formed for its exploitation. The apparatus, fixed in a small box, is connected by wires with the door or window of the rooms and wires are also connected with the ordinary telephone. As soon as a burglar enters the room, a special lamp automatically glows at the telephone exchange, and the police are immediately given the alarm. If the burglar alarm wires are cut the disconnection also gives the alarm to the telephone operator.

WEDDING AT THE BARONY

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Wednesday at 3 o'clock at The Barony when the Rev. Jas. Middleton, united in marriage Mildred Margaret, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davidson and Ralph Mansfield, oldest son of the Rev. Alan and Mrs. Stairs of Southampton. The ceremony took place at the bride's home and in the presence of the relatives and friends of both parties. Mrs. Samuel Davidson, Jr., officiated at the organ and the hymn "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" was sung. The bride looked very charming in her attire of tulle brown satin with georgette trimmings. Her travelling suit was of navy blue serge with hat to match. The presents were numerous and useful and included a substantial cheque and a considerable amount of money in various sums. After the ceremony and the usual felicitations a sumptuous supper was served and hearty merriment in which all joined was much in evidence. Mr. and Mrs. Stairs will reside in Southampton.

A number of prominent Canadians now in New York, have arranged to stage a series of matches there and go over and give an exhibition of their speed and skill.

Had Narrow Escape

A young man named Peter Deep belonging to Devon had a narrow escape from serious injury on the highway bridge at one o'clock today. He was riding a bicycle to the city and on the bridge took hold of the rear of a motor-truck. When he reached the incline at the Fredericton end he retained his hold and when one of his pedals hit the sidewalk his bicycle was thrown under the truck. The wheel was smashed but the rider was thrown outward and escaped serious injury.
