A MAN'S SIZE JOB.

Religion is going to march on past the ice-cream-social and kindergarten tactics or it is going to be ground under the insensate juggernaut of unmoral economic forces, says the Detroit Journal.

The big men of the church realize this, hence the Inter-Church World Movement and other similar campaigns conducted by separate denominations.

If religion is worth anything it is worth "selling" to the world in a big way. It must have talking points that will appeal to big, virile men.

A minute analysis of the modern ills will convince thoughtful persons that the remedy must originate in the individuals that compose society. Systems and plans, while important, are at the mercy of the individuals who carry out the systems and plans.

The person who believes in the efficacy of Christianity, therefore, is impelled to believe that the remedy for those ills is found in a program of personal regeneration that will match, in strength and resourcefulness the crass materialism that grinds its way through the present day hurly-burly.

The church is accused of not meeting the present task adequately. The accusation has some validity, but it is not the fault of Christianity. It is partly the fault of the people in the church, but still more the fault of those who only sit in the grand-stand and applaud the efforts of the church and do not help the church fulfill its mission. Why blame Christianity for things that are done by non-Christians or hypocrites?

The day of soft-cushioned pews, languid, academic sermons and half-hearted effort is being superseded by the period of virile, intensive, personal evangelism, brought in by big, organized effort. Nothing is more blessed and effective than the widow's mite and the little child's Sunday school penny, for they represent the best effort in giving, and men who believe in the mission of the church will have to give themselves and their means in proportion as the widow gave her mite, in order that the job may be done. The job challenges the best brains of the nation.

Hon. Manning Doherty appears to have made what is termed a bad break in the Ontario Legislature last week. The Toronto Globe's report of a session of the House says: "Hon. Manning Doherty made an apology for his statement in the House on the previous day to the effect that probably Hon. Dr. Cody, in resigning his seat, had had in mind the receipt by the churches of $14,000,000 and wanted to keep where the sledding is good. He said: In my remarks, referring to Dr. Cody, it was furthest from my mind to cast any aspersion upon the gentleman's character or his intentions. It brings home to me the realization that as a humorist I am a failure."

"No haircuts and no shaves," is the slogan which has been adopted in a city-wide strike in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., against the proposed increase in price by the local barbers. It is announced that hair-cuts are to be advanced to 65 cents, and shaves to 35 cents on April 1. The phesent schedule is 50 cents for hair-cuts and 15 cents for shaves. The announcement of the proposed increase has caused general indignation, and a movement is on foot to start an organized opposition to the new scale. One of the moves planned in the opposition is to pledge all of the men in the city to shave themselves and do without haircuts until the new scale is withdrawn by the barbers' union.

Admiral Jellicoe has placed a splendid wreath on the tomb of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, says the Belleville Intelligence. His recommendation on Canadian naval policy is a complete endorsement of the great statesman's plan in 1910. The Borden-Bourassa policy of 1911-1913 is dead and buried if it ever was sincerely alive. But what "the good men do lives after them." Sir Wilfrid's patriotic Canadian plan is also Admiral Jellicoe's.

The governments power bill has been everywhere received with the greatest enthusiasm. It is looked upon as a progressive and business like measure which will do much to promote industrial development. Cheap power and light is needed in both city and country and the scheme of Foster Government to provide it, will commend itself to all classes of people.

As the news spread through New York Wednesday evening that the northern lights were visible persons left their homes to stand in the streets or climb to house-tops to obtain a view of the spectacle. In the Bronx, many women and children, to whom the meaning of flares and flashes had not been explained, ran into their homes and pulled down the shades in order to shut out the mysterious glow.

St. John Times: The Foster government is adding another to its notable list of courageous and progressive policies. The public demand for water power development is to be met in a practical way, and no private interests are to be permitted to stand in the way of this great public enterprise, of such lasting benefit to the province.

 THROUGH OUR SIEVE **

The new canning factory started in by canning itself.

Girls do not make advances, but they have a blessed way of making a young man fall over his feet.

There was Apollo and then there is the lovely young man who decorates the underwear pictures on the billboards.

Men may have become feminized, as Dr. Hickson says, but they do not make so much fuss as do women over their Easter hats.

About all men can do is to trust that the illusive peak of high prices is reached before a haircut costs a dollar.

As he goes along through life man gets inspiration from encouragement and strength from opposition. It's a great game.

Women have an unspoken reason for pitying a man during a convalescence—the poor thing can't knit or crochet.

A woman can get along better with a lazy man than with an active one, for the reason that the lazy man kinds it easier to yield than to argue.

A sunshiny Sunday morning promises more for a man who stays away from church than it ever delivers.

G. H. Adair of Sussex is in the city today on business before the Divorce Court.

F. B. Belyea of Upper Gagetown is in the city.

J. G. Hart of St. John is at the Barker House.

Gene Broderick of Montreal is in the city.

James Neil of Montreal is a guest at the Barker House.

Rev. J. C. Berrie Active.

Rev. J. C. Berrie, who has been confined to the house for several weeks was able to assist in conducting the morning service at Centenary church, St. John yesterday when Rev. Thomas Marshall of Fairville was the preacher. It is interesting to note that Mr. Berrie and Mr. Marshall came to Canada as two of a party of twelve ministers who sailed on the same boat. Mr. Marshall in his able sermon spoke of the ordinance of Lenten fasting, saying that true spirit of fasting to be observed in Lent was abstinence from things harmful to spiritual life. Rev. Mr. Berrie some years ago was Methodist pastor at Marysville.

Spring hats used to wait for Easter but in this age of precipitancy they come out in advance of the season and look like freaks of nature.

LOCAL NEWS

Greeted by Friends

His friends were glad to see Mr. G. R. Perkins this morning again on Queen Street after his protracted illness. Mr. Perkins was last week granted a three months leave of absence from his duties as City Clerk and Treasurer, in which to recuperate his health.

Clergyman's Estate

Rev. J. McP. Scott for many years pastor of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, who died on February 25th, left an estate valued at $9,356. To his widow he left his pictures, household goods and personal effects; the residue of his estate goes to his son, Robert Bargarine Scott.

Palm Sunday Yesterday

Palm Sunday was generally observed yesterday. Reference to the significance of the day was made in all churches. The customary services were held in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. At St. Dunstan's Church there was the usual distribution of palms.

Improving Steadily.

The many friends of Mr. John Hurley will be glad to learn that his condition is steadily improving. Some three weeks ago Mr. Hurley had the misfortune to fall and break his leg. He was first taken to his home but later to Victoria Hospital. Though much better it will still be two or three weeks before he will be able to be out.

Daley-Morgan

Mr. Francis Loring Daley and Winifred Isobell Morgan both of Marysville, were united in marriage Saturday at the Brunswick Street Baptist Parsonage. The groom is a returned soldier having served overseas a year and a half with the 9th Siege Battery. Rev. C. G. Warren was the officiating clergyman.

Heard by Large Congregations

Large congregations attended the Fredericton Methodist Church Sunday. The preacher was Rev. Mr. Anderson who has been conducting special revival services during the past week. His sermons were most impressive. The special services will continue during Passion Week. On Easter Sunday a number of persons will be admitted into the church.

Interesting Report

It is reported on good authority that one of Fredericton's leading young business men, at present Secretary Treasurer of the Smith Foundry Co., is to take unto himself a wife during the coming week. Upon enquiry being made at his place of business no information could be obtained but that he would sail for Bermuda on Friday and would be absent about a month.

Seven Were Baptized

Seven were baptized last night at the George Street Baptist Church. The congregation taxed the seating capacity of the edifice to the utmost. At the close of the service a number of decisions to profess religion were made. The evangelistic services of special nature which were conducted for the past fortnight, will be continued during the present week.

Attracting Attention

A report of New Brunswick's record in the egg laying contest her breeders have entered appears in the March issue of the American Poultry Advocate Syracuse, N. Y. one of the big United States poultry journals. In view of the fact that seldom, if ever, are poultry matters of the Maritime Province reported in the big poultry journals across the line this account is worthy of note.

Making Excellent Progress.

The Greives Creek Bridge in Devon which is being rebuilt by the Provincial Public Works Department, is advancing rapidly. The old crib-structure will be replaced with a concrete arch culvert with earth and rock fill. The concrete work was done last autumn and the fill is progressing well. The height of the bridge will be raised several feet making it level from one bank to the other and doing away with the grade down to the bridge in both directions.

Autopsy at Grand Falls

An autopsy was held on the body of Phoebe Bell Saturday at Grand Falls. Dr. Puddington examined the body and found four bullet holes extracting two of the bullets. One had gone in near the stomach and was found in the back just under the skin, another had gone in the back and was found in front, another had gone in the front of the head and had come out at the back. The fourth was fired into the neck, but was not located. Miss Bell was buried in the R. C. cemetery. Newman Clark's condition is steadily improving and it is now thought he will live. Clark killed Miss Bell.
