THE LAST CHANCE

I have still a few imported Barred Rock Cockerels of high laying strain which may be seen at my yards, corner of Brunswick and Northumberland streets. These birds come from the best bred-to-lay stock in New England and are possibly the best ever brought into this province. They were hatched on May 4th and some of the pullets in the flock started laying on November 6th. One of them laid six eggs during the first seven days, beating all the birds in the egg-laying contest at the Fredericton Experimental Farm.

THE ELECTION IN B. C. FURNISHED SOME SURPRISES

Premier Oliver Carried Two Constituencies and All of His Ministers Were Re-elected---Liberals in Vancouver Voted the Straight Ticket --- Some Notables Went Down to Defeat.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 13—The recent general election in British Columbia provided some surprises. The presence of so many third party candidates was the cause of much speculation as to the ultimate result, and even the political wiseacres were afraid to make definite predictions before polling day. As a matter of fact, the independents did fairly well, seven being elected, but they also spoiled the chances of straight party candidates in several instances. One was in the Delta, where Premier Oliver won in a three-cornered contest with the sitting Conservative member and a farmer representative.

Both the latter were very strong opponents, and polled between them many more votes than the Premier. Mr. Oliver was also elected in Victoria, where he had the distinction of heading the poll in a field of twenty. It is conceded that the big grist of independents, in Vancouver spoiled the Conservative chances, as the count showed that the Liberals voted for their slate of six consistently, while their opponents used split tickets. That Mr. Bowser made the grade in this city was a personal triumph under these conditions. He came in sixth, just as he did in 1916, being the only Conservative to be elected. Every minister was returned, although Hon. Dr. MacLean had a close shave in Greenwood. Twenty-nine of the forty-seven members in the last House were elected, and several of the balance did not offer, so that the slaughter was not so pronounced as looked for. Probably the most notable defeat was that of Speaker Keen in Kaslo, a veteran of the Legislature. One of the surprises was the fact that not one straight Farmer candidate was elected. The election of Mr. Laldman in North Okanagan, probably the most typical agricultural riding in the Province, was generally predicted, but he was defeated by a Liberal in a straight fight.

Three Notables Fail.

Three notable figures in British Columbia political history, Joe Martin, J. H. Hawthornthwaite, and W. W. B. McInnes, offered themselves for election as independents, but failed to secure seats. All are strong speakers and experienced campaigners. The election of Mr. Martin, in Vancouver was heavily backed, but the best he could do was twelfth place in a field of twenty-eight. A lot of money was bet that he would be elected. McInnes ran in Comox, and made a poor showing, while Hawthornthwaite failed to hold Newcastle, which he represented in the last House, being beaten by a Socialist, who was supported by what is known at the Federated Labor Party. This group ran three candidates in Vancouver, and they made only a fair showing, but carried two other seats, Fernie and South Vancouver. Neelands, who won the latter seat in a field of four, is business agent of the Vancouver Typographical Union, and was formerly a school trustee in Vancouver's largest suburb. The final results will not be known until nearly Christmas, as, according to the law, the returning officers must allow at least twenty-one days to elapse before they make their official count, thus giving time for the absentee votes to arrive from the most distant constituencies. The absentee vote may change a few results where the results are close.

VICTORY BONDS ARE ACTIVE IN THE MARKET

The movement in Victory Bonds continue to make up a large share of the activity of the stock markets. Throughout the past week Victories were heavily dealt in, and firmed up under the steady demand. Following the first reaction after the ending of control, Government securities have given a good account of themselves, and during the week the appreciation for the several issues was of very credible proportions, the gap between the Market Committee's price and those prevailing in the open market being very considerably lessened.

The heaviness that has been characteristic of the balance of the market for some time was partially dispelled, and there was a distinct upward trend for many securities. The advance, it is true, was of narrow proportions, but it is an indication of the turn of sentiment. It would appear that the bottom has finally been reached, but there are market followers who do not hesitate to declare that the market will have one more big shake-out, and that of far-reaching extent, before the way is finally cleared for a steady advance. Even the most optimistic do not look for any extended improvement for some time, however, in the face of the present depressing conditions in business. In the general list the reactions were outstanding features this week. There was little activity in paper stocks, although the price trend was chiefly upward.

New York funds again displayed a distinctly firmer tone, the premium moving up to 15 15 15-16, representing the highest level since February last. With the movement of Canadian grain continuing steadily across the border into the United States, this condition is somewhat unusual, but can be chiefly attributed to the adverse balance of trade between Canada and the United States. An agitation is now proceeding in stock market circles for the ending of the restriction on the importation of securities held outside the country. With control of Victory Bond prices at an end it is the general opinion that the financial position of the country will be more readily adjusted if restrictions of all kinds are removed. In view of the advancing exchange rate it is probable, however, that action in this respect will be deferred until exchange has returned to a more normal basis.

BOILS SO BAD

HAD TO GIVE UP WORK

From the days of Job up to the present time, boils have been one of the afflictions of the human race.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not prevent them from breaking out again.

Boils are simply caused by the bad blood bursting out; and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters, which has been on the market for over forty years, is well known as the greatest blood medicine procurable.

It purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul matter from the system and when this is done the boils vanish and you should never be troubled again.

Mr. James Fahey, Newport Island, Que., writes: "I was troubled with boils on my back and neck, so bad that I was obliged to give up work. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. Finally I went to a doctor and he treated me for several weeks, and all without benefit. At last a friend told me of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I decided to give it a trial. I got three bottles, but before I had taken two the boils were all gone. It is eight months now, and I have had no return of the old trouble, and have never felt so well."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SENSE.

Teacher—"Which one of the five senses, sight, feeling, hearing, taste or smell, could you get along best without?"

ADVERTISING INCREASES THE HEIGHT OF A MOUNTAIN

HOW MANY PEOPLE know the names of the highest mountain peaks in the world?

FOR INSTANCE, "Kinchinjinga" is the name of one of the highest mountains in the world. It is 28,156 feet high.

PIKE'S PEAK is only 14,108 feet high—but it gets credit for being higher because it is advertised.

ADVERTISING will bring many unknown things into prominence during the coming years.

NOW IS THE TIME, when so many articles and commodities of trade are flooding already overstocked markets, for the man with goods to sell to let the people know all about it.

THE BEST WAY to let the people know is to advertise in the newspapers.

YOU HAVE SEEN THIS in the Daily Mail—let the public know what you have to sell through the advertising resources of this newspaper.
