

SAYS THEY HELPED HER ACHING BACK

MRS. ROBERT BAIRD TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Belmore Lady States That She Was Weak and Run Down Till She Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belmore, Ont., March 8th—(Special)—"I can assure you that Dodd's Kidney Pills helped my aching back as none others ever did or ever will do."

It is Mrs. Robert Baird a well known and highly respected resident here who makes this statement. She is an enthusiastic believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for weak and run down women.

"I was both weak and run down all last summer," she states further. "And before my baby was born I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me in every way. I also had my little boy take them and they benefited him greatly."

Women who are weak and run down should look first to their kidneys. No woman can be strong and healthy if her kidneys are not doing their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Weak kidneys are the cause of nine-tenths of women's ills. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong healthy kidneys.

FRENCH GIRL WHO THINKS THAT LOVE CANNOT BE WRONG

The Spiker Case Has a Parallel in Kansas City—An ex-Y. M. C. A. Worker Who Served Overseas One of the Principles—Tried to Get Divorce from His Wife, But was Refused—Will Follow Girl to France if She is Deported.

Kansas City, March 8—In a little apartment in this city Madeline Babin the tiny French girl who suddenly has sprung into prominence as a principal in an international romance similar yet strongly in contrast to the Spiker case sings as she sews together baby garments alternating gay French songs with comforting French hymns. Her mother, Mme. Georges Babin, and her sister Mlle. Georgette join with her in the songs. Though they are far from home and in a strange land and the power of the United States government has been invoked against them, they are confident and happy.

"We have done nothing wrong," says Madeline. "It is not wrong to love. Every Sunday we go to church and promise God we will do nothing wrong. We try to do only what is right, and so we know He will help us, and we shall be victorious."

The man in the case, Lee Shippey, writer and ex-Y. M. C. A. war worker now in Los Angeles has confessed to his wife that he loves Madeleine and has asked the wife to divorce him so that he can give a name to the expected child. Instead, Mrs. Shippey has appealed to the government, asking that Madeleine be deported.

The case is now in the hands of the Federal authorities. But Madeleine is not dismayed. She puts her faith in the fact that though perhaps her love was wrong in the first place, she has since done all that she could to make it a holy thing.

"I have just come from church," she wrote to Mr. Shippey Friday, and I feel so happy and comforted. I promised Our Lady we would consecrate our little one to her, and I feel sure all will be for the best. You must not worry, husband of my heart."

Will Go With Her

If Madeleine should be deported, however, Mr. Shippey wrote her he either will bring her back, as soon as he can legally do so, or he will go to France to her.

"Surely if they banish my flesh and blood from America," he wrote "they will not deny me the right to go to France to see my child."

Madeleine's 22 years have been full of trouble, yet her heart is full of happiness because of the faith that is in her. A few years ago all she knew of the world was what she learned inside a convent's walls and on carefully chaperoned visits to the seashore every summer. Her parents treated her and her sister always as children.

Dated the second day of March, A.D. 1920.

G. R. PERKINS,
City Clerk.

Then the war came and her father had to leave his prosperous Paris shop to serve as a private for five years. He had to sacrifice the shop, and his pay as a soldier was only 5 cents a day.

Still, they kept brave and cheerful. They were deeply religious, and believed everything was in God's hands. "You will see," they told each other "Soon it will pass and everything will be for the best."

Plan to Emigrate

When their father died in service they began to plan to come to America. Americans for whom they had worked told them they could prosper in this country, and their gratitude to the American soldiers for coming in France's hour of need had inspired in them a romantic love for this country.

Chief among those American friends was Lee Shippey the Kansas City man now living in Los Angeles who was in Y. M. C. A. work in France and with whom Madeleine is now linked in the triangle.

Mr. Shippey helped both girls get positions as interpreters for the Y. M. C. A., where all their American associates admired and respected them. Avoid Risque Paris

Every Sunday and holiday and many a long summer evening they visited historic or beautiful places in or near Paris. The Babins knew nothing of the risque side of Paris.

When Mr. Shippey had to return to America, Madeleine was philosophical. "It is only an ocean between us," he said, "and what is that to love like ours. Something will happen—you will see."

She Crosses Ocean

Something did happen, almost immediately. In less than a month, Madeleine had an offer of a place as a French teacher in Oregon and was on the way to America.

Madeleine arrived in America very ill and knew for the first time that she was to become a mother. Then some of her money was stolen leaving her without enough to go to Oregon. She came to Kansas City riding all the way in a chair car. There the French Consul told her it would be all right for her to stay as long as she obeyed the laws. She advertised for pupils and sick though she was in two days was earning her living. She wrote her mother and sister that she was there ill, and they were allowed to come to America on her account.

MARCH WEATHER

DANGEROUS TO BABY

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blizzard and cold—is extremely bad for children. Conditions make it necessary for the mothers to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose gives the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colic and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
