PRESERVED PEACHES AND PEARS

Pears.—Pare, quarter and core eight pounds of pears, cut or break one-fourth of a pound of ginger root into pieces. Grate the yellow rind of two or three lemons. Put the pears, ginger and grated lemon into a saucepan in layers, with eight pounds of sugar; add a cup of water—two, if the pears are dry. Let heat very slowly and cook until the pears look clear; add the juice of six lemons, when the fruit is rather more than half cooked. Two hours of cooking will often be needed.

Peaches.—Select ripe, but not soft peaches. If they are freestones, pour boiling water on them and let them stand for five minutes, then pour off and their skins can easily be pulled off. Clingstones must be pared. Extract the stones and weigh the peaches, allowing equal weight of sugar for the same of peaches. Put in the kettle, alternately, a layer of sugar, and then a layer of fruit; set it where the sugar will slowly melt. Crack one-quarter of the stones and extract the kernels, break them in pieces and boil in just water enough to cover. When the fruit is well heated through, put in the strained kernel water and boil the fruit until tender, take it out and boil the syrup fast until clear, skimming off all the scum. Place the fruit in jars and pour over it the boiling syrup. When cold, cover closely and set in a dry, cool place.

RANDOM REMINDERS.

When poaching eggs put a tablespoon of vinegar in the water and cover the pan. The vinegar keeps the white of the egg from spreading, and covering them makes the white cook over the yolk.

When a cork is too large for a bottle soak it in boiling water and you will find it will become so soft that you can squeeze it into the bottle neck with little trouble.

An enameled bathtub may be made bright and clean by wiping it dry and then rubbing well with a cloth dipped in turpentine and salt, wash afterwards with clear warm water.

Grease spots may be taken out of China silk with a weak solution of ammonia water.

When washing woollens, especially baby flannels, shake thoroughly, to remove all dust, before putting into the suds and add a little glycerine to the wash water. This keeps the flannels soft.

If you desire to kill the odor of boiling cabbage, put an English walnut in with the cabbage.

IN A HURRY.

"Cousin Henry," gasped the country visitor, "you just barely missed that man."

"Can't help it," bellowed his city relative, throwing her open another notch. "Haven't got time to go back and try again."

ASTHMA CURED TO STAY CURED

Thousands Testify to the Lasting Benefit Secured from

CATARRHOZONE

One of the finest discoveries in medicine was given to the public when "Catarrhozone" was placed on the market about fifteen years ago. Since then thousands have been cured of asthma and catarrh. An interesting case is reported from Calgary in a letter from Creighton E. Thompson, who says:

"Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhozone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhozone by a clerk in Findlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on the benefit I have since derived."

THE MODEL HUSBAND.

Jinkworthy had become greatly puffed up over the fact that his wife was telling the neighbors that she had a model husband. He bored his colleagues in the office about it until one of them suggested that he should look up the meaning of the word model.

He got down the dictionary and read "Model, a small imitation of the real thing."

BIG CROP.

Oh, say not struggling is in vain, For still with patient trust, We'll find the turnip crop again Most big enough to bust.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY

(Extract from Premier Foster's Manifesto to the Electors.)

To sum up very briefly the Government, when returned to power proposes:

To give the greatest possible assistance to agriculture in every shape and form.

To lend most vigorous support to hydro-electric development and to further the same by using the credit and resources of the province in order that the people may have the cheapest power and light for their use.

To continue our policy for the improvement of all the roads of the province, back roads as well as front, farmers' roads as well as those for the use of automobiles, giving an equal policy for fair play to everybody, no matter where they live.

To give further encouragement to education, not only in the common schools of the province, but to vocational education, so that the young people of New Brunswick will have equal opportunities with the youth of any other province.

To provide such labor legislation within provincial jurisdiction as may be called for by the findings of the national industrial conference and the international labor conference.

To conserve energetically and carefully our timber resources and to give every encouragement to the development of mining areas.

To continue our policy of protection of public health and give such assistance as we can to hospitals and institutions necessary to provide for those unable to care for themselves.

To guard the interests of the people at all times.

To maintain provincial rights.

To inquire into the best methods of inducing immigration to the province and to make such arrangements with the other Maritime Provinces as will be conducive to this.

WANTS WINE FOR BATHS

Paris, Sept. 21—Unless the prohibition authorities of the United States relent and permit Mlle. Cecile Sorel to bring with her forty cases of the finest French champagne, the famous Parisian songstress, called the most beautiful woman in Europe, will refuse to fulfil her American engagements. Mlle. Sorel, who intended departing for New York in October, wrote to the Prohibition Board asking permission to bring in the champagne, as she was in the habit of taking champagne baths twice a week, by doctors' orders. The reply was a refusal, but Mlle. Sorel is now appealing through diplomatic channels. "Champagne baths are one of the secrets of remaining beautiful," the lovely actress said.
