

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-lives"

3 OTTAWA ST., HULL, P. Q.
"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again. One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

LORENZO LEDUC

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

A CANADIAN AUTHOR WENT BY GAS ROUTE

Special to Daily Mail. Copyright 1920 by Cross Atlantic News Service

London, Dec. 29—When the owner of 42 Londesborough Street Scarborough, ailed to get a reply he burst open the door and found the occupant, Mr. George E. Royle, a Canadian who had said he was an author and ex-officer, suffocated by gas with his head in a gas oven. A doctor said at the inquest yesterday that he had been dead for three weeks.

Miss Florence Barnes, manager of a tobacco store, said she met Royle in August, and later they agreed to marry on November 8. On the morning of that day, she received a letter purporting to come from Royle from Leeds, stating that the wedding would have to be postponed. In the afternoon she went to his house, and Royle after speaking through the door in a disguised voice, opened the door. He was very cross, she said, but told her they would be married on the following Friday. On that day he failed her again.

A verdict of suicide while of unsound mind was returned.

NEW ENGLANDERS OPPOSE THE EMERGENCY TARIFF

Republican Members of Congress from Massachusetts and Other New England States Go on Record Against the Fordney Tariff—Claim That it is Being Promoted in the Interest of Southern and Western Holders of Foodstuffs.

Washington, Dec. 28—Members of the Massachusetts delegation in Congress and, for the most part, from the rest of New England went on record in the House on Wednesday night against the Emergency Tariff bill which passed the lower branch by a vote of 196 to 86.

The comment was being made in the lobbies of Congress today that when seven Republican members from Massachusetts put themselves on record against what purports to be a protective tariff bill something must be amiss.

The four Democrats from Massachusetts—Phelan, Tague Olney and Galivan—also either voted or were paired against the bill. Representative Olney offering an amendment, which was rejected, designed to give the wool men some relief. Representative Walsh also made a speech against it.

On this measure which its authors assert is intended to give temporary relief to the Western farmers and Southern planters, Representatives Dallinger, Greene, Luce, Rogers, Walsh and Winslow voted "No" and Mr. Larkin was paired off on the same side. Mr. Treadway, as a member of the committee reporting the bill felt constrained to vote for it, but he is understood to have opposed it in the committee, and on the floor he said he voted for the bill to give the farmers the benefit of the doubt.

Luce Scores Measure

In a statement to the correspondent of the Globe, Representative Luce today severely arraigned the bill. He said:

"This bill's avowed and only purpose is to help the Southern and Western holders of foodstuffs and other farm products, not necessarily farmers but in many cases middlemen and speculators, to get larger prices for food to be consumed in the East, and the wool and cotton to be manufactured chiefly in the East.

"The committee did not dare attempt an embargo and so they framed up this bill, sectional in every detail in a way to catch every Western and Southern vote possible. To be sure, they throw a sop to New England with a duty on potatoes, and that on onions may affect a few New Englanders, but the injustice of the bill is shown by the refusal to protect dairy products the chief farming interest of the east, in spite of the knowledge that, for example, Danish butter is to come here by the ton.

Unfairness to Wool Men

"The unfairness of the measure not only to the New England consumer but especially to the New England merchant, may be gathered from the refusal of the House to exempt food or wool already contracted for, much of which is to be delivered in January February or March, bought before there was any suggestion of the passage of any such law. This means serious loss, not only to wool merchants already seriously embarrassed by the financial situation, but also to many flour dealers, who have contracted for Canadian flour. With no fault at all on their part, they are to suffer.

"Observe that this bill in its relation to industry can have no other effect than to increase costs of production, without a shred of corresponding help to industry in the way of protecting its products against foreign competition. In other words the bill makes it harder for the New England factory to hold up against the flood of imports from Europe.

"This measure is one number on a —Assam Teas are noted for their strength and richness.

Red Rose Tea consists chiefly of selected Assams blended with the finest Ceylons.

Red Rose Coffee is crushed—not ground

SPORT WAS FIRST IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

(New York Herald.)

If John L. Sullivan were alive today his comments on the pugilistic situation would be picturesque and enlightening. With Sullivan the amount of the money at stake was a secondary consideration. He never put up his hands in a contest where there was money for the loser. The fact that any man thought himself his equal, with or without gloves, was all that counted in Sullivan's mind.

When Sullivan fought Kilrain at Richburg, Mississippi, for the heavyweight championship of the world in the late '80's the stakes were $10,000 a side, winner to take all. The heavyweight of today, who wants for a single contest a guaranty amounting to perhaps as much money as John L. Sullivan earned in all his ring battles, would weaken at the thought of a fight to a finish with bare knuckles under London Prize Ring rules, the conditions which governed that memorable meeting in Mississippi.

The ring was pitched in a grove of pines from which the largest trees had been cut. There was little or no shade for principals or spectators. An August sun beat upon them with tropic fury. The thermometer registered 107 at 11 o'clock. The men, naked save for trunks, spiked shoes and short socks, fought from 9 o'clock till shortly after noon. Their bodies were bruised by blows and blistered by the sun until the skin piled in furrows before the glancing impact of knuckles which had been hardened by pickling in an oak tan solution for months.

That day Sullivan showed his invincibility as a pugilist, when properly trained, and by the clean tactics he pursued during the battle earned the admiration of every onlooker. William Muldoon, one of his seconds, had delivered his man in a state of physical perfection which enabled him, after Kilrain had been vanquished to issue a challenge to Charlie Mitchell, whom he offered to fight in the same ring. It is not strange that no fighter of his day, nor any of those who have come after him, has been such a public idol.

program worked out by a coalition of Southern Democrats and Western Republicans. The first step was the passage of the bill to revive the War Finance Corporation, in order to put at the command of Southern cotton planters and Western wheat growers and live stock men, up to a billion dollars of credit in large part guaranteed by the Government.

"In spite of the fact that at the very moment, as the result of a conference of bankers in Chicago 10 days ago, private capital is organizing to put at the command of exporters funds up to precisely the same limit of a billion dollars and in spite of the declaration of the country at the recent election that the Government should be taken out of business, the House has voted for the Government to resume business in direct competition with private capital, under conditions greatly to the handicap of private capital, for the securities of the War Finance Corporation are to be tax exempt. Furthermore these securities can be put through the Federal Reserve System and add to inflation up to a possible limit of two billions and a half.

BLONDIN MAY RUN IN YAMASKA

Quebec, Dec. 28—The report is current around town that Hon. P. E. Blondin, postmaster general, will resign his seat in the Senate to run in Yamaska County, now vacant, through the death of O. Gladu, M. P., and that Hon. Albert Sevigny, former secretary of state will be called upon to take a seat in the Senate, becoming one of the representatives of the province of Quebec in the cabinet.

Other reports are that Hon. Justice Desy will abandon the bench to return to politics or will run in Yamaska and might be elevated to the ministry. In Conservative circles the reports are taken seriously. The Liberals are expected to oppose any candidate. Late today it was learned that Hon. Albert Sevigny had been called to Ottawa.

It is said that Ponzi's creditors will receive about thirty cents on the dollar. "Ponzi's creditors" is a nicer designation than "Ponzi's suckers." "Many a wife," remarked the Man on the Car, "will sit up longer with the hero of a story than with her own husband."

MOVIES FOR THE CONVICTS

Dorchester, N. B., Dec. 28—The first step in Canadian prison reform will be inaugurated here tomorrow when the convicts of the Maritime Penitentiary will be given a Christmas entertainment.

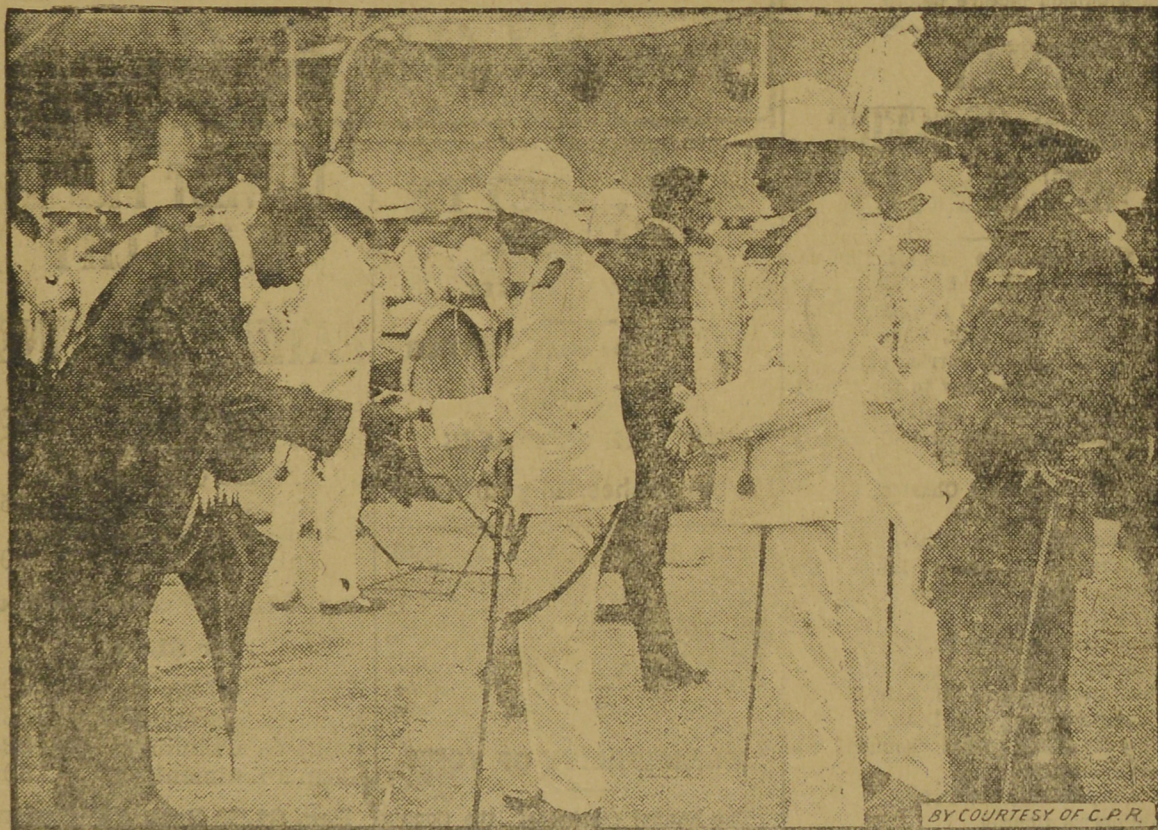

How much it will mean to men who have been cut off from all intercourse with the outside world for years may be more easily imagined than described.

No kiddie in all Canada looked forward to the coming of Christmas and Santa Claus with keener anticipation than the 330 inmates of the prison here are awaiting the concert.

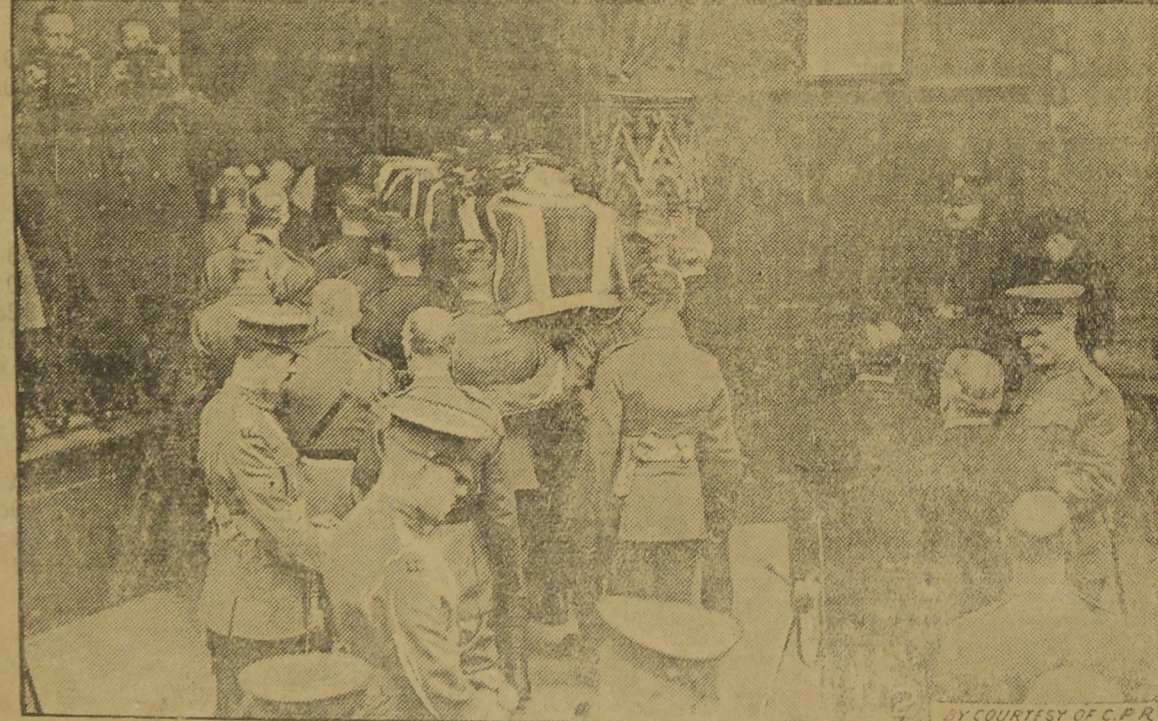

Six reels of movies are to be screened in the first entertainment ever afforded to inmates of a Canadian penitentiary. To the veteran movie "fans" of the city the event would seem trivial but not so at Dorchester.

Many of the "lifers" and long term men have never seen a movie and tomorrow not only will they see the first entertainment it has been their lot to witness since exiled by stern justice from their fellowmen.

The Prince—Honoring the Unknown

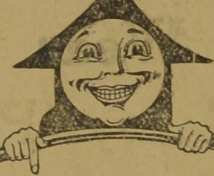

BY COURTESY OF C.P.R.

BY COURTESY OF C.P.R.

- (1) The Prince of Wales Landing at Damerara, British Guiana.
- (2) Armistice Day—Scene as the Coffin of the Unknown Hero Was Being Borne Out Into Westminster Abbey, Escorted by Britain's Most Famous Soldiers and Sailors.

WRIGLEY'S

"AFTER EVERY MEAL"

Mint leaf, peppermint or luscious juicy fruit, either flavor is a treat for your sweet tooth.

And all are equally good for you. Teeth, appetite and digestion all benefit.

Your nerves will say "thank you," your vim will respond.

WRIGLEY'S is liked for what it does as well as for its BIG value at the small cost of 5 CENTS.

The Flavor Lasts

SEALED TIGHT

KEPT RIGHT

