A GRAND WELCOME

The delegates to the Imperial Press conference have come and gone and there is no doubt that they have carried away with them a splendid impression of Fredericton and the Province of New Brunswick. They arrived in Fredericton at noon on Saturday by special trains, and remained in the city for about five hours. Prominent citizens gladly forgot all about business matters for the time being and placed themselves, and their motor cars, at the disposal of the distinguished visitors. While it was a matter for regret that the stay of the party in the city was brief, the reception committee saw to it that as much as possible was crowded into the afternoon's entertainment. The party was given an auto drive about the city, and were also taken to Devon and Marysville, and were given a chance to inspect rafting operations, on the Nashwaak River and Douglas Boom. With the help of the "guides", one of whom accompanied each auto, they were able to gather up a whole mine of information regarding the industrial and agricultural resources of this vicinity. That they were very favorably impressed with what they saw and heard goes without saying.

The informal luncheon served in the Assembly Chamber at 1.30 o'clock, was a highly successful affair and was much enjoyed by both visitors and citizens. The addresses of welcome by His Honor Mayor Reid, and Dr. Crockett, M. P. P., covered the ground nicely, and the speeches in reply delivered by Sir Campbell Stuart, Mr. Isaacs and Mr. Anderson, of the press party, had a strong Imperial note, and made a fine impression. The Assembly Chamber has been the scene of many notable gatherings in days gone by, but all were eclipsed by that Saturday. It was an epoch in our history and will always live in the memory of those who had the pleasure of being present and meeting the brainy visitors from every quarter of our world wide Empire.

It was a big day for the city of Fredericton and His Worship Mayor Reid, and the citizens who acted with him in arranging for the entertainment of the party, are deserving of the heartiest congratulations for the great success which attended their efforts. Such an opportunity to make the attractions of Fredericton known to the world does not occur once in a generation, and it is most commendable to our citizens that the fullest advantage was taken of it.

SAVING THE LOGS

Borrowing an idea from Wisconsin and Michigan, Maine is engaged in recovering waterlogged timber long buried in the mud and sand of the rivers. In the great days of the lumber industry, the log that went to the bottom was not worth the saving—there was plenty more where it came from. Timber was cheap, manufacturers and consumers could pick and choose as to quality and exercised the right to its fullest. It was reckoned less expensive to let the waterlogged wood go—for all of the original cost of cutting and handling—than to attempt any method at salvage. Nothing more marks the cleavage between the times of abundance and these times of skimping than that it is now held to be a profitable enterprise to put yarge capital into bringing to use the material which the early lumbermen virtually threw away. There is also a chance to salvage waterlogged lumber along the St. John River and its tributaries.

Snowdon B. Maslin, a barber at Chester, Penn almost dropped his shaving mug when he saw that a woman had climbed into his chair and was asking for a shave. "I get shaved once a week," she said, as he was busy with the razor. She declined all offers of lotions and she had her own powder-puff.

Dr. Jas. C. Green, 102 year 7 months, died at his home in West Chester, Pa., on the 26th, as a result of a falling from a step-ladder in his home ten days ago while hanging a picture. He never used intoxicants or tobacco and drank his last cup of coffee in 1844. Until six years ago he was in the habit of taking a daily ten-mile bike ride before breakfast.

King George praises the work of the Canadian Forestry Corps, some of whom he met in his Windsor woods. I know how valuable were the services they rendered, he says. Just the same it is well for the royal woods that the war ended when it did; otherwise there mightn't have been any trees left. The Canadians were chopping famously.

FREDERICTON LED WHEN RAIN STOPPED PLAY

Woodstock Tennis Club Sent Players Here Saturday—Doubtful if Match Will be Completed.

Saturday afternoon's heavy shower put an untimely end to the tennis match between Woodstock and Fredericton clubs which was being played here. Only eleven out of the twenty-seven sets were played before the rain came and put an end to the sport. Thirty-two sets were to have been played but owing to the shortage of the fair sex on the visiting team, twenty seven were all that were possible.

The scores were as follows:

Men's Singles

McGrath-Wallace, 6-4, 6-3. Woodstock won. Babbitt A. R.-Maxwell, 6-0, 4-6, 0-6. Woodstock won. Deedes-Tompkins, 6-1, 6-8, 6-2. Fredericton won.

Men's Doubles

Crockett and Hawkins-Jones and Lindsay 8-6, 6-3. Woodstock won. Babbitt, H. R. and Barry-Maxwell and Smith, 6-2, 6-2. Fredericton won.

Ladies' Singles

Mrs. Deedes-Miss Glidden, 6-4, 6-2. Fredericton won. Miss Deedes-Miss Morrison, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5. Fredericton won. Miss Crockett-Miss McLean, 6-2, 6-2. Fredericton won. Miss Campbell-Miss Griffen, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. F'ton won.

Ladies' Doubles

Mrs. Deedes and Miss Babbitt-Miss Glidden and Miss Merriman 7-5, 7-5. Fredericton won. Mrs. McGrath and Miss Deedes-Miss Muriel Merriman and Miss McLean 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. Fredericton won.

On account of the rain no mixed doubles were played at all. As the match now stands Fredericton is well in the lead, and it is doubtful if Fredericton and Woodstock will again meet to finish the match before the Provincial and Maritime Championship Tournament.
