CLEVELAND BATTED OUT STILL ANOTHER VICTORY OVER THE BROOKLYN TITLE ASPIRANTS

Mails Pitched Great Baseball—Cleveland Shut Out the Dodgers Monday, 1 to 0—Cleveland Had Three Errors, But Nevertheless Put Up an Effective Defense—Winners Confident That They Will Take Balance of the Series.

Cleveland, Oct. 11—The Cleveland Indians came within reaching distance of the baseball championship when they shut out the Brooklyn Nationals by a score 1 to 0 here this afternoon in the sixth game of the world's series. Another victory in the contest tomorrow will complete the inter-league affair and permit the local club to fly two banners in the breeze next spring, an epoch-making event in the history of the Cleveland team. With the score four contests to two in favor of Tris Speaker's players, it is conceded by even the most loyal of the Brooklyn fans that nothing but a most remarkable reversal of form on the part of the Robins can prolong the series more than a game or two.

While the play today lacked much of the sensational features of Sunday's thrilling battle it was a well-played contest from a technical baseball standpoint resolving itself early into a pitching duel between Walter Mails and Sherry Smith, two of the leading south paws of the major leagues.

Mails had decidedly the better of the contest, the batters from the east being held to three scattered hits while Cleveland found Smith's range for seven safeties.

The Indians' team batting average in the sixth game was the same as that of Sunday, being .247, but the total result was only one run instead of eight accomplished yesterday. Brooklyn, on the other hand, slumped before the baffling delivery of Mails from .240 to .214.

The credit for the victory cannot, however, be accorded entirely to Mails' superiority over Sherry Smith for the Cleveland hurler was backed by a better brand of defense than that accorded the National League boxman. Seven Brooklyners were left stranded with potential runs in the making, while but four Indians remained on the sacks after the third out.

Although Cleveland had two men on bases at one time during the second inning it was not until the sixth session that the run which gave the home team the victory was pushed across.

After Evans had flied out to Konetchy, his only hitless appearance at the plate during the game, Wamby was sent to the bench, Olson to Konetchy. Speaker shot a single to left. Burns then caught one of Smith's sweeps on the very tip of his bat and lifted the sphere clear to the centre field bleachers. The ball hit the low rail and evaded both the hands of Zach Wheat and those of several men and boys who tried to grab it, being finally retrieved by Myers, far too late to prevent Speaker from scoring. Olson protested, claiming interference with the ball but the umpire refused to consider the claim.

Record Crowd

Wrought up to a fever pitch of enthusiasm by the sensational play of Sunday, this city and surrounding sections turned out another tremendous gathering of fans for today's game. After the last turnstile check had been made, it was announced by the National Commission that the paid admissions totalled 27,194, the largest in the series to date. The gate receipts amounted to $82,969, which will be divided ten per cent to the National Commission and the balance equally between the owners of the two contending clubs and the treasuries of the major leagues.

Weather conditions were unlike those prevailing at any of the preceding games. The sky was overcast and a stiff breeze which blew across the outfield caused the fielders considerable trouble in judging the course of high hit balls. The atmosphere was saturated with a damp heat, however.

and players and fans perspired. A few rain drops fell in the sixth inning.

Notwithstanding the heat and humidity there was no cessation of either enthusiasm or rooting. Apparently the entire congregation of spectators were determined that Cleveland should conquer their opponents if the vocal encouragement of the fans could bring that about. For the first time in the series there was evidence of attempts to confuse the opposing players. Rattles, automobile horns and sustained yelling and stamping continued steadily during the play. Captain Wheat was deliberately booed when he fanned and then protested the strike-out in the second inning, and Pitcher Smith came in for similar disapproval in the fifth.

NOBEL PRIZE GOES TO FORMER CAR CONDUCTOR

(By "Polonius," staff correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service) Copenhagen, Oct. 13—This year's Nobel Prize for Literature will be awarded to the Norwegian poet, Knut Hamsun. Knut Hamsun is generally admitted to be one of the foremost authors and poets of the century. His gift to fathom and explore the intricacies of human nature, to unravel mysteries of the soul in all its phases is unrivalled. He is a self-made man. At the age of 17 he ran away from his father's farm, became a shoe-maker's apprentice, then a grocer's counterhand, and finally worked his passage to the United States.

In America he started as street car conductor and laborer, worked on fishing smacks, lived a fisherman's life for years on solitary islands, tried his hand at coal mining, and finally became a journalist. His first novel, "Hunger," published in 1895, which has been translated into most European languages, drew universal attention to the young man (he was 30 then), and his later novels obtained him the first place in Northern Literature.

Plane Seriously Damaged.

The airship piloted by Col. Leckie, which fell into the St. John river last week, was taken from Beesley's Point and moored at Indiantown Monday by Capt. Jack Beesley. The air craft was towed down on a small scow by the small steamer Bonita. In the interior of the scow were stowed the planes and propeller of the plane, and the engine and body were placed on top of the open scow. Examination shows that the propeller was broken and one side of the machine quite badly damaged. The machine struck the water with such force that both pontoons had been knocked out of position and one was cut in two by the propeller. The machine will be shipped back to Nova Scotia.
