OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Evening frocks have no definite waist-line.

Both white and colored nets are used for summer frocks.

Thread laces are tremendously popular, the majority being hand-made.

The most pronounced feature of the new blouses is the tightness around the hip.

Natural colored cartridge silk is a new material for riding habits and many other garments.

The latest ideas in feminine neck ornament is a large Egyptian plaque slung on a moire ribbon.

Paris designers say that the new silhouette will show a low waist slim hip line, and a skirt with a flare from the knees to the hem.

Cotton crepe has played a big part in the development of children's frocks for several seasons, and for the present summer many dresses for women are made of it.

Collars that encircle the back of the neck closely and then disappear at the sides are among the new styles of neckwear. The little flat turnovers that reach only across the front of a square-cut neck also are new and much favored.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES.

In calculating for trimming to be pulled on to an edge, it is usual to allow half as much again.

Plenty of rinsing water and open-air drying are the best means of keeping calico and linen garments a good color.

"Hang your straight skirts after you have put in the hem from your belt," but gored skirts are best hung from the hem.

Cretonne and chintz must be well shaken before being washed in warm water to which has been added bran-water and dissolved soap.

Fruit will keep equally well put up either with or without sugar. When canned without sugar the sugar may be added later when needed.

For cleaning the lavatory the bath tub and the kitchen sink nothing more effectively removes dirt than a cloth dipped in gasoline or a little kerosene.

Linen rugs and grass rugs are good for summer and there are some Scotch woolen rugs which are excellent if they are in cool tones. The modern grass rugs are very good for summer, too.

NEW USE FOR DRAWN WORK

Drawn thread-work has, for a long time enjoyed great popularity as a means of ornamenting household linen of all descriptions, and many people are proficient in this form of needlework. It occurred to one enterprising person that drawn thread-work would be a very effective way of adorning her summer cotton dresses, and forthwith she experimented with ratine. Success attended her efforts, and the thread "drew" from the material with the greatest ease. The color of the ratine was blue; round the hem she worked about three-quarters of an inch of "drawn" work, catching the threads down the middle in the way so often seen in this kind of stitchery, while a line of similar "drawn" work was placed just below the waist line of the "one piece" dress, on the big side pockets and around the collar.

Dye It Right! "Diamond Dyes"

Don't Risk Material in Poor Dyes that Fade or Run

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich, fadeless color into worn, snabby garments, draperies, coverings, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect results are guaranteed even if you have never dyed before. Druggist has color card.

Fat girls wear ruffles for the same reason that some men wear derbies. Both want to defy fate.

SEEKING NEW CANCER CURE

Toronto, June 25—"People are drifting in from all over the Province," said one of the Sisters at St. Michael's Hospital yesterday on being questioned in regard to the cancer patients now under treatment by Dr. Thomas J. Glover. "We advise people to make appointments beforehand, but they are so eager to prove the truth of the good news that has gone abroad that they are flocking in from every quarter."

It is expected that there will be a clinic later in the week, when Dr. Glover and Dr. Loudon, who are at present out of town, return home. In the meantime the patients already under treatment are being watched with much interest.

"There is really nothing fresh to report about the progress of present patients" said Dr. J. M. McCormack last evening. "So far everything of interest to the public has been made known, but we await the next clinic with much interest."

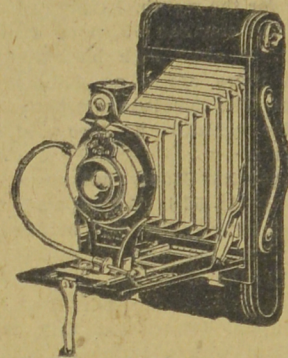

There's at least one argument in favor of a woman having a pet geranium around the house instead of a pet poodle. The geranium doesn't eat shoes.

No one feels as foolish and non-essential as the man who gets home early and finds that his wife has gone away with the only key after locking up the house securely.

A PROBLEM FOR THE EDITOR

It has been asked whether stepping on a man's corns gives provocation for swearing. Answer: Keep the toes clear of corns by using Putnam's Corn Extract. It's the best, 25c. at all dealers.
