ANGLICAN BISHOPS AGREE ON A BIG CHURCH UNION

Bishop Burch of New York Says the Lambeth Conference Took the Most Advanced Step of Any Communion Since the Reformation—Roman Catholic Church Had No Desire to Co-operate in the Work.

New York, Aug. 24—That the Lambeth Conference of Anglican Bishops which met in Lambeth Hall and in the Archbishop of Canterbury's Palace, London, from July 5 to August 8, in discussing the "reunion of Christendom" had "taken the most advanced step of any communion since the Reformation," was the declaration of the Right Rev. Charles Sumner Burch, Episcopal Bishop of New York upon his return yesterday on the White Star liner Celtic.

An agreement was reached under which the Anglican Church intends to push the plan, he said. The program takes the sacraments of baptism and communion as a basis for all-Christian practice, and the Bible as the authority to which to appeal in case of dispute. It takes the Nicene creed as the expression of the tenets which all Christians may hold.

Regarding the episcopacy, Bishop Burch said the conferees hope to establish a certain amount of intercourse among the denominations. This will be manifested by a recognition of each other's orders as valid, a frequent interchange of pulpits and frequent "union" services. The Roman Catholic Church having shown no desire in the past to cooperate in the "union of Christendom" movement, the Bishop said, had not been asked to participate in the new movement. The Greek Church however, had representatives at the Lambeth conference and relations with it "were furthered."

The second important decision of the conference which Bishop Burch made known was to raise the place of women in the councils of the church. A startling innovation was the decision to allow them occasionally to make addresses from the pulpits.

"Women are to have a larger place in the ministry and councils of the church," he said, "although that does not mean they are actually to become ministers or priests."

The third weighty decision reached according to Bishop Burch, was a stand on the relations of church to labor. Labor is to be appealed to not to be unjust or exorbitant in its demands, he said, and the same appeal is to be made to capital. The conference was strongly in favor of suppressing excessive and unrestricted competition as inimical to the common weal.

Bishop Burch was one of fifty-two Bishops from the United States who attended the conference. There were 252 bishops affiliated with the Church of England present from all parts of the world. The conference was the decennial one of Episcopal Bishops scheduled for 1918 but postponed because of the war.

Five other American bishops returned with Bishop Burch. They were the Rt. Revs. Paul Matthews of Central New Jersey, William A. Leonard of Northern Ohio, Boyd Vincent of Southern Ohio, John McCormick of Grand Rapids, Mich., and F. W. Keator of Tacoma, Wash. Bishop Matthews said the conference went on record firmly against divorce.

Another clergyman on board was the Rev. James Went, headmaster of the eLicester Grammar School. He is 76 years old, the oldest headmaster in England, and came here to visit his son, Stanley Went, dramatic critic on the New York Evening Post.

CANADIAN ANTIMONY CO. WOUND UP

Nothing Owed by This Company — The Assets Divided Among the Shareholders.

The winding up of the Canadian Antimony Company Limited took place this afternoon a meeting of the shareholders taking place at the office of A. R. Slipp, K. C. The company transferred its property to The North American Antimony Company Limited which is now operating the mine at Lake George, and also divided some thousands of dollars in assets.

This company should not be confused with the New Brunswick Metal Company which operated on a lease at Lake George for some time. The Canadian Antimony Company Limited has paid all provincial royalties, mortgage and all charges against the company. In addition it had assets which have been divided among the shareholders.

The members of this company take shares in the new owning company as a portion of the purchase price.

GRAND LODGE OF K. OF P. AT WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 24—Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of the Maritime Provinces are in session today at Castle Hall. The first session opened at 10 o'clock with Grand Chancellor R. B. Wallace of Fredericton in the chair while Vice Chancellor Cochrane of Sydney occupied the vice chair. All the Grand Officers were present with one exception. There are a large number of delegates from different parts of the Provinces present. The Pythian Sisters were in session at Oddfellows Hall this morning. They will hold a memorial service this afternoon while this evening Peace Temple No. 12 of Marysville will put on some degree work which promises to be very interesting and impressive. This morning the Grand Lodge was addressed by His Worship, The Mayor who made a very instructive and beneficial speech, which was replied to by Grand Chancellor Wallace.

MAY NOT PRESIDE AT MEETING

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 23—By a literal reading of the railway act Hon. Frank Carvell has the right to be a shareholder in the New Brunswick Telephone Company of whose stock the Bell Telephone Company has purchased ten per cent. and yet to preside over a commission which will decide whether the latter company can raise its rates in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. It is thought that the Hon. Frank Carvell will preside unless he has lately sold his shares in the company.

The two companies have business arrangements in common, co-operate in doing their work and do not compete at any point. The difference of opinion as to the ethics of the matter is so marked that only a statement to the effect that the chairman is now absolutely clear of the New Brunswick Telephone Company will create an expectation that he will preside.

The railway act provides that no commissioner can have an interest of any kind in any company under its jurisdiction.

Naturalized in Province.

The following residents of New Brunswick have been granted naturalization papers: Olaf Nerby, superintendent of box factory, Fairville, born in Norway; Samuel Gilbert, merchant St. John, born in Poland; William Robert Carson, manager of soap factory, St. Stephen, born in the United States.

J. J. Herbert of Halifax is at the Queen. G. R. Wilson of Moncton is at the Queen. George F. Burden, of Pokok is at Windsor Hall today.
