SCOTLAND MAY MAKE NEXT
MOVE FOR INDEPENDANCE

(That a Scottish independence movement is in existence is known to very few outside the movement itself. Without the spectacular features of Ireland's fight for freedom there is nevertheless a growing feeling derived from the struggles of the eighteenth and earlier centuries, that Scotland could and should stand alone as a nation. One of the chief leaders of the movement is the Hon. R. Erskine of Marr, President of the Scottish National League, who has written specially for Cross-Atlantic Newspaper service the following lucid explanation of what the S. N. L. is aiming at. Mr. Erskine is second son of Baron Erskine and a leading authority on Gaelic language and literature.)

Glasgow, October 28 (By Mail)—A convenient point at which to begin this brief summary of recent Nationalist activities in Scotland is the sixtieth anniversary of the famous Declaration of Scottish Independence, made at Ar-

RICH, RED BLOOD

NECESSARY TO HEALTH

When the Blood Becomes Weak and Watery a Tonic is Needed to Build it Anew.

Why are we being continually told that good, health-giving blood must be bright red? What has color to do with the quality? Just this—the oxygen in the air is the great supporter of all organic life. One function of the blood is to take the oxygen from the air—which it meets in the lungs and deliver it to the tissues of the body. When the blood, filled with life-sustaining oxygen, is sent out by the heart, it is bright red. When it returns impure and deprived of oxygen it is dark.

You will see, therefore that there are two prime requisites of health, pure air and bright red blood—the pure air to furnish the oxygen, the rich red blood to carry it where it is needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make your blood rich and red because they increase its power to carry oxygen, actually making it so much more able to carry increased life and strength to every organ in the body.

Pale anaemic people whose nerves are on edge, whose cheeks are pale, and who tire out easily, should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the steady improvement that follows their use. A case in point is that of Mrs. J. P. Rolston, South River, Ont., who says: "About two years ago my system was in a badly run down condition; and I kept growing worse all the time until I could hardly do my housework. I had severe headaches and pains across my back and under my left shoulder. I did not sleep well and would feel just as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. Life seemed a burden. I had taken doctor's medicine for a long time, but it did not meet my case, at least it did me no good. Then as a result of reading about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I decided to try them. When I had taken a couple of boxes I felt much better, and when I had taken five boxes more I felt that I was again a well woman. I have not since felt any return of the trouble and I advise all women who are broken in health to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial." These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box of six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

broath in the year 1320. It is true, of course, that the Scottish Nationalists had been active before the commemoration to which I allude took place. For instance at the time of the Versailles conference they drew up a protest against the exclusion of Scotland from that Congress. The protest was signed by a number of M. P.'s and Labor parliamentary candidates; and though it was ignored at Paris which was but to be expected, the document excited widespread interest in Scotland and was extensively noticed in the continental press.

Still, the recent gathering at Arbroath calls for particular comment, and constitutes an important event in latter day Scottish history, inasmuch as that occasion provided the first public meeting held under the auspices of the Scots National League, a body which has been but recently set on foot, and whose single aim and object are the restoration of Scottish independence.

There were two demonstrations at Arbroath; the "official" one, to which Mr. Arthur Balfour wrote a letter, and which stirred no waters, and the unofficial one, which, held under the auspices of the Scots National League, raised the dust in no uncertain fashion. The unofficial celebration was attended by at least 3000 people, large crowds considering that Arbroath is no big place, that the meeting had been very little advertised beforehand, and that the Town's magistrates would only allow the Nationalist speakers one hour in which to commemorate the glorious dead and to enter their plea for the restoration of Scottish independence. At the conclusion of the speeches, the following resolution was submitted to the gathering and was enthusiastically adopted, without a single dissident:

"That this mass meeting of Scots citizens protest most emphatically against today's sham celebration of the Declaration of Scottish independence, and demands that Scotland be immediately and completely restored to that independence which is her right as a free and sovereign nation."

To Hold Convention

The Scots National League, whose headquarters are in Glasgow, and which has a very strong executive, has just announced for May-Day next year the holding in Glasgow of a monster All-Scotland Independence Convention. A special committee, styled the "Glasgow Committee of the S. N. L." has been formed in order to effect the necessary arrangements. Among other members of this committee are Mr. Neil MacLean, M. P., Councillor David Kirkwood, Mr. John MacLean, M. A., Mr. Duncan Graham, M. P., The Rev. Malcolm MacCullum (who recently contested Argyll in the Labor interest), and Mr. Robert Smillie (the famous miners' leader). At a recent meeting in Glasgow of the London, Nov. 3 (By Mail)—With rumors of coal shortage and a most abominable climate, women of sense are selecting clothes for warmth, as well as for adornment. A wise designer has introduced a fascinating fur coat.

It is fashioned after the style of the climbing coat used in the high Alps, a coat chic and neat, which pleases the Englishwoman by its sporting usefulness and the Frenchwoman by its cut and quaintness. It is cut on Russian tunic lines and has a charm all its own.

One coat of this type was made of moleskin, with three old French silver clasps. It was worn over an apricot charmeuse evening frock; it looked delightful and was beautifully warm. Another coat was made of the whitish underside of squirrel, and gold tassels fastened on the front. Its charm was great, and the little jacket could be worn with almost any dress with equal success.

And every man is afraid of something—if it isn't anything else it's a woman.

local committee, it was announced that Mr. Robert Smillie would attend the Convention and speak at it.

A few words may be said here touching the single object for which the S. N. L. has been formed. It is not in any sense a "Repeal" society. Its attitude towards the legislative union of 1707 is briefly this. That the Treaty in question is a bogus one, inasmuch as it was forced through the Scots Parliament by bribery and corruption and was signed by the parties responsible for it in defiance of the sentiments of the vast majority of the Scottish people. Consequently, the S. N. L. has no intention of conducting an agitation against the pretended Union "on the floor" of the English House of Commons. It believes in agitation in Scotland and by Scotsmen, and will have no truck with Westminster. Some of its officers sit in the English parliament for Scots seats; but that is no affair of the League as a body, its opinion being that salvation for Scotland will come from within, not from without, and that, in any event, the English House of Commons is past praying for, being futile and corrupt beyond compare.

It follows from what has been stated above respecting the League's attitude towards the pretended Treaty of Union of 1707 (violated by the way, by England as soon almost as the ink of it was dry) that that influential body will have nothing to do with the "British" terminology so much beloved of the Scot turned English imperialist. The League derides and rejects the whole of these false and absurd nomenclature. A reasoned statement against its use by Scotsmen has recently appeared in the pages of Liberty, the weekly organ of the S. N. L.

Organizing Press Forces

The S. N. L. is now busy organizing its press forces against the Independence Convention to be held in May next. It already has its weekly organ, and is ambitious to start a daily newspaper in Glasgow, project of which the prospects are passing good. In addition to Liberty, its cause is served by Alba, an all-Gaelic weekly, and by Truth no Bliadhna, an all-Gaelic quarterly; for in this matter it must be understood that highlands and lowlands are standing together, since both will benefit by independence. Regarding the Gaelic language and what is styled the "Celtic Renaissance" the attitude of the League is that the old Scots language (Gaelic) is the true one, and that English in Scotland is but a badge of feudalism. It may be added that Mr. Robert Smillie is a warmsupporter of the Gaelic language.

Touching the Scottish Home Rulers the League's attitude is ever friendly. We regard them and their organizations as useful sowers in fields where in we are destined to reap.

In conclusion of these few brief notes, it is scarcely necessary to say that we regard the Irish cause as, in a measure, our own. We are in close touch with the Irish Republic, and hope to strengthen and widen that connection before very long. As the Duke of Marr justly said: "Scots and Irish are come of the same stock, and could look on one another as brothers. They should; by so doing they will hasten the coming of that day when both shall be free."

Sun Dance Lodge at Toronto

Toronto can always count on the C.P.R. to provide a unique and attractive exhibit for the Toronto Fair, and this year if anything the C.P.R. Exhibit has surpassed all previous records for originality and artistic execution. In order to visualise the romance as well as the majestic scenery of the Canadian Pacific Rockies, a Sun Dance Lodge based upon a Stony Indian model has been reconstructed and decorated with Indian relics and sporting trophies—fine heads and priceless skins. The Exhibit is under the direction of Mr. Norman Luxton, editor of the "Crag and Canyon" of Banff, who has spent most of his life on the trails and passes of the Rockies, camping, fishing and hunting, and who is also an authority on Indian art. He is assisted by his wife, daughter of the late Rev. John McDougall, one of the earliest missionaries in Western Canada, and herself the first white woman born in Alberta.

The first thing noticed on entering the C.P.R. Exhibit is the huge Sun Burst which throws its rays around the gigantic Lodge in which are garnered the side scenes portraying in miniature form some of the gorgeous settings which none but the Canadian Pacific Rockies can produce. The roof of the Indian Lodge is hand painted with symbolic writings and signs typical of the Rocky and Plains Indians. The side embellishments are finished in white birch, the bark of which was always a favorite with the Indian not only for the construction of his canoe but for the building of a camp fire. On each side of the entrance, office accommodation has been worked into the setting where information of every description can be obtained and telegraph service is also installed. This has the tepee finish and real Indian tepee poles transported from the West for the purpose have been used. The lighting effect of these interiors with miniature Indian tepees as shades produces an effect of entrancing beauty.

The scene from Sulphur Mountain overlooking Banff Springs Hotel in the foreground, and the beautiful Rundle and Tunnel Mountains, and the stretch of the Bow River in the background is highly realistic. A fine model of the C.P.R.'s famous hostelry built specially for the occasion is shown electrically illuminated and gives the visitor the impression that he is paying a visit to Banff instead of sweltering under the atmosphere of an exhibition. The Banff Hot Springs, famous for their health giving qualities were known to the Red men long years ago and accidentally discovered by some engineers when surveying for the C.P.R. The huge swimming tank hidden from the view, but situated directly in front of the hotel has a depth of water of from three to eight feet, and is one of the great summer attractions. The Bow River scene in the back of the picture reminds one of an opal with its pale green color, and its ever changing fires. The scene cannot be eclipsed for grandeur, although Lake Louise depicted on the other side of the tent certainly gives it a close running. This panorama is the representation of what meets the eye of the tourist looking for the grandeur of Lake Louise from almost any spot behind the Chateau with a glimpse of the wonderful lake and gigantic glacier and mountains in the rear. The Victoria Glacier which forms the background feeds the lake which is shown by real water, while the towering peaks of Mount Lefroy and Mount Aberdeen are observed in the distance. The frieze of Indian decorations and the magnificent transparencies lend a perfect finish to the whole Sun Dance Lodge effect. The remaining sides of the "Lodge" are of typical white birch interspersed with panelling of real Indian mats made from cedar bark, and there are many reproductions in miniature of the famous Totem poles from Alert Bay. There is also an exhibition a very valuable collection of Indian relics from the West Coast, all of which are original, and many over a hundred years old. They include eating and cooking utensils made of wood and whalebone, bows and arrows, coffins and tom-toms, cedar chests and model Indian houses. The illumination effect is perfect comprising some five hundred lights. The panoramas were executed by Mr. Hal Ross Perriard, assisted by Mr. A. Robinson, and the decorations by Mr. Perriard assisted by Mr. James Crockett, all Canadian. The models were made by Henry Morgan & Co. of Montreal. The C.P.R. Exhibit is not only an historical representation but educational from every viewpoint.
