ANOTHER FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT— KINGS COUNTY MAN KNOCKED DOWN AND KILLED AT SOMERVILLE MASS.

CHAUFFEUR HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Relatives in Sussex Have Received News of the Tragedy—Victim Formerly Resided at Ruggers Corner, in Parish of Sussex—The Body to be Brought Home for Burial.

Sussex, N. B., Dec. 8.—Word was received here by relatives tonight that Edward Campbell, a former well known resident of Ruggers Corner, in the Parish of Sussex, and eight miles from the town of Sussex, had been killed in Somerville, Mass., where he had been residing for some time. F. W. Wallace, funeral director of this town, had been notified to receive Mr. Campbell's body at the station here today, but it did not arrive and later word was received that it had been shipped from Boston on the express train which left for St. John at 7.30 o'clock this evening.

Mr. Wallace had not been informed of the cause of death and was unaware up to last evening that Mr. Campbell had been killed. Relatives in this parish however, received word this evening that Campbell, while walking close to the curbing of a street in Somerville had been struck by a rapidly moving automobile. Mr. Campbell sustained a fracture of the skull and died a few minutes before he reached the Somerville hospital in an ambulance.

The police at once began an investigation into the death of Mr. Campbell and placed under arrest John J. Blute charged with manslaughter in negligently and carelessly running down the former King's County man. Blute's bail was fixed at $1,000 and he was held for a hearing some day this week in the Middlesex county district court. It is presumed that the failure of the body to arrive here today as intended, was due to court proceedings in Massachusetts, an autopsy possibly being necessary.

It is a peculiar circumstance that a relative of Mr. Campbell was found dead in Massachusetts about twenty years ago. After some delay his body was forwarded to Sussex for interment.

Mr. Campbell formerly lived in Ruggers Corner, and he leaves relatives there in the town of Sussex. The interment will take place in the cemetery at Southfield tomorrow, it is expected.

The detectives wired the authorities at Newcastle to arrest Frank and a wire to Chief of Police Hanrahan and a wire to Chief of Police Hanrahan tonight stated that Frank was in custody. Failing to find "Kaiser" tipstuffs went into the corridors and continued to shout the name.

The court was asked for information relative to Kaiser Wilhelm. It was announced the Wilhelm in question was a resident of Millville, a suburb of Pittsburgh. He has been indicted for larceny, but not arrested.

New York, Dec. 9.—When Miss Anna Kern of Elizabeth, N. J., and Harry L. Wright of Baltimore were married yesterday in St. Patrick's Church, at Elizabeth, another of those war romances begun with a note flung by a soldier from a passing train, was brought to a happy ending.

Wright was on his way to France in 1917 when he dropped a note from a car window. Miss Kern picked it up and began a correspondence. They saw each other for the first time only a few weeks ago.

MANY THOUSANDS OF UNEMPLOYED NOW A PROBLEM FOR TORONTO

TORONTO, Dec. 8.—About one thousand unemployed veterans of Toronto met in Queen's Park today as a protest against the labor situation as it exists in the city and to press for relief both from the provincial and municipal governments. They met with a measure of success at the parliament buildings, obtaining assurance from the cabinet and the minister of labor that some sort of relief would be afforded them. The men who composed the parade were for the most part well-dressed, but many seemed to be suffering from lack of nourishment.

That there are 9,000 returned soldiers included in Toronto's total of 20,000 workless men, was claimed by representatives of the G. W. V. A. and G. A. U. V. in conference with Hon. Gideon Robertson at the office of fair wage officer E. N. Compton. Senator Robertson did not discuss what the government proposed to do, but thanked them for their suggestions.

A WOMAN AND TWO DOGS

Washington, Dec. 9.—After the Supreme Court had announced some important decisions today, Justice McReynolds, gathered up some papers on the desk before him and began: "This is a tale of a woman and two dogs."

When the oldest habitues, and especially those who worship the tradition of weighty dignity, had recovered from a lifetime surprise, Justice McReynolds announced a decision sustaining the constitutionality of the New York State law requiring the licensing of dogs.

Lillian Nicca of Brooklyn, had been convicted of neglecting to license two pets. She fought the case through various courts and attacked the constitutionality of the law, but the high court affirmed her conviction.

SAVING BOYS' TROUSERS

Boston, Dec. 9.—A mother's letter complaining that her young son had worn out three pairs of trousers in three months on chairs in the public schools was answered today by Joseph P. Lomasney, chairman of the School House Commission, with the statement that $44,100 had been spent this year to keep chairs and desks smooth.

He said this boy's chair had been specially sand-papered at the request of his father, who said the youngster was hard on trousers. All things considered, the chairman said the boys and not the chairs must be responsible.

Ralph H. Fales of St. John is at the Barker House.
 H. R. Wright of Minto is in the city.
 Dr. O. E. Morehouse, ex-M. P. P. of Upper Keswick is at the Barker House.

A SPANIEL WEARS SPECS

Boston, Dec. 9.—A dog with spectacles was shown at the annual fair of the Animal Rescue League today as an example of humanitarian assistance to dumb beasts. The animal was Nemo, a spaniel of high degree, and companion to the family of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allen of Marlborough street. Riding in an open automobile on windy days had weakened his eyes it was explained and goggles were prescribed and fitted by an oculist.

At the Allen home it was said Nemo had worn the spectacles since summer whenever he went out of doors. The glasses are fastened to a bone frame that runs to a collar.

Nemo appears to regard the glasses as a necessary encumbrance, it was said, submitting to their adjustment, but well pleased to be relieved of them for play with his consort, Tessie, unspectacled, a collie that has enjoyed her motor trips without suffering eye strain.

DEMANDING BIG DAMAGES

New York, Dec. 9.—Supreme Court Justice Gavegan granted yesterday to Thomas C. Clark, nine years old, preference on the trial calendar, so that his case may be called for trial on December 16 upon the plea of his attorney that he and his family need funds. The boy has been in the Harlem Hospital since he was injured by an Eighth Avenue Railroad Company car last May.

In appealing for the preference over other cases the boy's attorney stated that Thomas Clark of 275 West 144th street, the boy's father, has given his own blood in transfusions to his son so often that he (the father) is too ill to work regularly. The boy's father is suing for $100,000 damages.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE SERVICE BETWEEN THE TWO CONTINENTS LIKELY TO BE STARTED SOON

CHANCERY COURT ADJOURNS TILL 16TH INST.

Chief Justice Hazen Advises Reconciliation in St. Thomas Case—Possible Disposal of Children.

The Chancery Court adjourned Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock after completing the evidence in the case of Annie May St. Thomas vs. Napoleon St. Thomas. Adjournment was until Thursday of next week, the 16th inst., at 10.30 a. m., when counsel will argue.

The case comes from Mazerall Settlement. The wife is bringing action to secure custody of three children who as the result of habeas corpus proceedings before Mr. Justice Barry were ordered taken from the mother and placed under the care of the father. Since that order was issued last year the children have been living with their father at Mazerall Settlement. The ages range from four to seven years. The wife left the husband taking the children with her, as the result of disagreement with him.

Chief Justice Sir J. D. Hazen who heard the case at the conclusion of the evidence addressed the parties and their counsel saying that it was to be regretted that an agreement should not be reached between the husband and wife, as the children would be the ones who would suffer from the separation of the parents. It would devolve upon him to decide concerning the disposition of the children. One decision might be to allot one of the children to one parent and the others to the other. Another might be the means frequently adopted in England of permitting the children to reside a portion of the year with one parent and the remainder of the year with the other. The question of the qualifications of either parent to direct the children in morality and religion had not arisen as far as the evidence was concerned.

TEN ITALIANS GET BRIDES

New York Dec. 9.—The St. Raphael's Society rooms in 10 Carlton street were never quite so abuzz as they were last night when the Rev. Giovanni Morretti chaplain of the organization, performed ten marriage ceremonies. The ten brides were all immigrants, who arrived a few days ago aboard the Duca degli Abruzzi. The society got them through Ellis Island yesterday, and Father Moretti led them to the Municipal Building for their marriage licenses. The bridegrooms, young Italians who have been prospering in Western communities, were waiting for them, and after the ceremonies left for their respective homes. Some of them had been engaged to the girls they took back with them for many years.

POISON IVY FOR CHRISTMAS

Boston, Dec. 9.—Glossy leaves draped over a stone wall outside the city limits attracted the attention of four fur coated young women out for an automobile ride today and they gathered a huge bunch for Christmas decorations. As they were climbing back into their limousine, William A. L. Bazely, State Commissioner of Conservation drove up and hailed the party. Without revealing his identity he gravely reminded them that raids on roadside greenery made them liable to arrest and the suspension of their automobile license.

"We didn't think it so serious," replied one of the young women.

"Well," replied the Commissioner, "it may be. That stuff's poison ivy."

 London, Dec. 9.—Speedy wireless telephonic communication between Canada the United States and Europe now depends on the United States, says Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi Company, who has just returned from New York.

"American has some high powered wireless reception outfits nearly ready and we hope to start the service soon", he said. When pressed for an explanation of the delay, he said. "Just say I'm quite satisfied with the results of my visits to the United States. I've arranged for a definite scheme which cannot yet be made public, and I cannot say when it will be put into operation."

Isaacs indicated that Great Britain's equipment is all ready and the new service will start as soon as America's equipment is completed, and other difficulties, believed to be legislative are overcome.

A SCANDAL IN BELGIUM

Special to Daily Mail. Copyright 1920 by Cross Atlantic News Service.

Brussels, Dec. 7.—The sudden release on bail of two million francs of two Belgian industrial magnates, Baron Coppee and his son, who were arrested about a year ago for "trading with the enemy" has caused much public excitement. Their release is said to have been ordered at the request of the former President of the Ministry, Baron de Broqueville, who now admits that he himself authorized the two Coppes to supply the Germans with coal and by-products of coal.

The Socialist newspaper "Le Peuple" demands a strict investigation of the case, and it is quite possible that Parliament will constitute itself as a High Court to deal with it. According to "Le Peuple" M. Broqueville's house has been raided by the police.

CRIME FILMS ARE BANNED

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 9.—Moving picture films that glorify crime or make criminal careers or adventures fascinating or alluring will henceforth be barred in Pennsylvania the State Board of Censors announced today.

Films in which criminals are shown as heroes of education and refinement who live in luxury and persistently defy and outwit the authorities by their superior wit, resources and audacity even though in the end they are caught, are seriously objectionable to the board announced.

The board decrees as especially objectionable films in which criminals are shown in the end "to make merely perfunctory professions of reform while reaping rich harvest and attaining great reward in spite of their criminality."
