OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

YOUR MANNERS.

It is Correct.

For a married woman to sign her given and surname to letters as "Edith Blank."

For a man to register his name and that of his wife as "Mr. Edwin Blank, and Mrs. Edward Blank."

When a married woman is writing to someone who may not know that she is married to use the prefix "Mrs." and her husband's given name before the surname in brackets, before her signature.

For a single woman in the same circumstances to use the prefix "Miss" in brackets below her signature.

For a man when writing to a woman whom he does not know well to sign himself "Respectfully," or "Yours Truly."

It is Not Correct.

For a man to register his name as "Mr. Edwin Blank and wife."

For a woman to sign social letters with her husband's name, as "Mrs.
John Blank."

For a man to sign social correspondence with only the initial of his given name, and the surname.

To address letters to anyone without using a prefix or title.

In America to address a formal letter as "Dear Mr." or "Dear Mrs."

IMPORTANCE OF ACCESSORIES.

Women have shown a tendency this season to economize on the major items of dress—suits, coats and dresses—and be rather riotously extravagant when millinery, gloves and shoes were under consideration. Millinery, especially, has been in great demand, according to both wholesalers and retailers of this class of merchandise.
This buying tendency is probably due to the fact that women have realized the importance of accessories and know that if hat, shoes, gloves, etc. are up to the minute in style and freshness, the casual observer will be quite unaware of the fact that the gown or suit they accompany is not of this season's vintage.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Sea Foam Candy.

Boil three cups sugar, two-thirds cup syrup and one-half cup water until a drop in cold water hardens at once. Beat whites of two eggs stiff, turn hot syrup over it in a thin stream beating all the while. Add one cup nut meats and pour on buttered plate.

Apples on Stick.

To half pound sugar add teaspoonful butter, boil from twenty to thirty minutes. It will be ready for use if when dropped in cold water it will candy. Put the apples on sticks and dip in while hot. Another recipe to be used for candied fruits, etc., is to make syrup of one pound sugar, one and one-half cups water. Boil without stirring until little dropped in cold water hardens at once. Remove from fire and set in pan of boiling water. Add to syrup teaspoonful flavoring, lemon juice or orange. Dip fruit in syrup and allow to become cool on waxed paper.

Plain Cookies.

Beat a half cup butter and one cup sugar to a cream. Beat two eggs light, then add to the butter and sugar. Put in the mixture half pint milk, half a nutmeg grated, one teaspoonful baking powder and enough flour to make soft dough. Roll thick or thin, as desired, bake in moderate oven until light brown. When dough is ready it is safer to try baking one cookie. Be careful not to get the dough too stiff as it makes cookies tough and tasteless.
Better use flour sparingly and try baking one cake, then if the dough is not stiff enough, more flour can be added.

Ginger Cookies.

One cup molasses, one cup strong boiling coffee, one tablespoonful ginger, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup lard, one-half cup butter, one tablespoonful cinnamon, one teaspoonful baking soda. Mix the butter and lard together. Dissolve the soda in a tablespoonful boiling water, then stir it into the molasses, which add to the butter and lard; add spices and mix well together. Pour over boiling coffee and add sufficient flour to make soft dough. Then roll out about three-quarters of an inch in thickness, cut with round cutter and bake in a moderately quick oven about fifteen minutes.

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE MAY SOON BE RIGHTED

Mesopotamia Oil Fields to be Reopened by Great Britain—Oil will be Sold to the Americans—Hope That Russia's Heavy Indebtedness to Great Britain, Contracted During the Late War, Will Eventually be Paid.

Special to Daily Mail. Copyright 1920

(By William G. Butler)

London, Dec. 2.—The reopening by Britain of the Mesopotamian oil fields may be the signal for the readjustment of the present unfavorable exchange situation between America and Great Britain. Britain is about to make possible the renewal of trade in this territory and when Anglo-Russian trade is renewed, in the judgment of Sir John Ferguson chairman of Lloyd Bank, the difficulties of international exchange will be largely relieved. "Oil is one of the greatest of world commodities," he said, "and I believe that if we reopen the Mesopotamian oil fields and sell oil to America that it may be enough to right the exchange situation. "I am chairman of the committee investigating the debts Russia owes to Britain and while they are collateral we the hopeful of repayment if by resumption of trade we allow Russia, whose southern part is economically very rich to get back on her economic feet."

"As another means of readjusting the Anglo-American exchange situation we should agree to the suggestion for a campaign on a large scale for investment of American capital in British municipal bonds. While they carry six per cent interest, this in itself would not be so much the lure to the American capitalist as the fact of the exchange situation which favors him to the point that the return is so high that no local investment can compare with it while the investment is as safe as the Bank of England.
"There are a number of American agencies in Britain for the sale of American bonds but British financial institutions are not prepared to establish similar agencies in America.

"Lloyd George, I understood, is friendly to the establishment of such investments in Britain by American capital as a means to a readjustment of the international exchange situation."

Sir John is optimistic regarding the immediate economic future of Britain seeing in the future an abandonment of the British excess profits tax, which in his opinion has been curtailing production in the British Isles.

He points out that the British manufacturers are obligated to pay the Government sixty per cent of their earnings beyond a certain point which means a curtailment in production earning beyond that amount.

"I know that Lloyd George and other members of the Government are opposed to this," he said "and I be-

HEAVY FINES FOR VIOLATING GAME LAW

(Chatham Gazette)

Three St. Louis men Doiron, Guil-mont and Frigot, were each fined $300 and costs in the local police court Monday for killing two cow moose and two calf moose. Then men it seemed made a trip from their home to Bay du Vin where the illegal killing took place. After they had got the game Guilmont proceeded home to get a team to bring out the carcasses, and while he was proceeding homeward Game Warden Fraser learned of the violation of the law. The latter at once got into communication with Daniel Cribbs of Chatham and the two wardens laid their plans so nicely that they surprised two of the men and a boy with their load of meat on the way to St. Louis. Guilmont was missing as he had sent the team for the meat with a boy in charge and had not gone himself.

However the evidence against him was strong and Game Warden Cribbs took a search warrant and soon had him with his companions. Bail was put up for them and they were allowed their liberty over the week end.

In court Monday they admitted their guilt and fines of $900 in all and costs were given. This should be an example to those who are illegally slaughtering moose and should help to put a stop to a custom that has been much to prevalent in this and other counties.

Cleared Out the Gutters

A plow was used Thursday afternoon to clear the gutters of Queen and some other streets of snow. The mild weather gave an excellent opportunity.

PRICE AND QUALITY

Everybody wants lower prices. Nobody wants them more than WASH-INGTON—but not at the expense of quality.

WASHINGTON'S prices are low, considering the quality, and will automatically go lower as costs decrease.

But whatever the price may be, the quality will always justify it.

For the WASHINGTON policy is to provide the best of food, service and sanitation at a reasonable price.
