N. Y. CIVIC POLITICIANS HAD A LIVELY TIME

President of the Board of Aldermen Doffed His Coat to Fight the Comptroller—Told the Latter He "Could Not Pull That Stuff on Him"—Peace Restored by the Mayor—Sensational, Even for New York.

New York, June 23—The finance and budget committee of the Board of Estimate was unable to decide how to apportion the $5,000,000 increase to city employees yesterday until after Comptroller Charles L. Craig, chairman had called in the sergeant-at-arms to protect himself from a threatened assault by F. H. LaGuardia, president of the Board of Aldermen. The fiery Aldermanic President then turned his attention to Charles F. Kerrigan, secretary of the Department of Finance and threatened to throw him out of a window for appearing to take the Comptroller's part.

Mr. La Guardia lost his fight to have Hunter's College employees and public librarians included in the increases which became effective August 1 and also lost in his effort to fix a minimum of $200 and a maximum of $600 for the increases. At the end of a five hour session the committee decided upon a straight 20 per cent increase except the judiciary and such employees as already have had increases this year. That recommendation of the committee to the Board of Estimate is in opposition to the wishes of the uniformed firemen and policemen who wanted the increases to be made on a basis of a flat sum.

Comptroller Forces Climax

The climax was reached when the Comptroller announced his intention to adjourn the meeting without voting on the method of apportioning increases or deciding whether Hunter's College and the librarians should be included.

"The Comptroller can't pull that stuff and get away with it," said La Guardia loudly. "He's camouflaged long enough. He said last Saturday that I had delayed action by being absent three weeks. The Comptroller knows that statement is false. He said the matter would be settled today. I demand that he make good."

"You say that again and you'll get what you deserve," retorted the Comptroller angrily, turning to La Guardia who sat next to him.

The President of the Board of Aldermen leaped to his feet and began pulling off his coat.

"I repeat," he shouted, "that the Comptroller's statement was false, and he knows it."

Henry H. Curran, President of the Borough of Manhattan, and Collin H. Woodward, secretary of the borough seized the struggling Aldermanic President, while the Comptroller pressed a button and a sergeant-at-arms appeared in the doorway, but La Guardia soon was quieted.

Hostilities Start Afresh

Just as he took his seat again, however, the President of the Board of Aldermen caught sight of Secretary Kerrigan, who had taken a position behind La Guardia's chair.

"Well, what are you doing there?" shouted La Guardia, on his feet once more. "You get over yonder where you belong and sit down. No valet of the Comptroller is going to put anything over on me."

"I am going to stand right here until you cool down," replied Kerrigan.

"You're going to do nothing of the sort," La Guardia retorted his face white with anger. "You try to start any rough stuff with me and you'll go out that window, do you hear, you boot licking valet?"

Kerrigan at his leisure, took a seat across the corner of the table from and facing La Guardia.

"I may or may not be a valet, but I am not a wop," he said.

"What's that you say. What's that?" cried La Guardia, once more showing signs of fight.

When the Mayor protested that this sort of thing had gone about far enough peace was restored and the vote was taken.

MARITIMES ARE ENJOYING PROSPERITY

Toronto June 23—Recent financial information from the Maritime Provinces indicates little change from the usual steady prosperity which characterizes that part of Canada. One slight drawback for the moment, however, is in connection with the export of lumber from New Brunswick, which is being delayed through the refusal of the Canadian railways to let their cars leave Canada for the United States. This is because so many thousands of Canadian railway cars are now in United States which should be returned, and the scarcity of the equipment, resulting from this condition has led to the embargo. If American railway cars come in they are free to leave with lumber or any other produce. This order is tying up millions of dollars' worth of Canadian lumber, but it is believed that the condition will right itself, and the industry shortly be restored to its proper place.

It is expected that the British demand for Canadian lumber will shortly be strengthened when the lumber stocks held by the Government and remaining unused at the end of the war have been disposed of. The British Government has a good deal of lumber in Canada paid for but undelivered, but in the course of time it is expected the Maritime Provinces will profit materially from the overseas demand.

The fish industry is in good condition as the Maritime Provinces ship mainly to the West Indies, and in broken cargoes. Newfoundland, however, is not so well situated for its fish market at present, as last winter's catch was so large and there has been some competition from Scandinavia, that Newfoundland's chief market in the Mediterranean countries has been forced to lower prices. Another good market for Newfoundland fish is Brazil. Nova Scotia coal seems to have the best of outlook, with many customers clamoring for an increased supply.

Shower to Bride-to-Be.

The home of Mrs. James McCluskey Barker's Point was a scene last evening of a very interesting and enjoyable affair the occasion being a "shower" to Miss Mary McCluskey, of the Dominion Express office Fredericton, who is to be married to Mr. Leo McSorley, the wedding to take place in the very near future. The affair was gotten up by the Women's Institute of which Miss McCluskey is a valued member. The bride-to-be received many useful and handsome presents including cut glass, linen and silverware. Refreshments were served during the evening and a good time was spent by all.
