Trials of the Once Wife of "Millionaire Kid"—How Valeska Surratt is Doing Her Bit.

Mme. Grace La Rue Chandler, once wife of Byron Chandler, of Manchester, N. H., "millionaire kid" without the million, stands accused of the most shocking form of grand larceny known to domestic relations lawyers. The lady, who secured a ticket-of-leave from Byron a few weeks ago, was sued for $100,000, a small sum in these days of inflated prices, by Mrs. Myrtle Tannahill Hamilton, of the stage. Mrs. Hamilton vows, vums and avers that Grace has stolen away that wondrous love of Hale Hamilton, worth at forced sale at least a hundred thousand. Mrs. Hamilton claims to have evidence that will startle a jaded world. The La Rue women divorcee E. J. Murphy a dozen years ago before becoming Mrs. Chandler; Hamilton was divorced from Jane Oaker when he wed the present Mrs. Hamilton.

Mlle. Valeska Surratt yet may be enthroned alongside Bacchus when that sent returns to his kingdom. No fixed date has been set. Valeska is doing her bit in New York in an anti-dry playlet depicting the evils of prohibition and its devastating effects on home life of moths, sirens and plain girls. The playlet is named "Scarlet" and the prudes say it's aptly named.

Mrs. Richard Reese, whose husband is a Wall street, N. Y., lawyer, seeks separation from him because of his "uncouth associates." She also says he publicly insulted her and actually kissed her own sister against her will. Sister is sore too. Reese denies all the charges and says little ordinary episodes have been magnified a few thousand diameters.

Mrs. Lucille Cram, whose interest in art led to the display for the aid of the war-stricken French, got a divorce from Benjamin Cram, retired broker of New York the other day. A referee heard the case in secret, reported covertly to the judge and the lady was given her decree. The secret divorce has aroused a lot of curiosity in the big town.

Miss Kate Thomas, aged 50 and a social worker, sprung a new one on the judge in Gotham—and got away with it. She was accused and pleaded guilty of stealing some few dollars' worth of trinkets at a department store and told the judge she had heard so much of reported evil conditions in prisons that she sought first-hand knowledge. The judge took her at her word and gave her a two months' sentence. The lady then took chilled pedals and his honor told her to go home and leave prisons to lawfully appointed examiners; likewise to keep her fingers under control.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FLU

Dr. Copeland, Commissioner of Public Health for New York City, has issued the following appeal in connection with the outbreak of influenza:

To Nurses—The city is suffering from a lack of nurses. Please volunteer for service at $6 a day or 75c. a hour. Persons with practical experience in nursing will be paid $4 a day or 50c. an hour.

To physicians—Whenever it may be done safely, please urge your patients not to demand a trained nurse. Leave every trained nurse possible for work among the poor.

To clergymen—Advise your congregations about dangers from coughing or sneezing without covering the face with a handkerchief. Persons who find it impossible to refrain from coughing or sneezing should remain at home. Tell the congregation to avoid fear and to practice the ordinary rules of the simple life.

To the public—Observe the rules of simple living. If feverish or otherwise ill, go to bed and call a physician. The ill should not come in contact with the well.

TOUGH LUCK.

I'd a burning in my throat, doc,
And my pulse was sinking low.
But that little note you wrote, doc,
And that place you said to go,
Where they sold the old-time stuff,
doc,
Sent my aches and pains away—
But—and this is surely tough, doc,
They are out of "it" today.

A Kidney Remedy

Kidney troubles are frequently caused by badly digested food which overtaxes these organs to eliminate the irritant acids formed. Help your stomach to properly digest the food by taking 15 to 30 drops of Extract of Roots, sold as Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and your kidney disorder will promptly disappear. Get the genuine.

Serving the New Canadians

DURING the past twenty years Canada received three million new settlers of whom about one million were of foreign speech. The war interrupted immigration, but soon the march westward will begin again.

Mutual Requirements

What do we expect of these new citizens? Respect for Law and order, a measure of diligence, that they may not become a charge upon the community, and a willingness to adjust themselves to a new environment.

What do they expect of us, the native-born? Justice, sympathy and kindness. They are entitled also to the stimulating influences of great Canadian Ideals. They have a right to the Gospel of Christ, not only explained in theory, but worked out in practice by Christian men and women.

The Church Hampered

The Church has not been neglectful of these new Canadians, whether settled in the crowded cities, or on the Western plains. But the effort to reach them with the ministry of Religion has been made difficult for lack of Missionaries to overtake the work, and by inadequate financial means.

A Case of Misunderstanding

Many Church Members do not realize the magnitude of the task. Lacking complete understanding of the situation, they have not sought out spiritual leaders for these new Canadians, and have been content with former standards of giving. Even with a slowing-down of immigration, the needs have not been met. What will happen when the flood-tide rolls in again?

Look! A Study in Contrasts

In the year 1800, the United States had a population of 5,308,483. During the next twenty years, 184,000 immigrants arrived in American ports.

In 1901, Canada had a population of 5,371,315. During the next fifteen years, the immigration to this Dominion reached a total of 2,906,021.

From 1904 to 1914, Canada accepted 250,000 MORE immigrants than the United States received in the same period—despite the fact that the population of the Republic was ten times that of Canada.

Israel Zangwill and others speak of the United States as the melting-pot of the world, and marvel at the task of assimilating the new comers. WHAT WOULD THEY THINK OF THE PROBLEM IN CANADA?

Moulding the National Spirit

The great majority of immigrants now settled in the Dominion are men of good-will, with an aspiration for useful citizenship. They are helping to do the day's-work of this land for the advantage of us all. The future public opinion of Canada, the future moral stability of the nation depends upon the will and power of the Church to fulfil its trust to these New Canadians.

Motives for Activity

You are a Canadian, proud of your country, and deeply concerned for its future. You are a Christian, believing that the Gospel is the only dependable and invincible civilizing agency. You are urged to pray, to serve and to give, that the Home Missions of your Church may be properly sustained in this day of national emergency.
