BIG RUSH OF SETTLERS FROM THE UNITED STATES

Forty-Two Carloads of People Will Start From Illinois For Canada on March 3—Will Be Followed By Others if Reports Are Favorable—Similar Movements Are on Foot in Other American States.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 23—The special train of 42 cars which leaves this city on March 3 for Canada may prove to be the nucleus of a much larger movement, depending largely upon the reports brought back or sent back by the families who are to make this venture into the sister country. The families making up the big special train are all substantial people, well supplied with money, agricultural implements and supplies and they will take with them the best blooded stock available.

No Oppressive Taxes

The movement cannot be classed as an experiment. It is merely the continuation of a great migration that was just getting under way when the war broke out and caused a suspension of activities. During the war many Americans who had settled in Canada either entered the service of their adopted country or came back to the States and served under the Stars and Stripes. For a time there was considerable anxiety over the tax rate in Canada. It was feared that the tax levies assessed to meet the war expenses would practically eat up the holdings of American settlers across the line but investigation shows that taxes in the Dominion are not so oppressive as they are in the States, and the Government there affords very much more protection to its people.

For a few years prior to the war the attention of some of the best farmers in the States was centred on Canada. Land prices in the rich agricultural portions of the States have reached such heights that they are out of reach of a man of limited means. Added to this is the constant increasing labor problem, increasing taxation, and the fact that the fertility of the land is being exhausted and fertilization must be resorted to.

Canada Appeals to Them
In view of these facts, Canada with its vast virgin fields of rich and practically inexhaustible soil, its laws, railroad facilities and its tremendous energy, appealed strongly to ambitious American farmers, and they were dribbling across the border in constantly increasing numbers until the breaking out of the war.

The forthcoming hegira is part of a delayed plan. Many central Illinois farmers have been owners of lands in Canada that they have never worked and now that the world is settling down to business again, they are going into the new country equipped to

Will be More "Specials"

Unusual interest is being taken in the community hereabouts over this migration, and it is predicted that there will shortly be additional special trains and many removals to Canada by one to five families—enough to charter cars for live stock and household goods.

It is intimated here that similar movements are in prospect in Iowa and Nebraska, and also in Northern Missouri. Unusual efforts have been made to turn this home-seeking hegira to the Southern States, but the expert farmers say Canada offers the most promising future for agriculturists. They point out that the Canadian Government tries in all ways to help its people become prosperous by beneficial instead of repressive laws, and by investing immense sums in extending transportation lines and producing markets for the farm products.

WOMAN OF 104 MADE WORK FOR DETECTIVES

New York, Feb. 27—Anna Klein, born near Tarnow, Galicia in 1816, provided a job for half a dozen detectives yesterday. In Sunday afternoon she wandered out of the house at 611 Park avenue Brooklyn, where she had been staying with Mrs. Fannie Klasner. Despite her 104 years she walks without assistance. By the time Mrs. Klasner ran to the street after her, the aged woman had disappeared.

Mrs. Klein reappeared yesterday afternoon. She was found on Summer avenue, three blocks from the home of Mrs. Klasner by a woman who recognized her and took her to the home of Mrs. Isaac Broder at 200 Floyd street. Mrs. Klein's clothes were wet and she was put to bed at once. She became delirious and Mrs. Broder was unable to learn from her anything about her home.

The disappearance of Mrs. Klein was reported to the Police Department on Sunday night. The Bureau of Missing Persons, not being used to seeking 104-year-old persons, put half a dozen detectives on the case. Late yesterday they traced Mrs. Klein to the Broder House.

SHORT SERMONS NOT A CURE

Toronto Feb. 26—Preaching on the subject, "What must the Church do to be saved," at Cowan Avenue Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, characterized as trifles suggestions which have been made to bring about this desirable end, such as shortening the sermons allowing smoking in the back pews, and the adoption of a more free and easy manner. Yesterday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the church. Dr. Johnston preached at both services, which were largely attended.

Dr. Johnston said that what was necessary was that there should be consideration by the Church of the vital things to ascertain just what was the need. There was a call today to the Church for a deeper consideration of her problem for the recovering of consciousness of her Divine character and of the fullness of her Gospel message and its completeness and adequacy to meet the world's deepest needs. The Church required a boldness that would lead her forward to the solution of the problems that face her.

There were three great principles which the Church and men must stand for today, continued the speaker. These were the supremacy of Jesus Christ, the authority of the word of God and the adequacy of the Church of Jesus Christ.

A statistician has figured that $555 is sunk in worthless oil stock for every dollar that is earned in oil wells. As an investment the oil well must be something like the outlawed slot machine.
