A SPLENDID TICKET

A strong ticket of clean men with no political sins to answer for will take up the gauntlet of battle in York on behalf of a clean and progressive administration. The Government convention on Saturday afternoon was one of the best in the history of the county. It is not necessary to make use of hackneyed phrases in describing it, other than to say that it was large, representative, wonderfully enthusiastic and harmonious and the choice of candidates was unanimous. Usually such gatherings attract many persons out of curiosity, but this was not the case with the Government convention. Representative and earnest men were there gathered from all sections of the county and they were out for business. They realized that York committed a grave blunder four years ago when it returned four supporters of a party which by its conduct of affairs brought disgrace upon the province and made it a by word for the people of the other provinces of Canada, and they are determined that so far as their influence goes this old metropolitan constituency shall not fall into the same error this time. They presented tangible evidence of the fact that there is a public confidence in York and it will assert itself in a very emphatic manner on October 9th.

In keeping with the progressive spirit of the age the convention selected young men as candidates—patriotic citizens who have a stake in the county and can be counted upon to strive honestly and earnestly at all times to advance its best interests. None of the candidates sought the honor which has come to them; all were averse to entering the stormy arena of politics with the sacrifice of time which it involves, but actuated by a strong sense of public duty and realizing that this is a critical time in the history of the province they found it impossible to refuse the hearty call of the convention. They are now in the field and it is up to the people of this constituency who want honesty in public life and who are anxious that York should get belted on to the power which is giving New Brunswick the most capable and progressive administration it has ever enjoyed, to rally to their support and elect them at the head of the poll.

Mr. J. B. Dickson, the city man on the ticket is two well known to readers of the Mail to need any extensive introduction. The only son of the late Mr. Joseph Howe Dickson, K. C., he was brought up in an atmosphere of politics and has long taken a keen interest in political affairs. He is a lawyer by profession and has met with success in the practice of profession. A man of native ability and energy he is popular with all classes in the community and can be counted upon to do his part to carry the standard to victory.

Mr. Peter S. Watson, is a resident of North Devon and one of the most successful of the younger business men of the county. A man of sterling honesty he is well and favorably known to a large section of the people. He has been active in previous election and is a splendid campaigner. The citizens of the new and ambitious town of Devon will appreciate the action of the convention in allotting one of their number a place on the ticket and we believe they can be counted upon to do their part on polling day.

Coun. Frank Coburn who comes from the good old Presbyterian village of Harvey, stands high in his section of the county. He was elected to the Municipal Council in September last defeating a man who had sat at the Board for over twenty years. A level headed farmer of modern ideas he has been active in looking after the interests of his parish, and his presence on the ticket will greatly strengthen it in the western part of the county.

Good candidates, men of honor, and integrity, have been chosen to represent the government in this constituency. They are workers all of them and will do all in their power to achieve a victory at the polls. The trail of victory was blazed four years ago when candidates of the present government in York furnished one of the biggest surprises of the campaign by reducing an adverse majority of 2300 almost to the vanishing point. The people then were not fully informed of the extent of the rascality which had been carried on by the old government. The sordid facts have since been laid bare in sworn evidence taken by Royal Commissions and the honest electors of this county will thus be in a much better position to render a verdict than was the case in 1917. They have before them the record of the old administration and before casting their ballots should take time to contrast it with the record made by the Foster administration since it took over the reins of power in 1917. If they do that and act as their conscience dictates, as sure as the sun rises tomorrow morning, Messrs. Dickson, Watson, Coburn and Christie will sit in the Legislature next term as the chosen representatives of the people of York. Their is only one way to get honest government and that is by sending honest men to the Legislature. The proposition is squarely up to the people of York and we believe they will not fail in their duty to the province.

The York opposition on Saturday nominated three present members Messrs. Pinder, Young and Hunter, and Charles D. Richards, barrister of this city, the latter taking the place of Dr. Crockett, who declined to offer for a second term. Mr. Pinder, who is now close to the forenoon mark, has had his day and it would have been a charitable act on the part of the opposition to have complied with his request for permission to retire. In the last campaign the government ticket was divided into factions and there was considerable "knifing" done, especially at the Taymouth and Temperance Vale polls. They cannot afford to take any chances of that kind on this occasion. There has been a great change of sentiment since 1917. The people have had their eyes opened and are no longer willing to have played out politicians foisted upon them as their representatives.

Hon. C. W. Robinson, M. P. P., of Moncton, and member of the Government without portfolio, has been appointed Minister of Lands and Mines in succession to Hon. Dr. Smith, the appointment is an excellent one and will be heartily approved by the people of the province. Hon. Mr. Robinson, while still a young man, is a veteran in public life. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Federal Parliament in 1896 and soon afterwards was elected to the Legislature. He was speaker of that body for several terms and afterwards became provincial secretary and premier. He is an able lawyer, a successful business man and has a clean and honorable record in public life.

St. John Globe: The provincial opposition party advertises that "it stands for the same principles for which it has always stood." The declaration cannot fail to recall the outstanding features of opposition rule in New Brunswick—a hold-up of the lumbermen for a party campaign fund; an exploitation of the Valley Railway construction for the benefit of party friends, and fraud and graft in connection with the gift of potatoes to the starving people of Belgium. These are the incidents of opposition rule in New Brunswick with challenge the conscientious voter.

Some of the opposition newspapers are complaining because the provincial elections were sprung at short notice, and that there is no time for a discussion of the issues. The fact remains, however, that longer notice was given by Premier Foster than was given by his predecessors either in 1912 or 1917.

The opposition forces in York profess to have great love for the farmers, but they took mighty good care to ignore them on Saturday when they were called upon to select candidates for the Legislature. "No farmer need apply" was their motto, and they lived up to it.

"Work is the cure for unrest," remarked the Man on the Car, "but the great trouble is that so many of us would like to find something that is easier to take."

A crowning curative triumph in medicine is now given to the world, and all who have been sufferers from headache can be cured by a purely vegetable remedy.

Calomel, salts and such like are no longer necessary. They are harsh and disagreeable. Science has devised something far superior, and you can go today with 25c. to any druggist and buy a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are considered the very quickest and safest cure for the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys.

Half sick men and women who scarcely know what ails them, will be given a new lease of life, with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Depressed spirits disappear, headaches are forgotten, appetite increases, blood is purified and enriched, pains at the base of the spine are cured, the nerves are toned up, ambition to work is increased, and day by day the old-time health and vigor return.

A trial only is necessary to prove how beneficial Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to all who are weak, nervous, thin, everywhere in 25c. boxes.
