OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

YOUR MANNERS.

It is Correct.

To end an undesirable acquaintance-ship by unostentatiously averting the eyes when meeting.

For a lady who has been assisted by a strange gentleman to ask his name when thanking him.

For a male relative of a lady who has been given assistance by a strange gentleman to call and thank him.

Merely to say "I beg your pardon," when accidentally brushing up against a person.

For a gentleman to pick up for a lady—even a strange one—an article she may have dropped.

It is Not Correct.

For anyone to force their way ahead of others who are waiting in line at a ticket office, or elsewhere.

For a gentleman who chances to be boarding a street car at the same time as a woman friend to pay her fare.

For a gentleman to retain his seat in a street car while a lady stands.

For a gentleman to drink first at a public drinking fountain when ladies are waiting.

THE COAT RIVALS THE SUIT

But a few years ago, the coat for street wear was a stepchild in the wardrobe of fashion. Of doubtful smartness, it was limited in usage and "knew its place." Today, there are very few places where it may not confidently appear. It has proved its advantages and been so rapidly developed that it now closely rivals that well-established favorite, the tailored suit.
The leading couturiers of Paris are paying due tribute to this transformation by offering, this season, an endless variety in materials, combinations lines and designs of coats for street wear.

For the woman who would achieve smartness on a limited income, such a coat is extremely practical. If she be clever enough to choose one of the proper chic, her appearance on the street is assured, however modest, the frock concealed beneath. And her coat should be equally suitable for wear with an elaborate gown or with a simple one for daytime use. It is, therefore a wise plan to give due thought and consideration to choosing this important part of the wardrobe.

SALT AS AN AID TO BEAUTY

Salt is excellent as an aid to beauty, but it should be used in the right way.
The face, itself, should never be washed in salt water, unless it has first been cleaned, for it has astringent qualities and will contract the pores.

It is, however, a wonderful stimulant for the skin and will help to close enlarged pores. The best way to use it is as follows: Wash the face, neck and shoulders with warm water and a good castile soap, pat it gently until quite dry and then rub a little good cold cream into all of the open pores.

Now remove the cold cream with a bit of soft cloth or an old piece of silk. Then wash the face with salt water, a handful of salt to a quart of water. If the skin on the face or throat is flabby a salt massage will give it firmness and strength. Take a handful of moist salt and rub into the face or chin. This must be done gently so as not to irritate the skin too much.

TO WASH WINDOWS.

Use a piece of chamois skin about fifteen to eighteen inches square. Use warm water, wring out the chamois lightly and wash over the window.
Then wring the chamois out of water until as dry as possible and rub over the window. This will take off all the moisture and there will be no lint left.
The windows will shine and once tried you will never wash your windows any other way.

A Quick Relief for Headache

A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases and acids resulting therefrom are absorbed by the blood which in turn irritates the nerves and causes painful symptoms called headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup will correct faulty digestion and afford relief.

CORNELL MEN MUST HONOR THE CO-EDS

Ithaca, Nov. 29—Hissing of women students and an apparent disposition on the part of men students to make them feel ill at ease whenever they appeared at a public gathering around the campus caused A. W. Smith, acting president of Cornell University, to issue a statement today reminding the men that the co-eds must be respected. President Smith's action is a climax to an anti-feminism movement that was started when a handful of good looking young women from Sage College so much as dared to march in a "pee-rade" and later to go to New York to cheer the football players in the Dartmouth game.

The president's statement mentioned disloyalty to the name of the university, saying: "He who is disrespectful to the women students is disloyal to the founder's memory and to the good name of Cornell." What effect it will have is not known.

Men prominent in fraternity and college club circles looked askance at the appearance of the co-eds in the rooters' section of the Polo Grounds grandstand at the Dartmouth game.
The worst had come! The social barriers were down! They had visions of women competing for managements of varsity teams and even looking for places in the varsity boat and on the track team. A lot of the prominent students had a couple of sleepless nights. Then last Thursday there was a public demonstration of their ideas.
They hissed some co-eds at a football mass meeting. They hissed again when a picture of the women's dormitory was thrown on a screen at a motion picture theatre.

There was a rumor that the co-eds had demanded a chance in the Who's Who column in the Cornell Era, a magazine which both men and women students support. Those in charge of the Era, it is said, decided the magazine could get along without the support of the co-eds and made preparations to seek strong support from the men. To this bit of retaliation was added a demand that co-eds be left out of the university annual. The men are said also to have agreed not to invite women students to their fraternity dances.

Cornell has been a co-ed institution since it was founded in 1873.

DIPLOMATIC DIGNITY LOST

Warsaw, Poland, Dec. 5—The comic side of the warfare in eastern Europe is illustrated by the adventure which yesterday involved the members of the league of nations committee investigating conditions in the Vilna region, and which was at first reported as a hostile demonstration by the Lithuanians. While travelling across the Lithuanian battle front, between Vilna and Kovno, the committee members were greeted with a "furious" rifle fire, which, though it continued a long time, harmed no one. As a measure of precaution the august diplomats threw themselves on their stomachs behind a near by hill. The firing took place despite the display of white flags and other signs of neutrality by the commission.

Woman Stops the Firing

What stopped the rude reception was a peasant woman, who passed on her way unconcerned through the "thick of the battle" and warned the Lithuanian riflemen that they were firing on the wrong people. The committee had been compelled to go a little way on foot, because of the damaged condition of a railway bridge near Rykonty.

FIVE YEARS FOR PONZI, WIZARD OF FINANCE

Boston, Dec. 3—Charles Ponzi, promoter of a quick-rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before it collapsed last August, today pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud in the Federal District Court.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth county jail was imposed by Judge Hale.

The court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of forty-three counts. In this it was charged Ponzi had represented falsely he was able to pay interest at the rate of fifty per cent in forty-five days from profits made in international postal reply coupons.

In arguing on the question of sentence Daniel H. Coakley senior counsel for Ponzi, told the court it was only after advice from counsel and members of the discredited financiers family he agreed to retract his plea of not guilty and plead guilty.

"Mr. Ponzi insisted and still insists there was in his mind no intent to defraud any one," his counsel asserted.

The little Italian who with prison sentences in Canada and this country behind him, developed his supposed scheme of exchange in international postal reply coupons, had an air of swagger when he faced the court. He was the same dapper man about town when he stepped down from the Cambridge jail this morning as in the days when he was the idol of the street crowds. A new tailored suit, smart cravat handkerchief in breast pocket, and feet adorned with spats, made Ponzi again a man of presence.

As he faced another long prison sentence while his youthful wife sobbed on his shoulder, he pencilled on a memorandum block his parting word to the public, "sic transit gloria mundi," (thus passes the glory of the world) and handed it to the reporter.

Even if the world is short of leaders it has some corking moving picture actors.

waited for the train they had left. Nobody seems to be in a hurry in this part of Europe. Did Lithuanian engineers repair the bridge? No. A detachment of Gen. Zeligowskis troops broke through the line and took up a position behind the enemy forces, in order to do this favor for the league of nations.

PRICE AND QUALITY

Everybody wants lower prices. Nobody wants them more than WASH-INGTON—but not at the expense of quality.

WASHINGTON'S prices are low, considering the quality, and will automatically go lower as costs decrease.

But whatever the price may be, the quality will always justify it.

For the WASHINGTON policy is to provide the best of food, service and sanitation at a reasonable price.
